Police Can't Open Cruise Car Windows

The handles on rear windows of several sedans used by Newton police as cruising cars have been sawed off under the direction of Bart Cullen, sergeant mechanic of the Newton police department. The cars are new Fords and were delivered to the department several weeks ago. It seems that some of the police assigned to the cars were rather rough in lowering the windows, which do not go down to the bottom of the opening, as do the door windows in Ford coaches. The result was—that some of the windows became damaged. As an easy preventive against further trouble of this kind, Cullen resorted to the expedient of cutting off the window handles so that the glass cannot be lowered. During the hot spell the first of this week, many of the patrolmen assigned to cruising cars complained of sweltering conditions with the windows closed.

Outing For Legion Members Children

On Saturday, June 19, sons and daughters of members of Newton Post, American Legion, will be given an outing at Camp Frank A. Day in Brookfield. Private cars will carry the children to and from the camp, leaving Newton about 8 o'clock. Boys can make applications to John J. Foran, 25 Shirley st., West Newton, and members of the junior auxiliary to Mrs. Sylvia Hudson, 32 Woodbine ter., Auburndale. To be eligible to go, 1937 dues must be paid. Those attending will bring a box lunch. At the camp a weenie roast will be served, together with cookies and milk. Clyde Hess of Newton Y. M. C. A. will be in charge of the sports at the outing, which will include boating and swimming.

Two Newton Men On State Board

The two Republicans appointed on Wednesday by Governor Hurley to the newly created Tax Appellate Board are both residents of Newton—John D. Wright of Whitney rd., Newton Centre, and Donald E. Mayberry of Plymouth rd., Newton Highlands. Mr. Wright was formerly secretary to ex-Governor Allen. Wright's name was one of five submitted to the Governor by Republican leaders. Mayberry's name was not on the list.

Charged With Drunken Driving

John Monaghan of 12 Union st., Watertown, was arrested on Tuesday by Patrolmen Riley and Slavin charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor, after the car had run into a pole at Watertown and Faxon sts., Nonantum. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday and the case continued until June 9.

Speeders Fined In Newton Court

The drive against speeders and other violators of automobile and traffic laws by the recently established squad of motorcycle patrolmen of the Newton police is being evidenced by the increased number of autoists who are appearing in the Newton court. Last Thursday Patrolman Lawrence Murphy was the complainant against a dozen drivers. Among those fined $5 for speeding were—Edward Stokes, Babson Park, Wellesley; John Ogilby, Lowell House, Cambridge; Willard Blanchard, Colbert rd., West Newton; Burton Mallory, 41 Collins rd., Waban; Tony Bellofatto, 40 Morse st., Watertown. Bellofatto told Judge Allen that he could not have been driving at a rate of 62 miles an hour on the Worcester Pike, as Patrolman Murphy testified, because his wife was with him and she will not allow him to drive over 40 miles an hour.

In court on Friday Henry Vanderwyk, 19, of 26 Bullough park, Newtonville, was found guilty of speeding. It was his second conviction within a year on such an offence. The mandatory fine of $25 was imposed by Judge Allen, and then suspended. Earl Warner, 19, of 259 Varick rd., Waban, was fined $5 for speeding. Gerard Vroman of Adams st., Belmont, was fined $5 for not stopping before entering a through way.

Candy Stores Would Keep Open Sunday

The Newton License Commission last week turned down applications from the Fanny Farmer Candy Shops for common victualler licenses at their stores of this company located at 319 Centre st., Newton, and 1249 Centre st., Newton Centre. It also refused a similar application from Gregor Peters, 961 Watertown st., West Newton. The licenses, if granted, would have permitted the stores to be kept open on Sundays. The commission gave as a reason that the stores in question were not properly equipped to serve food. The commission did grant a common victualler's license to the Doughnut Kitchen, 1277 Washington st., West Newton.

School Com. Wants City To Buy House

The Newton School Committee has recommended to Mayor Childs that the city purchase a house and lot of land at 54 Elm rd., Newtonville, owned by Andrew McGlinchey. The property is offered to the city for $6500. It is sandwiched in between the high school building and the tennis courts at the high school, and is the only piece of property on the south side of Elm road not included in the high school area. School department officials state that the house can be used temporarily for offices, and eventually as the site of an administration building.

Claim Girl Robbed Filling Station

Lillian Shaughnessy, 18, of 205 Crafts st., Newtonville, was arrested last Friday night by Inspector King and Patrolman Donahue of the Newton police charged with the theft of $31 from the filling station of Paul Leahy, 1447 Washington st., West Newton. She was arraigned in the Newton court on Saturday and her case continued until June 12. According to Leahy's report to the police, the girl entered the filling station about 10 o'clock and asked Leahy to pump air into the tires of a bicycle she was riding. She then asked for the loan of a pencil to write a note. Leahy told her she would find a pencil in the office at the station. She entered the office and came out in a minute or so and requested Leahy to straighten the back wheel on the bicycle. A few minutes later she came out of the office, asked Leahy if there was any charge for the service, and then departed. Several minutes after when Leahy went to the cash till to get change for a customer, he found that the till had been emptied. He phoned police headquarters, and King and Donahue started on a search for the girl. They found her on Woodland rd., Auburndale, allegedly counting the money. According to the police the girl admitted having taken the cash.

The other half of the house is occupied by Mrs. Ruth Barr. The fire was confined to the section of the house where it started. Young was alone in his tenement. He was to have moved out of the house on Wednesday.

Capture Burglar At Waban

Monday night Charles Megargel of 736 Chestnut st., Waban, noticed a light in the home of the late Dr. Timothy Sullivan, 750 Chestnut st. Knowing that Mrs. Sullivan and her family were at Scituate for the week-end, Mr. Megargel phoned Newton police headquarters. The alarm was radioed from headquarters and police cruising cars speeded to the scene. The first car to arrive contained Sarg. Daniel Cleary and Patrolman Dave Dalton. They found the back door at the Sullivan house partly open, and entered. As they did, two burglars who were in the house fled out the front door. In the meantime a second police car had arrived with Patrolmen Slavin and McElaney, and the latter were in front of the house. As the burglars rushed out the front door Slavin and McElaney drew their revolvers and opened fire, but the two intruders fled. Dalton, coming out of the house, pursued one, chased him up grade toward Larchmont rd., and caught him.

The captive gave his name and address as Seymour Delaney, 22, of 23 Mt. Pleasant st., Somerville. His companion escaped. A flashlight was found on Delaney's person. A car parked nearby was registered in his name. In the car was a camera identified as the property of Clinton McCarthy, 26 Tamworth rd., Waban. McCarthy's residence had also been broken into and the camera, together with other loot, stolen. Questioned at headquarters, Delaney claimed he did not know the identity of the man who escaped. According to the police Delaney denied he owned the car, although it is registered in his name. He was arraigned in court on Tuesday and held in $5000 bonds for trial on June 7. In default of bail he was taken to the jail at East Cambridge. Entrance to the house was effected by breaking a pane of glass.

Patrolman Dalton, who made the capture of Delaney, won first prize last week in the man-size target contest of the New England Police Revolver League championship. It was the second consecutive year he had won this contest.

It was the third time that he had been in court for violating the Sunday law. Last Thursday Karalekas' counsel asked for another continuance. Judge Allen consented, continued the case until June 5, but stated there would be no further postponement. Karalekas was also charged with larceny of $95.42. Wollrath & Sons, Waltham florists, complained that the defendant had given them a worthless check for that amount in payment for flowers.

CANOEING POPULAR AGAIN

Some fifteen or twenty years ago canoeing was one of the most popular pastimes on a Saturday, Sunday or Summer evening. Then for some years popularity of the sport waned considerably. The automobile and other forms of diversion and entertainment were given as the chief reasons. Locally, however conditions along the river at Auburndale became practically intolerable as private interests, controlling the water rights at the dam in Waltham, drew off much of the water in the river early in the season. Throughout the summer low water and disagreeable odors continued which ruined the enjoyment of thousands and the businesses of those who served them. Private owners of canoes sold or stored them and owners of public canoe liveries saw their investments threatened. A year or so ago the state acquired the control of the dam and now almost perfect canoeing conditions are restored. The summerlike weather of the past week-end attracted some eight thousand canoeists to the river at Auburndale and heralded the return to popularity of a pastime which during the next four months will add to the enjoyment of many.

BETTER PROSPECTS FOR THE GRADUATE

June is well known as the month of brides and the month of graduation. The hopes and aspirations of many students will culminate in the acquisition of the cherished sheepskin. For several years past graduates of the many schools of learning have gone out into a cold and cool cruel world. In many instances their education seemed to serve them little as the opportunities before them were few and of little magnitude. Today indications have materially changed for the better. The prospects of the college graduate are better than for some years. Newton with its high standing among the schools of the country and its many contributions to the various colleges in many sections is hopeful for its youth. Not many years from now we will unquestionably find among the leaders in their chosen fields boys and girls whose names are now or were a short time ago, enrolled in our local schools. Others will perhaps be less prominent, but in almost every case we are certain that they will take their places as good citizens. We wish them all success.

BEAUTIFUL BUT BLIND

The past few weeks of spring and summer weather have brought the trees, shrubs and hedges into full foliage. Although the Garden City owes much of its attractiveness to these beautiful gifts of nature the result is not without its disadvantages. Many intersections have become blind corners because of the presence of hedges and shrubs. There is no doubt that many residents unwittingly aid in the creation of traffic hazards in their desire to add to the attractiveness of their grounds. The problem seems to be one to which the recently created Newton Safety Council might well give considerable study with the intention of making some constructive recommendations toward the elimination or reduction of the dangers from these hazards to a minimum.

LOOKING FORWARD TO ANOTHER YEAR

It was with considerable disappointment that many Newton citizens learned some time ago that there would be no field day held by the bands of the high and junior high schools of the city. This event has been one of the most entertaining and colorful events in connection with the culmination of school activities for the year. Increasing interest has attracted well over a thousand spectators to the spacious high school stadium and the colorful uniforms against the greensward of the field, together with the martial strains of music have stirred the hearts of all. We join with many others who can not forget the impressions of the field days of the past in looking forward to another year, when we hope that the event will be resumed.

High School Placement Tests On June 21-22

Placement tests for candidates who wish to enter Grade X of the Newton High School will be given at 8:30 a. m. on June 21 and 22. Examinations for college preparatory pupils will be given in English, Mathematics, French and Latin. Pupils who wish to enter the business course will be examined in English and Arithmetic. Pupils should report at 8:15 on June 21 to Room 314 at the High School for registration. They should bring their 9th grade school records with them. Pupils wishing conferences before they register may make appointments with Miss Riley on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of the preceding week. The telephone number is Newton North 6267.

Coolidge Corner Theatre Installs Air Conditioning

Among the notable features in the equipment of the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline, is the extensive and carefully engineered air conditioning system, one of the largest installed in any theatre of its size to date. Comfortable conditions of temperature, humidity, and air purity in the theatre are maintained every day in the year regardless of outdoor weather or the size of the audience inside. More than five tons of properly conditioned air are poured into the theatre each minute and diffused over the audience without draughts. The system was installed in keeping with the policy of the management of the theatre to provide every convenience for its patrons in the enjoyment of the film programs offered.

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, June 19, 1875

A special meeting of the School Committee was held on Wednesday night, May 13th, at the residence of Mr. Spear of the committee on organization of schools made a minority report. He said he knew nothing of the report submitted to the committee at the last meeting as he was out of town. He did not agree with the recommendations. He favors reducing the number of masters to 3 and placing a lady teacher in charge of each building, making them responsible for all rooms in that building. This is essentially the system used satisfactorily in Cleveland and other cities in the West.

Mr. Allen's report was taken up and its recommendations considered in order. The recommendations that 40 pupils be the minimum under each teacher in one room, and that no class be organized with less than 30 pupils, were adopted. It was voted not to increase the number of masters. The committee on High School was authorized to present a plan for a mercantile course at that school. On motion of Mr. Spear of the committee the regular promotions of pupils in grammar schools from lower to higher grades be made on the first Mondays in February and September. Occasional promotions may be made on any week, whenever the teacher and the Superintendent, or the sub-committee may deem it advisable. Writing and drawing are to be in charge of the same teacher.

All persons interested in securing a first class hotel in Newton are invited to meet in Cole's Hall on Monday evening next at 8:30.

A series of promenade concerts in the new Eliot Hall at Newton is suggested. It would be a very pleasant way of spending a few evenings.

Last Saturday night at 8 o'clock two young men from Dedham were on their way home, when near the bank building at Newton Corner a young man from Waltham came along with his horse on the run. He smashed into the fence containing the two Dedham young men and threw them out. The horse on the team from Waltham, which had been hired at the Prospect House Stables, jumped clear of the wreckage after breaking both shafts. The man from Waltham was under the influence of liquor. He swore and demanded payment for having been smashed up. Patrolman Hawthorn locked him up.

C. J. Maynard of Newtonville has mounted three hogs which are to be used in connection with Mr. W. E. Baker's entertainment at Wellesley today. One stands erect, holding the American flag, another holds the English flag, while the third will occupy a standing position on a monument.

There are two cases of typhoid fever at the Newton Cottage Hospital. A few days ago Mrs. Milo Lucas of West Newton was unpleasantly surprised by a tramp who appeared at her door and demanded breakfast. He was well satisfied with the meal, for he departed, saying he was stopping in an empty freight car and would be back for dinner. The police were notified, proceeded to the freight yard, and found the tramp in a car engaged in writing poetry. The floor of the car was covered with his poetic effusions. The wandering poet received 6 months in the House of Correction for vagrancy.

Two of the four standpipes for watering carts have been placed in position at Newton Highlands. One is on Walnut st. near the corner of Lake avenue. The other is on Boylston street near the "old Mile Stone."

At the meeting of the Common Council on Monday evening there was some discussion on the petition of a friend in regard to Sunday closing. Councilman Kennedy said it is the proper duty of the chief executive officer of this city to see that the laws are enforced. It is the duty of city officers to see that the law requiring barber shops to close on Sundays is obeyed. Mr. Kennedy said that the shops have always kept open part of Sunday, but now a majority wish to close on that day, but can't, unless all agree to do so.

Powers' Paragraphs

Recently we had the pleasure of enjoying a lunch at the Bigelow School as a guest of the Helyn S. Pearson, principal of the school. The other guest at the lunch was Frank W. Chase, who was Mr. Pearson's predecessor as principal of the school. We have an affection for the Bigelow School, for as a child we attended it and graduated from it. In those days it was a grade, or grammar school under the direction of H. Chapin Sawin, who was its principal from 1871 until 1905. He was succeeded by Mr. Chase, who was in charge of the school from 1905 until his retirement in 1934. Thus, the Bigelow School has the distinction of having had two principals in 63 years.

Several years ago the school evolved into a junior high, under Mr. Chase's direction. Mr. Pearson, one of the youngest men appointed to direct a junior high school in this city, is proving a worthy successor to his two very competent and beloved predecessors.

We enjoyed a delightful luncheon, prepared by young girl pupils in the kitchen of the school, and served by a competent, little waitress. We reminisced about the curricula of schools a generation and more ago, and about the rigorous and vigorous methods used in those days to maintain discipline. We commented on the tremendous advances which have been made in the construction of schools and the equipment provided to educate boys and girls, according to modern standards.

Following the lunch, Mr. Pearson escorted us to one of the rooms where the school chorus was rehearsing under the direction of Miss Emma Vander Groen, music instructor at the school. Though small in number, and young in years, the chorus performed in a manner which would have done credit to a high school group. When we saw the attractions and the advantages which are afforded boys and girls attending school today, we do not wonder that truancy has greatly decreased since the years in which we went to school. There isn't much reason for a boy to "hook jack" from school now.

The beautiful garden developed by the late Professor Harry H. Powers on Centre st., between Church and Wesley sts., Newton is being continued by his family, and is a living memorial to the public spirited man who created it. Dr. Powers intended to work at the garden and use it as his avocation during his declining years. He spent a large sum of money to establish it, but his plans were tragically broken when he was fatally injured last winter alongside his garden site, as a result of reckless driving on the part of an automobile operator. It was not his plan to make this a permanent park, or garden plot. He told the writer that when the property might be sold in the future for some use which would enhance the neighborhood where it is located, he would dispose of it. The action of Mr. Powers' heirs in carrying on, even for the present, his contribution to Newton's beauty, is deserving of praise.

The President is making a determined fight to prevent millionaires and multi-millionaires from continuing to defeat the purpose of the income tax law. He has enlisted the support of Congress. The great number of Americans who must pay taxes out of moderate incomes, and those citizens who had to pay when they made a little over the minimum taxed, during their prosperous years, are in sympathy with the President's efforts. It was a revelation to nearly all the people of this country when they read, a couple of years ago, the list of names of some of our leaders of finance who had paid no income taxes. Recently Mr. Raskob and his financial pal, one of the Mr. Duponts were in the limelight for alleged income tax evasions. Mr. Raskob was accused of having failed to pay a tax in one year on a little sum of more than $1,300,000. Lest you forget, Mr. Raskob is the gentleman who was the backer of Dr. Al Smith, that humble pilgrim, when the latter sought the Presidency in 1928. And Mr. Smith was seeking the office to save this country from predatory wealth.

A majority of people were complaining about the unseasonable cold during May. On Monday and Tuesday of this week the same people, or most of them, were complaining about the heat. The weather seems to have been excellent, so far as vegetation is concerned. Trees, shrubs and flowers are more luxuriant and beautiful than they have been for years.

The victims of the attack on Almeria by German warships had nothing to do with the bombing of the "Deutschland" off the Balearic Islands. How civilization has progressed in recent years.

When the new city hall was built the large area surrounding it was beautifully landscaped under the direction of an outstanding landscape architect. One of the features of the city hall grounds was the chain of little reflecting ponds. To prevent the influx of silt into the ponds, a sump was built in Cold Spring Brook at Homer st. But, the sump did not stop the silt from entering the ponds, and they had to be cleaned out. For the past two years these small ponds have gradually and rapidly become filled with mud. Now, a coating of silt covers much of them, and they neither reflect the attractive city hall, but they do cast reflection on whoever is responsible for their present condition.

This week the joint committee on school buildings composed of members of the Board of Aldermen and School Committee holds conference on the new 10 year school building program. A few years ago the School Committee formulated a 10 year program of school building construction which was partly followed out, but not in the order planned. The first project on that program was a new school to replace the antiquated Franklin School at West Newton. The next projects were to have been an addition to the Angier School at Waban and a new school to replace the 83 year old Lincoln School at Newton and the 55 year old Eliot School at Nonantum. These two needed buildings were sidetracked and a new school at Oak Hill built instead. The reason was that Oak Hill residents (Continued on Page 3)

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Just Can't Help It

Congratulations to the man who captures the mood that makes him eager to wear a straw hat for the first time in the season. The unfolding of a rose's petals, the ecstasy of requited love, the first guest to kiss the bride, a salutation from the headwaiter—none of these sensations can produce the feeling of pride and happiness so plainly evident on the countenance of him who believes himself in fashion. To other men a straw hat is just another lid. Why I do not know for I have yet to be psycho-analyzed.

It Happened In Newton

Here's something that not infrequently occurs in connection with the use of the telephone and although undesirable I don't see how the company or anybody else can do much about it. When your call is answered and you are told to hold the line while the party you seek is located—well, you know as well as I what sometimes happens. You wait in silence as long as your patience permits and then you begin saying, "Hello, hello!" over and over again, and finally, having received no response you hang up in disgust.

There are causes other than indifference or inefficiency—odd things, coincidences or whatever you may call them. The person who received your call may have understood that the party called was temporarily delayed and would eventually answer. Or it may be that some smart individual, not aware of the circumstances, comes along and, seeing an unused receiver off the hook, decides it should be replaced at once.

I was privileged to learn of still another possibility. A telephoned friend and when his wife answered and called to him from the floor above, "That's Mr. Bentley," my friend didn't understand she meant the telephone. He rushed to the front door expecting to find me waiting to get in or at least passing by. When he caught no sight of me he assumed I had rushed past in an automobile. Later, his wife spoke of my call. Of course he rang me at once, saying,

"Sorry, old man, but I'm not surprised you hang up."

Taking Fun Seriously

It cannot be called looking ahead, and yet it has to do with the vacation season. I refer to people who returned last Fall and other times and grumbled about their experiences. I remember vividly because there was so much of which they complained. The roads, the weather, the high prices for food and shelter, the unpleasant people encountered and the general disappointment of it all.

Possibly they were justified, although I doubt it, but I have come to the conclusion that some people take their pleasures very hard. If you observe carefully you will find that their departure was no happier than their arrival. They do over the effort and bother of getting ready to go away. The many details involved in arranging things in order to give themselves a good time are sufficient to send them into a state of complete nervous exhaustion.

Apparently they have convinced themselves they are obliged to make a trip and proceed to struggle against terrific odds until plans are complete. Finally they manage to get away but instead of brightening at the prospect, their faces look as if they were headed for the hospital. They appear to me like the old man in the country, who, although satisfied with his daily routine of many years, was finally persuaded to travel. Sadly, he informed the nearest friend and neighbor, "I'm going to have a good time. Gosh, how I dread it."

Many Thanks, John

Always helpful, my loyal friend of many years, John Temperley, has written to advise me what position to assume while engaged in gardening, a subject, if you will remember, that was recently discussed in this column. His postcard message follows: "Dear Ed—When you are weeding 'one thing and another' in your garden, I suggest that you stand on your head. You may find it much easier than stooping, bending or kneeling. A little practice and you should become proficient."

organized and fought for a school in that section. In his 1936 inaugural address Mayor Childs recommended the building the new schools at West Newton and Newton without delay, but no recommendation has been made for their construction. From present indications the new school at West Newton will not even be built this year, and the new school to replace the old, wooden structures at Newton is more remote than it was five years ago. Perhaps if residents of West Newton and Newton put on the pressure as did Oak Hill residents, they will receive more attention.

The following list of boys receiving Honors and Honorable Mention at the end of the fifth half-term was announced by Dr. W. L. Newton Red Cross Wants Volunteers

Junior and Senior delegates from the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross to the Annual Convention recently in Washington returned feeling that everything should be done to perfect the Red Cross setup along the lines of preparedness, prevention and rescue work. Newton is prepared in case disaster strikes by having a chairman, Mr. Charles B. Floyd who has arranged his committees to function for medical treatment, transportation, registration, housing, clothing and food. A disaster which could occur here would perhaps be a railroad accident or a fire. A paper setup is important, but should be supplemented by trained volunteers who could step in and know how to help out what would be a very busy corps of Chapter officials.

Wanted: A number of volunteers who would come once a week until each was familiar with a certain branch of chapter work and could step in to take charge of that particular branch as does the chapter secretary.

This means Newton needs volunteers to learn how to carry on the work connected with: Motor Corps, Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, First Aid, Life Saving, sewing and knitting department; Roll Call. By giving a morning or an afternoon and acting with the faithfulness to duty, promptness, and efficiency shown by the blue veiled Staff Assistants at the Convention they would be spreading instead of concentrating Red Cross knowledge and interest. By conning the files on that one subject alone, preparing for, or giving the necessary telephone information, they would unconsciously imbibe a knowledge of the other branches of the work as well. Those who so kindly helped at Headquarters in Newtonville during the campaigns for Roll Call and Flood Relief funds, realize the advantage of having many people familiar with the work. Chapter Headquarters are at 12 Austin st., Newtonville, N. N. 2717.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

TRACK TEAM REGAINS THRONE, WIN STATE MEET

Newton High successfully defended its State track championship last Saturday at Dickinson Stadium, Newtonville, edging Medford 19 7/10 to 18 19/20. Individual victories by Frank Hines in the century and Don MacKinnon in the 120-yard low hurdles, and another for the relay team, made most of Newton's points. Six records were broken and another equalled in the meet, including the half-mile record set by Newton's Tom Clausen in 1921.

Hines came with a tush in the last few yards of the 100-yard dash to defeat Taylor of Medford, Masters of Lynn Classical and Leonard of Boston English in 10.3s. MacKinnon repeated his sparkling hurdles victory of the Harvard Intercollegiate of last week, winning in the excellent time of 14.2. The relay, deciding event, found Newton paired with Boston English, and Melanch of English had the hard luck to pull a tendon in the first leg of the race, while Newton's MacKinnon, Muther, Allen and Hines went on to win without competition in 1m 33.5s, the fastest time of the meet.

Other points for the winners were picked up by Joe Gallant, with third in the blanket finish of the 880. The winner's time was 2:11, and Gallant was clocked in 2:16. Bud Muther ran a 52.5 quarter-mile to take a tie with Hall of Boston English for fourth in the event, and Mark Messier was in a five-way tie for second in the high jump at 5ft. 8in.

St. Patrick's Well in Ireland St. Patrick's well in Ireland is situated near the famous Cullen bridge, founded in 1608 on the Old Coach road, where King Niall Caille was drowned in 846, as a warning to invaders, famed in verse as the "Way to Western Ireland," and is near the Royal college, which carries on the work of the original school founded by St. Patrick.

NEWTON NINE WINS TITLE 9 VICTORIES, 1 DEFEAT

Overcoming a two-run lead to beat Brookline 4-2, Newton High's Suburban League baseball team closed their 1937 scorebook last Friday with nine victories and one defeat. Ed Paul was touched for a home run by Brookline's O'Neil, the first batter in the first inning, and yielded another run in the second. Then in the fifth, Coach Jones replaced Paul with Phil "Mucker" Green, who poured the horsehide across so fast that he fanned eight in the last four innings, gave no bases on balls, and cut the opposition down in short order. Green also belted a long double in the sixth to start the Newton rally.

Newton's 17-5 squealing of Rindge was the game that settled Newton alone atop the league for the first time since 1928. Cormier and McHugh hit home runs in the fourth inning, a seven-run session. Marrazzo was the leading hitter with three bingles in four attempts. Ed Paul struck out eleven batters, allowing Rindge a four-run fifth inning with two hits, three walks.

Coach Jones considers this year's high school team the best he has ever coached at Newton, with the possible exception of the 1934 team, which won eleven and lost two, sharing league honors with Cambridge Latin. After losing their star hurler, Guido Castoldi, due to an ankle injury, and when shortstop Sbordone left school to take a job, the team lost none of its thunderous batting power and tight defensive play. Although no definite proposals have been made, Newton is up for nomination in the state baseball tourney, conducted annually by the state school sportswriters association.

Newton's 1937 saga of baseball victory reads as follows:
Newton 9, Waltham 5.
Newton 6, Arlington 5.
Newton 9, Camb. Latin 5.
Newton 13, Rindge 3.
Newton 11, Brookline 6.
Newton 1, Arlington 6.
Newton 6, Waltham 5.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, June 6.

The Golden Text is: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth" (Genesis 1:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and the life is in his Son. . . . These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God" (1 John 5:11, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In Science, man's immortality depends upon that of God, good, and follows as a necessary consequence of the immortality of good. . . . Spiritually to understand that there is but one creator, God, unfolds all creation, confirms the Scriptures, brings the sweet assurance of no parting, no pain, and of man deathless and perfect and eternal" (pp. 81, 69).

"Cradle for Grownups"

Once referred to contemptuously as a "cradle for grownups," the rocker later attained great popularity and was a distinctly American contribution to the art of chair-making. Legend ascribes its invention to Benjamin Franklin and Philadelphia its birthplace.

Travel to Egypt Began

About the Year 900 B. C.

Commercially inspired tributes to Egypt indited by travel writers seem fulsome and weak when compared with the comments of Herodotus, who traveled through that land some 2,800 years ago, according to an authority. His plain statements were more forceful than any subtle use of adjectives.

"Of Egypt I shall make my report at length," his discourse begins, "because it has wonders more in number than any other land, and works too it has to show as much as any land, which are beyond expression great." Evidently a man of the world, the most widely traveled of his age, Herodotus nevertheless could not contain his astonishment at many of the sights in Egypt.

He called the Nile "unlike any other river." He evinced great respect for the mental attainments of the Egyptians—"the most learned in the history by far of all those of whom I have had experience." But it was on the subject of Egypt's renowned climate that the Greek philosopher-historian showed himself at his best. "The Egyptians," he wrote, "are the most healthy of all men next after the Libyans, in my opinion on account of the seasons, because the seasons do not change." That single sentence contains the gist of many dissertations on the healthfulness of Egypt's un-failing sunshine.

Bond Street of London

Named After Speculator

During the Seventeenth and Eighteenth and the first half of the Nineteenth centuries the Bond street of New York and the Bond street of London had a similar aspect—both were lined with the residences of the well-to-do. Here those of bankers and merchants, there the homes of the landed nobility. Later in both streets merchandising prevailed.

The origin of the New York name is obvious; that of the London street came from Sir Thomas Bond, a Seventeenth century courtier attached to Queen Henrietta Maria, who was always persona grata at the Court of Whitehall in the reign of Charles II, to whom she is said to have advanced large sums of money.

According to Arthur Dasent, writing in the Daily Telegraph of London, toward the end of Charles' reign Sir Thomas began to speculate in London real estate, particularly in the West End, in the Parish of St. Martin-in-the-Field. His first transaction as recorded in the local Rate Book was when he acquired in 1683 Clarendon House in Piccadilly from General Monk's son, the second Duke of Albemarle, pulled it down and laid out both Albemarle and Bond streets through the property before he rebuilt.

Palestine Memorials

Palestine is rich in Crusader memorials. Even the Church of the Holy Sepulchre is said to represent Crusader's work, for the south facade and many parts of the sacred building, particularly the bell tower, were built by them during their occupation of the city. Both at Ramleh and Lydda, two important towns on the road between Jerusalem and Jaffa, may be seen churches built by the Crusaders. Near Arsuf there are the remains of an old castle which was occupied by Richard Coeur-de-Lion, King of England. Many of the castles and fortresses remain as safe and sound as they were when armies of Western Europe, led by pious knights, invaded Syria and Palestine from 1093 to 1291, and waged their holy wars. These "Soldiers of the Cross" left their mark in Palestine in the names of Belvoir, Belvoir, Mirabel, Blanchegarde or Singil (St. Giles.)

Frost Smoke

Frost smoke is a fog which rises in wreaths from open water which is relatively warm compared to the overlying cold air. This fog usually consists of ice crystals (snow). Frost smoke forms more readily in very cold weather when the wind is calm or very light, and when the difference between the temperatures of the water and the air is large. The fog slowly drifts away from the open water over adjacent ice and gradually deposits a slight covering of snow on the ice.

Discovery of Hot Springs

Pioneer trappers who first penetrated Arkansas found a series of mineral springs at what is now Hot Springs. They bathed in the waters and praised their medicinal value. Soon their fame reached the ears of President Jefferson, who sent Lewis and Clark to investigate. Another famous series of hot springs is at Rotorua, New Zealand. The springs cover an area of 660 square miles and vary in temperature from 60 degrees to the boiling point.

Caviar Roe of Sturgeon

Caviar is the roe of the sturgeon. The fish has a long snout with which it roots in the mud for worms. It is notable for its bony armor. It ascends rivers to lay its eggs and seems to prefer the Volga, in Russia. The eggs are gathered up and shipped to all parts of the world. During the reign of England's Edward II the sturgeon was declared a royal fish and has so remained.

"Loan Sharks" Got 100%

From Egyptians 109 B. C.

That ancient Egypt was afflicted with the equivalent of "loan sharks" is revealed by a papyrus in the Egyptian archaeological exhibits at Field Museum of Natural History, on which is written a promissory note. The specimen, which dates from 109 B. C., is the oldest promissory note of its type known, and is known as one of the most important of such papyri because of its elaborate legal formulae, which are strikingly similar to those found in many modern legal documents.

Quite startling is the usurious rate of interest, 100 per cent, specified in the note, while other harsh terms specified in it make their own commentary on the social conditions of the time.

From a literal translation the following interpretation is made:

"I, the peasant-slave Ennakkomnoy, belonging to the Zemi cemetery, have borrowed from the woman Nokhutes 22½ artabab of wheat. I promise to repay this loan with 100 per cent interest, making the total due 45 artabab of wheat. Further, I promise to repay this loan with good, undiluted, chaffless seed-wheat, measured by the same standard as was used in making this loan; and I further promise to deliver the said wheat to the house of the woman Nokhutes in the Zemi cemetery, without transportation charges, by the last day of the ninth month of the year 9 with no extensions of time to be granted. Further, whatever I do not repay in wheat by the aforesaid date I will repay within the following month at the rate of 60 pieces of silver per artaba. Further, as long as this note is in Nokhutes' possession I cannot claim, unless I can show a receipt, to have made full or partial payment. Further, everything that I now possess or shall acquire is herewith pledged to Nokhutes until I shall have discharged my debt in full. Further, if Nokhutes brings suit against me for failing to meet my obligation, I admit additional liability for my damages. Further, the agent of Nokhutes is hereby authorized to deal with me and I promise to follow his instructions unreservedly and promptly at all times."

Prevails in Many Lands

Because of a superstition that anything seen or done on the left foreboded ill, was to be shunned as unlucky, the left hand has been in disrepute for centuries.

A deep-rooted prejudice, use of this hand is confined by South African natives, for example, to all degrading acts. The Maori tribe of New Zealand considers it profane, uses it as little as possible. Romans had a word for it in the evil-sounding "sinister."

Conscious of an "ugly duckling" embarrassment in consequence of this perverse heritage, from 4 to 8 per cent of the world's population have, willy-nilly, served out their appointed days, often with no small shame to their right-handed betters. Far from being malodorous, balmy or queer, some have been great personages, states a writer in Literary Digest.

Many of Egypt's Pharaohs were left-handed. So were most of Rome's Caesars; the Biblical Benjamin, Alexander the Great, Charlemagne, Michelangelo, Leonardo da Vinci was so completely left-handed he wrote a backward stroke readable only with a mirror.

Virginia's Capital

Richmond, capital of Virginia, was once also capital of the Confederacy, and many things associated with the war between the states are to be found there. The White House of the confederacy is now a fascinating museum. The Capitol, the main unit of which was designed by Thomas Jefferson, is the meeting place of the oldest representative legislative assembly in the new world. Old St. John's church is famous as the place where Patrick Henry fired the flames of the American Revolution with his stirring oration ending, "Give me liberty or give me death!" Near the city are many battlefields of the war, which have been preserved as park areas.

Use for Spiders' Webs

Spiders' webs have a commercial value, and are used by a number of firms of scientific instrument makers. The strongest and finest thread comes from the webs spun by the species known as the "Eperidia Dramata," found usually on gorse bushes. The thickness varies from 0.00015 of an inch to 0.00075, and often the thicker threads are split in half, says London Tit-Bits Magazine. The insect that spins these threads can easily be distinguished from any other of the eighty odd varieties in Britain as it has a beautiful cross on its back and spins webs of the "wheel" type.

Golden Apples

Spain was once the Mexico and Peru of Mediterranean exploitation, yielding gold, silver, tin, and copper for the greater glory of Greece and the grandeur of ancient Rome. It was believed to be fabulously rich when Greek myth-makers wrote legends of Hercules venturing Spain-ward for the golden apples of Hesperides. To Tarshish, around Cadiz, King Solomon sent for gold for his temple.

Seventeenth Century Mode

Virginia ladies of the Seventeenth century differed little from the English in their costumes, except that, being richer, they were better able to gratify their desire to shine and outshine. As they manufactured nothing in the South, all their finery was fresh from England. A Virginia lady, Mrs. Pritchard, in 1660, owned an olive colored silk petticoat, another of silk tabby, one of flowered tabby, one of velvet, and one of white striped dimity. Her printed calico gown was lined with blue silk. There were also a pair of scarlet sleeves and another of ruffled holland; also a pair of green stockings.

In Slavery Days

In early days some states had laws against the manumission of slaves. Laws of this sort were passed not only in Southern states, but in Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. There were also many statutes passed prohibiting freed negroes from entering other states.

Most Fertile Region

Salinitas, center of the nitrate-producing region of Chile, lacks vegetation, although it is the most fertile region in the world. It is one of the few spots where this wonderful fertilizer, nitrate, is of no use. The sun pours down with such intensity that nothing will grow.

Many Squat on Haunches

At least half the people in the world, particularly Asians and Africans, prefer to squat on their haunches rather than to stand or sit. They take this ungainly position at every opportunity when trading, gossiping, waiting or resting, often holding it for hours at a time. —Collier's Weekly.

Nickname "Dumb Ox"

Discovered Way to Cure Herring

A Zealand fisherman discovered the way to cure herring in the Fourteenth century, and these fish have been important in Northern Europe's commerce ever since.

Woodchuck, "Whistle-Pig"

In the Great Smokey Mountains National Park, along the North Carolina and Tennessee border, the local name for the woodchuck is whistle-pig.

Dogs, Best Rat Catchers

Dogs, according to an authority make the best rat catchers. A single terrier has been credited with killing more than one thousand rats in a year.

Paul Revere, Silversmith

Paul Revere was a silversmith and copper worker, and the copper sheathing for the frigate Constitution was supplied by his shop.

A gigantic concrete figure of Kwannon, Buddhist goddess of mercy, stands on the crest of a hill at Takasaki City, Japan.

BETTER IT -- or -- BUILD NOW!

HOME MODERNIZING & GENERAL BUILDING PAGE

GEORGE P. STUART, Consulting Architect

This feature section is designed to help readers with problems pertaining to home modernizing and general building. During the past few years there have been many improvements made in building products, furnishings and construction methods that make for comfort, attractiveness and permanency, and we hope to present articles along these lines from week to week.

Most homes need improvements of one kind or another, and people are interested in bringing their residences up-to-date. Modernizing of various kinds can do much to make the home more enjoyable. The field for new building in Newton has steadily increased with over four million dollars expended last year for building construction. At present many fine estates are being developed in various sections and for those planning to build we hope to be of service.

Churches throughout the City require more or less attention. Masonry walls need repointing and waterproofing to stop further deterioration. New painting, decorating, windows and furnishings are needed. Much can be done to other buildings to make them of more value. Improved store fronts and renovations are continually in demand.

We trust the articles presented will be helpful and that readers will feel free to call for information and estimates upon companies who make this section possible. Request for advice on modernizing and general building may be sent to the consulting architect.

DECORATION

"The use of color in plumbing fixtures is rapidly coming into its own," according to Mr. E. B. Lane, Manager of Standard Sanitary Mfg. Company, manufacturers of plumbing fixtures. "It was only a few years ago, as you will remember, that all bathrooms were painted alike, white with plain white fixtures," says Mr. Lane. "Now home owners have found that color adds charm to the bathroom, and every year sees an increase in the use of color fixtures."

Mr. Lane says, "The use of color in the bathroom presents a new problem in decoration for the home owner, because of the type of materials and large surfaces for color." He says the same is true, in a lesser extent, of the kitchen. He points out that the best color scheme is what artists call the "simple palette," or the use of one bright dominant color with two others of less intensity. This makes the room bright enough but not so bright that you will tire of it.

Fixture Color Is Key

"Our experience has been that home owners who go about their choice of colors systematically get the best results." "The first step should be the selection of the color for the fixtures. Today, there is a wide range to choose from in modern fixtures. For example, you can obtain any 'Standard' fixture in any one of ten beautiful colors. This selection includes ivory, brown, green, rose, dark blue, coralline, orchid, dark red, black and white.

"Naturally, your selection will depend a great deal on your own desire for color and harmony. You can get a good idea of just what you want from the color samples which your local Master Plumber can show you. These are the same material as the fixtures and of sufficient size to enable you to visualize the appearance of the fixture. At the same time, your Master Plumber can show samples of the tile.

Mistake to Match Tile

"It is a mistake, and a common one, to attempt to match the color of the plumbing fixtures with the tile or other wall material. Except in rare cases an exact match with the fixtures is not possible, and, even if it were, the results would not be satisfactory. It is just as logical to try and match the fixtures in the living room with color of the wall. The background should provide contrast which will bring out the beauty of the plumbing fixtures and not lose it in a similar background or against plain white.

"Basing this advice on our own experience with the color in the bathroom and the kitchen," Mr. Lane concludes, "the two main factors are simplicity and contrast. Wherever color is used with proper consideration to these two cardinal principles it has been a great factor in adding to the appearance of the bathroom."

Planting Hints No. 11

Peonies

To secure the best and biggest blooms from your Peonies the soil should be well prepared in advance of planting. Any good soil will do if the bed is well drained and dug to a depth of 18 inches and have 5 or 6 inches of well-rotted cow manure placed in the bottom. This manure should be covered with 4 inches of soil to prevent direct contact of the manure and roots. Mix about 10 per cent of well-rotted manure or leaf mould with the rest of the soil and plant the Peonies.

Peonies are best planted during September and October. Plant the "roots" about three inches under the surface and two to three feet apart. This gives them room to develop. Peonies are extremely hardy and need no protection after the first winter. They bloom better if the tuber is exposed. The tendency is to plant peonies too deep and the consequence is they will not bloom.

The after care of peonies is also important. When the ground becomes workable in the spring dig the soil around the plants to a depth of an inch or two and work in some well-rotted manure or bone meal, taking care to keep the fertilizer away from the crown. Peonies like a lot of moisture and after the buds have formed an application of liquid manure once a week will produce larger and more brilliant blossoms. To get large flower-picks off the lateral buds and thus throw the strength into the top buds.

Crosbie, chairman of the Ways and Means committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, announces for Tuesday afternoon, June 15th, a tour of Newton gardens, with tea served in the garden of Mrs. George Williams Smith, 100 Ivy street, Brookline. Tickets, which are 60 cents, will be on sale at the Club House, June 15th, at 1:30 o'clock. Transportation may be arranged for those without cars. The tour and tea will be postponed to the 16th in case of rain on the 15th.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

On Monday, May 24th, the Garden Club of the West Newton Women's Educational Club held a Clay Breakfast at the home of Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, 54 Oakland avenue, Auburndale. Plans for the summer outings were discussed.

The West Newton Women's Educational Club will have a Barbeque Luncheon and Entertainment on Tuesday, June 15th, at 1 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Percival Waters, Weston. Mrs. George H. Jackson has on her committee for this event, Mrs. Waters, Mrs. John Shade Franklin, Mrs. Fred Fowle, Mrs. Raymond R. Forte, and Mrs. June Chipman.

Hospital Aid Benefit Shop

The Annual Meeting of the Executive Board of the Hospital Aid Benefit Shop Committee was held Saturday morning, May 22nd, at the Black Horse, in Hingham. The presiding officer, Mrs. Brewer Eddy, conducted a short business meeting, with reports from the secretary and treasurer, then introduced Mrs. Francis H. Williams, the Business manager of the Shop, which is located on Washington street, Newtonville, directly opposite the railroad station. Mrs. Williams particularly emphasized the fact that the results obtained from this work were two-fold: it enabled the customer to purchase good used articles, both of clothing and household necessities, for much less than they could be purchased elsewhere; and the money so earned was used to buy special equipment for the Newton Hospital, which otherwise might not be available.

In her report, Mrs. Williams specially urged that more publicity be given the enterprise, in order that Newton residents might realize that their co-operation should be not only a responsibility, but a privilege.

The Shop is open every Monday afternoon from 2 to 4:30 o'clock and on Wednesday and Friday mornings from 10 to 12. Donations of clothing, books, furniture, and, in fact, anything salable, may be brought to the Shop during these hours, or they will be called for each Wednesday, if the donor will notify the chairman of Transportation, Mrs. Raymond Perkins, telephone West Newton 1774J.

Mrs. Charles Hardy announced that the slate of officers would be the same as last year, with Mrs. Brewer Eddy and Mrs. Ralph Conant, co-chairmen; Mrs. D. Morley Lodge, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Bartlett, secretary; and Mrs. Francis H. Williams, Business manager. Mrs. Ernest F. Drew was elected Publicity chairman.

Following the business meeting, the group enjoyed luncheon, while tentative plans for the coming year were made.

Successful Sale Assists Blind

The Sale held for three days last week to Help the Blind to Help Themselves, under the auspices of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs and various church organizations, was very gratifying in its result, and the Executive committee which was in charge takes pleasure in announcing that the receipts were well over $950.

The spacious auditorium in the Club House of the Newton Centre Woman's Club was an ideal place for the tables displaying the many and varied articles for sale. The beautiful copper, pewter, basketry, and hand-woven goods filled the centre tables, and each of the tables around the hall held equally attractive assortments of household goods and wearing apparel.

Ellen Dolan at her loom, and Helen Laird at her wheel, were on the platform in the hall, and were glad to explain their arts to the many who wished to watch them work.

Helen Goodwin, a Radcliffe student, with her "Seeing-Eye," and Mrs. Waterhouse, with her fine dog, told of the great assistance of their four-footed companions, and demonstrated some of the feats of the dogs.

The chairman serving from the different women's clubs in the Newton Federation, and the chairman representing the various church organizations, with their assistants, have accomplished again a most worthwhile bit of work in sponsoring this movement which enables the ambitious blind who work so industriously to help themselves.

Woman Senator Addresses The Junior Session

With Senator Sybil H. Holmes, only woman member of the Massachusetts State Senate, as their speaker, and Mrs. John H. Kimball, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, as one of the honored guests, more than 600 members of the Junior department of the Federation held a two-day session at the New Ocean House in Swampscott, May 15th and 16th.

At the meeting Saturday, the 15th, following a brilliant Banquet at the hotel, Juniors voted unanimously to hold a ball next fall in Boston to raise funds for their State project, "The Talking Book for the Blind," machines which will be distributed throughout the State in communities where they are in need.

Mrs. Paul H. Nottage, of Wollaston, State chairman, conducted the meeting, and Greetings were brought by Mrs. Kimball, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, of Cliftondale, General Federation director and a past State president; and Mrs. Olaf Hoff, Jr., of Turner Falls, Senior Adviser to Juniors.

One of the interesting features of the evening was the announcement of awards for State contests among Juniors. First prize in Poetry was won by Miss Enid Morgan, of Turner Falls, also winner in 1935; second prize, Miss Margaret Thurlow, of West Roxbury; third prize, the between Miss Elsie Oakes, of Turner Falls, and Miss Grace A. Shay, of Cambridge.

Juniors created a colorful picture at their Banquet Saturday night with their evening gowns, corsages and bouquets.

Mrs. Frank P. Bennett of Cliftondale, General Federation director and a past state president, sat at the head table. She wore black lace, with a long pearl necklace and bracelets and a gardenia corsage, and her greetings were enthusiastically received at the meeting in Convention hall.

Miss Mildred Colburn, president of the Women's Club of Lynn, who directed the Parade of Juniors from the hotel to the hall, looked charming in figured brocade.

Miss Bess Bartlett, of Lynn, State Federation Clerk, was at the head table, and was roundly applauded for her generous donation to the Junior State project, "The Talking Book for the Blind."

Mrs. George T. Hart, Jr., of Lynn, was at the banquet as Ninth District director, and wore a summer print on white with a corsage of roses.

The recently formed Junior Club of the Hobbs Community Club of Marblehead was mentioned with other new Junior Clubs, when each president was presented to the assembly.

Twilight Service Opens Meeting

The solution for the turmoil and complexities of modern civilization will be found "through the calming of the passions and the fears of men and through the growth of love in their hearts," rather than in "heated and excited search for new theories of living," the Rev. Dana McLean Greeley, minister of the Arlington Street Church, said at the Twilight Service held by members of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs Sunday night at the New Ocean House in Swampscott.

The meeting was one of many innovations in the Annual three-day May Convention of the Federation this season. Mr. Greeley took as his subject, "The Lord's Requirements," using as a text, "What does the Lord require of thee built humbly before thy God?" He said in part:

"The secret of successful living lies in an allegiance to the humblest of values and in the discovery, not of class responsibilities or social panaceas, but of the conquest, not of nations or of patterns of civilization, but of the self.

"No nation on earth can assume priority over the most contrite of its citizens; the citizen must come before the nation. Shall we be saved by the name or the method of Presbyterianism, or Episcopalianism, or Unitarianism, or Buddhism? Will the Lord be pleased with eight years of democracy, or with 16 years of the restoration of republicanism, or would socialism or communism or capitalism or fascism or technocracy more promptly placate the high God?"

"Immediately the words of Christ ring in our ears: 'The Kingdom of God is cometh not with observation; Neither shall they say, 'Lo, here! or Lo there!' for behold, the Kingdom of God is within you.'"

With these challenging utterances—heard by many clubwomen, their husbands, and their daughters who availed themselves of a week-end at the New Ocean House, Swampscott—was ushered in the series of addresses, in their turn, the attention and consideration of their hearers during three busy days, Monday, May 17th, through Wednesday, the 19th.

In the familiar surroundings of the Convention Hall, which has been adapted from a garage to a most comfortable meeting place for an organization, represented this year by more than 3,500 clubwomen—a total attendance of 3,521 to be exact—the Monday morning session opened formally at 10 o'clock, with the State president, Mrs. John H. Kimball, presiding.

The stage itself has become dressed up with a green canopy top, and with green-draped posts at the corners, an attractive, cool setting, enhanced, with cedars and palms as decorations, and with two large, beautiful bouquets in front of the speaker's stand.

The eager audience gathered here thrilled at the thought of hearing Lord Dudley Marley, of England, speak upon "The Changing British Empire." Greatly to their delight they heard this distinguished Britisher, leader of the British Liberals, praise the system of government founded in 1776 by our forefathers, and admonish the Federation to maintain it, saying, "Let me beg of you to hold tight to that democracy; the essence of democracy is criticism. Such a nationwide discussion as is now going on concerning the Supreme Court," he said, "would not be allowed in Germany. This convention would not be allowed!" He urged comparison of democracy with dictatorship, and asserted that "the dictator type of government is a threat to democracy."

"The democracies of Europe must build up such powerful forces within their own countries," declared Lord Marley, "that such totalitarian states as Italy and Germany won't dare to break the peace."

The emergency in Europe is the rising of new types of states—that is, totalitarian states, which are the very antithesis of democracy. War solves no problems but creates new and worse ones. Totalitarian states are attempting to confuse the issues of democracy and therefore the paramount issue is that of democracy versus dictatorship."

He gave a startling warning that victory of General Franco's rebels in Spain would threaten the freedom of the Atlantic by giving control to Italy and Germany, a possibility which he described as a threat to both Great Britain and the United States; that the British government had been "very slow at arriving at this simple fact, and that German and Italian domination of Spain would make it impossible for Britain to retain control at Gibraltar and in the Mediterranean."

He also interpreted the recent trip of President Roosevelt to South America as an out-and-out declaration that the United States was not willing for any dictatorship in South American countries.

In the next war, "the safest place will be in the front line trenches, and the most dangerous will be in the homes and the villages," he said, using as an illustration the present conflict in Spain in which the primary attack is on women and children," he added.

In honor of Lord Marley, the assembly had sung "God Save the King," just preceding his presentation as speaker.

Among the reports of officers that of the treasurer, Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, of Brockton, gave many interesting facts. The total disbursements for the year were $10,874.46, with a bank balance of $13,958.80. The total amount of the Maria Gray Kimball peace fund, started last fall, including interest on deposits, is now $107,741, representing contributions of from $1 to $48 each from many clubs. It was also announced that $1,201 had been donated to the Emergency Peace Campaign in honor of the president, Mrs. Kimball, the money to be used within the State.

In her annual report given at the Monday afternoon session, the president, Mrs. Kimball recommended that each club undertake a comprehensive survey of its own community in regard to its assets and needs, including such things as art interests, literature, music and all other departments of Federation work with a view to raising the standard of community life. Returns from various clubs replying to the president's annual questionnaire showed a total of $95,301 given to such causes as hospitals, scholarships, public welfare, local charities, foreign causes, Red Cross, disabled veterans, and public health.

The specific sums were distributed as follows: $8,380 to hospitals; $33,540.33 to scholarships; $11,609.42 to public welfare; $13,573.57 to local charities; $56 to foreign relief; $3,973.50 to Red Cross; $2,573.06 to disabled soldiers; $10,153.60 to public health; $11,593.78 to other contributions.

(Account will be continued next week—Editor.)

Reports at The Biennial Council At Tulsa

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Lafell Dickinson, of Keene, N. H., showed a decidedly healthy condition of funds. Receipts for the year were $155,916.76, and disbursements were $150,892.98. She also stated that the Foundation Fund now stands at $155,000, and it is logical to suppose that the desired goal of $1,000,000 will be reached in the fiftieth anniversary of the General Federation, 1941, certainly a most satisfactory way to celebrate such an anniversary.

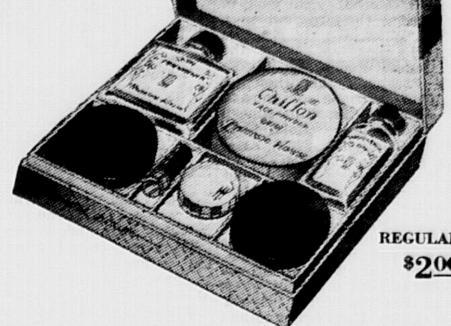

The address of the president, Mrs. Robert Campbell Lawson, and Greetings from Honorary presidents and vice-presidents, and from affiliated organizations and guests were the remaining business of the Tuesday morning session, April 27th. But it was the hour 10:30 to 11:30 which held attention country-wide, not only of clubwomen who were unable to go to Tulsa, but of many other listeners, in a Radio broadcast of speeches presented through the courtesy of the National Broadcasting Company from Station WJZ, New York, through KVOO, Tulsa. This opened with songs by the Chorus, "Hail To Our Hostess State"—"Oklahoma, A Toast." Mrs. Edgar B. Merritt, chairman of Radio, introduced the program in a talk entitled "When We Go On The Air." Mrs. Lawson spoke to the topic "The General Federation Speaks Through Its President," and then followed various chairmen of departments. American Citizenship, American Home, Education, Scholarships, International Relations, Fine Arts, Legislation, Press and Publicity, Public Welfare, Juniors, Research and Club Service, and "Our Magazine, the CLUBWOMAN," by its Editor, Miss Vella Winner, Membership, Public Safety—all with inspiring, if brief, messages of achievements and aims. Greetings from Mrs. William Brown Meloney, Editor of THIS WEEK, gave a new angle, and then Mrs. Lawson closed the Radio Hour in another word, "Looking Forward," with "America, the Beautiful," ending the hour in musical sign-off.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Perhaps the most noticeable thing about all these speeches over the radio was that the 17 leaders for speaking urged "Respect for the Constitution of the United States," extension of Civil Service leveling of capital and labor, and stamping out of child marriages.

Mrs. Jefferson D. Atwood, of Washington, D. C., chairman of American Citizenship, said:

"It is regrettable that this celebration (nation-wide observance of the 150th anniversary of the framing of the Constitution) could not have come earlier, as it might have served to prevent the American citizen from lapsing into an indifferent attitude toward the ultimate fate of some of the basic principles on which the government was established and by which it has functioned so efficiently a century and a half.

"The department of American Citizenship is stressing a study of the Constitution and the American system of government.

"If our liberty is to continue to be guarded through law, if our education for living is to bring contentment instead of conflict and insecurity, our legislators must safeguard the rights and need of every group without prejudice," declared Mrs. William Dick Sporborg, of Port Chester, N. Y., Legislation chairman.

"No one group should be encouraged or permitted to dominate another, and that holds just as good for labor as for industry. Just as good for manufacturer, distributor, and consumer."

"Write your Representative in Washington and have a say in the mass of legislation they toss into the hopper," advised Mrs. Sporborg. "Better praise 'em a little bit, too. Nothing gets them like pointing to their records with pride. It doesn't help to warn them they will not be there next session."

Mrs. Norman Hastings, of Rosindale, Mass., chairman of the American Home department, said, "We need more of the old-fashioned manners, those which followed that part of the ceremony which reads 'until death do us part,' and not the kind so prevalent today 'until the judge do us part.'"

"We have been shocked by reports of child marriages. The Federation is working for better marriage and divorce laws and more harmonious homes."

"Can we have lasting and ideal homes when a little girl of nine is allowed to marry a boy of 22, or when girls of 14 who think they are in love are permitted to leave school and marry boys of 15 or 16?"

"These children are robbed of their rightful heritage, and education and opportunities for improvement, of which there are so many in the United States, and they may bring into the world children who will be an asset to society."

"The shrewdest publicity expert in the world today now occupies the White House," declared Miss Vella Winner. "Does he know how to influence public opinion? Well, there's last November third!"

The establishment of a National Academy of Public Affairs was urged by Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, of Baltimore, chairman of Education.

Representative Wesley E. Disney (D.) of Oklahoma has introduced a bill in Congress along lines recommended by Mrs. Lawson who is the originator of the idea, and Mrs. Whitehurst, for an institution in Washington, similar to those at West Point and Annapolis, for the training of men and women for public activity in administrative affairs with force of arms, if necessary. The bill calls for an initial expenditure of $5,000,000 and provides for the nomination of candidates, one a year by each Congressman, two by each Senator, and 50 by the President.

In this connection, an Editorial in a Tulsa newspaper of April 27th, is worthy of the consideration of clubwomen.

A national college for civil service has been proposed in a bill by Congressman Wesley Disney. It provides for creation of a college where young men and women would train for government jobs, just as West Point trains for the army and Annapolis for the navy.

The American people support these two colleges which educate young men to protect our country by force of arms, if necessary. But how many times has the youth of America been called upon to go to war? They man the ships, it is true, which guard our coast and make second lieutenants and colonels for the army. Mr. Disney says we do not have the equivalent for our civil service.

Until the question of trained personnel for government service began to be discussed seriously, it was rather universally accepted that no one needed to know anything special to run the business of government. Just anyone who happened to be a friend of a friend of a person who had influence with the party in power at the time could do the people's business.

ness. And Mr. Disney is quite right in his contention that the United States of America, the biggest single business in the world, is entitled to trained people in its service.

We question the wisdom of a separate college for that training. We have some forty state universities. What are they but the people's colleges? Several of these have departments of government. The last few years have seen a strengthening of these departments. Government is coming to be a career in the United States.

If anyone doubts for a moment that such a national college for civil service as Mr. Disney suggests would be dominated by the party in power, look at our several state universities which have their periodic upheavals. But with our state universities, at least we have some forty brands of up-heaval. And no one brand dominates the whole at any one time.

West Point and Annapolis are colleges where orders are given; theirs not to question why or what. And it appears inevitable that any national college even for so good and worthy a purpose as educating public officials, could not be a free agent to inspire young men and women to do their own thinking.

We have some forty campuses in the country where young men and women are being trained for citizenship at state expense. The machinery is all there to train for public office.

The danger of a national college for civil service is that it will do just that (train to pass a Civil Service examination). It would train for the machinery of government that it will lose the long perspective, the sound intelligence and the broad understanding of government for all the people.

By all means, let's emphasize training for public office. Let's make it a high and consecrated and respected profession. But also let's protect it from domination by any one school of political thought.

"Romeo and Juliet" Heads Capitol, Allston, Program

LaSalle Breaks
Stock Car Record

A stock passenger car and a driving veteran, who has been the most important race figure in Indianapolis Speedway history, combined recently to launch the Silver Anniversary of the 500-mile automobile race. Ralph DePalma, the racing vet, who in the first 500-mile race in 1911 averaged 71.3 miles an hour in an especially built race car, returned to the bricks to pilot a strictly stock LaSalle V-8 over the distance.

Without striving for high speed in a run designed to bring out progress in endurance and reliability of the modern passenger car, DePalma, now 55 years old, not only topped his original mark but also eclipsed the 74.59 m.p.h. record of Ray Harroun, winner of the event that year.

The run was sanctioned by the American Automobile Association, which verified the stock classification and time. Observers selected a LaSalle convertible coupe at random from the assembly lines of the Cadillac Motor Car Division, tore it down and checked parts against the stock list contained in A. M. A. specifications. From that time until completion of the test, the car was under constant supervision by A. A. officials.

"In picking the LaSalle for a run that commemorates the 25th race (the '500' was abandoned during the war), we acted according to a well laid plan," DePalma explained. "We wanted to show a modern passenger car, without any special tinkering, could more than hold its own with the race cars that were born of months of preparation and an expenditure of thousands of dollars. At the same time we did not care to expose ourselves to the possibility of failure. We agreed on the LaSalle V-8 because of its known reputation for reliability."

"Another point involved was to contrast the comfort of the present-day passenger car against the physical beating race drivers still accept as part of their lot. Here, also, the LaSalle filled the bill."

The sharp difference between the Simplex DePalma drove in 1911 emphasizes LaSalle's contribution to the annals of motoring. The Simplex cost $15,000, not considering the labor that went into its construction. The LaSalle V-8 bases at $1,095 delivered in Detroit.

The Simplex had a piston displacement of 597 cubic inches. The LaSalle has 322. The Simplex ran "stripped," without top or fenders, and weighed 2800 pounds. The LaSalle carried a complete passenger car body and equipment just as it stands on the dealer's floor and ran with top up. It weighed 3897 pounds.

At the conclusion of the run, General Manager T. E. Myers of the Speedway announced the LaSalle has been selected as the official pace-maker of this year's race.

Georgia's Tobacco Road

Does Not Cross Streams

Tobacco road is more than a fictional name. For more than a century before it became famous as the name of a novel it stretched its serpentine length for miles over Georgia's red-clay hillsides. It was constructed for the purpose of transporting tobacco from Georgia farms to the nearest and most accessible shipping point on the Savannah river, states a writer in the New York Times.

It is a sand-clay thoroughfare that carries a fair burden of traffic, although it is not one of the state's main highways. It extends from Northern Georgia to New Savannah, an old settlement and shipping point on the river a few miles below Augusta, which was established prior to 1803, since it is shown on maps published in that year. Its location was chosen because it is immediately below the shoals in Richmond county, which evidently were not always navigable at that time. Tobacco road was doubtless responsible in part for the settlement and certainly for its period of active existence.

Tobacco road passes through many fertile farms and wooded areas of slash pine, oaks and other native trees. One of its most striking peculiarities, which is a tribute to those who routed it and to the patience of those who used it, is that it never crosses a stream. It circuitously follows the highlands, and crosses Richmond county, of which Augusta is the seat, on a ridge almost midway between two creeks. Tobacco would have been ruined had it got wet. Construction of bridges in that day was almost prohibitively difficult and the only method of crossing streams was by fording in shallow places. The primitive way of transporting tobacco provided little or no protection against water. Therefore water was avoided.

Swam Strait Every Night

to Visit His Sweetheart

Hero was a priestess of Venus. Leander, a youth of Abydos, a famous city on the Asiatic side of the strait of the Hellespont, nearly opposite the city of Sestos on the European coast, where he first saw Hero. It appears to have been a case of love at first sight, and an intensely ardent one at that, declares a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Hero's office as priestess, and the resolute opposition of her parents stood in the way of their union, cold and strong as the swift current of the Hellespont, which at its narrowest point is swift and deep and about one and one-fourth miles wide. Undaunted by all these obstacles, Leander swam across the strait every night to visit his beloved, who directed his course by holding a torch from the upper window of a tower on the shore. After many delightful meetings, the dauntless lover was drowned one stormy night, and his body was washed ashore at the foot of the tower where Hero stood, expecting him. Heartbroken at the sight, she flung herself from the tower into the sea, and passed with her lover into the immortality of art and song.

Kit Carson's Service

On June 7, 1827, Kit Carson delivered to President Polk a letter which, with important military despatches, he had carried to Washington from California. In recognition of this service, the President appointed Carson, then a private citizen, as an army lieutenant. The next year, while again en route to Washington with despatches, Carson learned that the senate had denied confirmation of his appointment. Urged by friends to refuse to proceed farther, Carson writes that he decided: "As I had been chosen as the most competent person to take the despatches through safely, I would fulfill that duty; if the service I was performing was beneficial to the public, it did not matter whether I was enjoying the rank of lieutenant."

Adirondack Park

Some of the land within the Adirondack park region has always been held by the State of New York, other areas were acquired from time to time through tax sales, especially in the years 1871 and 1877. It was not until 1885 that the state created the forest preserve by law, and the first appropriation, of $25,000, for buying land was made in 1890. Since that time, says Literary Digest, the state has constantly increased its holdings until the park area now comprises 7,500 sq. miles, or about one-seventh of the area of the state.

Oldest Monastery

The Egyptian Coptic church, the World's oldest Christian church, conducts the world's oldest monastery. It is St. Anthony's, founded in the Fourth century and located about 200 miles south of Suez near the Red Sea. From this church the "Abuna" or head of the Abyssinian church used to be chosen.

Many Land Scandals

One hundred years ago government land offices in the West were notoriously corrupt and agents sent out from Washington reported many irregularities in bookkeeping, fraudulent land purchases and defalcations among the men administering the land office.

Moorhead Found
Not Guilty

John J. Moorhead of 22 Court st., Newtonville, was found not guilty by a jury in the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge last Friday on a charge of receiving stolen property. He had been found guilty in the Newton court on April 23 and took an appeal. On April 28, 1935, a watch was stolen at the Bonnar-Atwood Studio, Newtonville. Some months ago the stolen watch, in a different case, was found in a Boston pawnshop by Captain Goodie of the Newton police. It had been pawned by Moorhead. The defendant testified that the watch had been given to him and that he was unaware that it had been stolen.

Newton Safety Chapter Plans Active Campaign

Newton Chapter of the Massachusetts Safety Council held a meeting last Thursday night at City Hall, General Daniel Needham, chairman of the chapter, presided. Richard J. Dunn of 300 Waverley ave. was elected vice-chairman of the Newton Chapter. Mr. Dunn is a vice president of the Lumbermen's Mutual Insurance Company, its New England counsel and has a wide reputation as an authority on the subjects of automobile accidents and traffic safety. He is a lecturer on insurance law at Boston College Law School.

General Needham received the charter for Newton Chapter from Lewis E. MacBrayne, executive of the Mass. Safety Council. He explained that the staff of the W. P. A. Traffic Survey Project for Massachusetts had completed a survey of accidents which occurred in Newton during 1935 and 1936, thus extending the traffic survey of this city to the first of this year. This activity was explained by Mr. Packer, who is in charge of the WPA survey here. He said a lot of statistics have been gathered in connection with the survey. He commented that some people fear at statistics because they don't properly interpret them. He gave an outline for the WPA safety project work, and said the two things which have caused most opposition have been traffic lights and parking restrictions. He stated that merchants have learned not to oppose parking regulations, because such restrictions aid business by providing parking space for customers. He also asserted that one-third of traffic lights cause accidents instead of preventing them.

Richard J. Dunn, in accepting the office of vice-chairman said that in the accident record of last year Newton stood 8th cities of its population class in Massachusetts; below industrial cities such as Lowell, Fall River and New Bedford, and that he believes something is wrong, considering the high character of Newton. He stated that it is the goal of the Safety Chapter to bring Newton to first place in its class, as regards highway safety. He told of having formerly resided in Evanston, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago, just as Newton is to Boston. Evanston has achieved an outstanding record for highway safety because its residents co-operate with an efficient police department. He explained that a number of sub-committees are being organized within the Newton Safety Chapter, each of which will deal with a particular problem. These committees are as follows: Child Education, Raymond Green, chairman; Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, vice chairman; police, chief Michael Hughes, chairman; engineering, Alfred N. Miner, chairman; Adult Education, Mrs. J. Earl Parker, chairman; accident facts, Charles S. Warren, chairman; Enforcement Regulations, Rupert Thompson, chairman; Publicity, Edward H. Powers, chairman.

Mr. Dunn said that the traffic survey shows that 90% of automobile accidents in Newton occur on seven streets; that 34% of the victims are pedestrians, and that the danger hour is between 5 and 6 p. m. He suggested that the police be most alert on traffic regulation during that hour. He said speeding is the chief cause of accidents, drunken drivers causing fewer than many people suppose.

General Needham urged publicity as the most effective way to get the public co-operating in the safety campaign. Members of the Chapter must make a big "safety ripple" spread over the entire city. A list of speakers will be selected who will address all organizations in Newton. Mr. Needham suggested that as many Newton policemen as possible take the two weeks' course to be given by the Harvard Bureau for Traffic Research next August. He said the city government should appropriate money to enable policemen to take the course, and that it will be money well spent. He also advocated necessary financing of traffic education in schools which is being conducted under the direction of Mr. Greene. Lewis E. MacBrayne said he is delighted with the splendid set-up of the new Newton Chapter of the Safety Council, and the fact that it is planning to accomplish results without spending money by means of voluntary co-operation from experts. He told of the excellent improvement in traffic conditions at Quincy, largely through the medium of publicity and speakers, these methods having enlisted the support of Quincy residents.

Thomas H. Black of 11 Upham st., West Newton, was fined $20 by Judge Crafts in the Waltham court last Thursday for driving so as to endanger the safety of the public. On May 1 a car he was driving hit Eugene Sullivan of 35 Cross st., Watertown, as the man was crossing Arsenal st. in that town.

Unveil Memorial Tablet at Horace Mann School

Historic Pageant In Honor of Educator

A memorial tablet to Horace Mann, designed by Lorado Taft, was unveiled on Tuesday evening at the Horace Mann School, Newtonville, as a part of the historical pageant held that evening in honor of the great educator who once lived on Chestnut st., West Newton. The tablet which was placed in the first floor corridor of the building was given by the children and friends of the Horace Mann district which includes the Clafin School.

The pageant, presented by the pupils of the Horace Mann School, demonstrated the methods of the earlier schools in Massachusetts and the influence which Horace Mann had in developing modern educational practice. The main feature was the representation of an old fashioned school room and hearing of classes according to early teaching practice, which greatly interested and amused the audience. Old songs in which the audience joined were sung and the minutiae of the school were demonstrated by a group of ten boys and girls. There was also an historical exhibit loaned by parents and friends of the school which contained a great variety of the equipment in the home and the schools of early Massachusetts life.

Mr. Frank Chase, the first principal of the school, was present, also Principal G. W. Brahmard and Mr. Julius E. Warren, Superintendent of Newton public schools, all of whom spoke briefly on the significance of the occasion.

A similar pageant had been held at the Clafin School last Friday afternoon in which old school methods were contrasted with the modern school with all its varied child interest activities.

Newton Boys Seize Yacht

Five Newton boys, students at Newton High School, were arrested at Squantum last Sunday night by Quincy police for taking a yacht owned by Richard Twigg of Ebbett ave., Woburn. When Twigg went to board his yacht last Sunday, he found it missing. He notified the police and kept watch at the pier of the yacht club at Squantum. Late Sunday night the missing boat was sailed in by its unauthorized crew. Two of the boys were arraigned in the Quincy court on Monday. They were William Langene, Jr., Woodin, Jr., Auburndale, and John Fifield, Edgewood rd., West Newton, each 17 years of age. The other three boys, under 17, appeared in the Quincy court on Tuesday.

Judge Lenient With Karalekas

William Karalekas, manager of the fruit store at 1305 Centre st., Newton, appeared in the Newton court on Saturday for the third time in connection with the complaint made against him by Special Officer Hammett that he had sold fruit on Sunday in violation of the law. The case had been continued twice by request of Karalekas, he having told Judge Allen that he intended to dispose of the business. The judge had indicated that he would impose a penalty on the defendant commensurate with the fact that it was his third conviction within a couple of years for such an offense. The judge imposed a $50 fine—and then suspended it. Karalekas has been keeping his store open on Sundays for the ostensible purpose of selling plants and flowers. He agreed to keep the store closed on Sundays hereafter.

On the charge of giving a worthless check for $95.42 to Wollrath & Sons, Waltham florists, Karalekas was given a suspended sentence of 30 days in Middlesex County prison. He promised to make restitution.

Tickets will be available for adults if they apply at the main office of the school any time before Saturday noon.

Police Catch Thief After 8 Mile Pursuit

Patrolman Dave Dalton of the Newton police, who captured a burglar after a short foot chase at Waban on the night of May 31, caught an automobile thief early Sunday morning after chasing him 8 miles in an exciting chase which started at Commonwealth ave. and Walnut st., Newton Centre, and continued over West Newton hill, down Watertown through West Newton, Newtonville and Nonantum to Watertown, thence through along Charles River Parkway to Faneuil, Dalton and Patrolman Martin Greeley were in a police car about 2 a. m. Sunday when they observed an automobile being operated the wrong direction on the North roadway of the avenue, a one-way street. Dalton started to stop the car when its driver speeded west on the avenue, over Valentine and Chestnut sts. to West Newton, thence down Watertown st. At Kensington st. Dalton drew abreast of the fleeing car but the pursued driver tried to force the police car off the road. At North Beacon and Brook sts. Faneuil the driver of the fugitive car turned west toward Watertown, crashed into an iron fence at the arsenal, leaped from the car and tried to flee on foot. He was caught by Dalton and Greeley. The captive had a severe cut on his nose. The car he was driving had been stolen from the garage of Otto Hansen, 105 Austin st., Newtonville.

He was identified as Victor Stanislovits, 23, of Aspinwall st., Dorchester, who had been arrested last April at Chestnut Hill by Patrolman Phillips, assigned to special duty in the section after many letters had been burglarized. The prisoner was paroled on March 2, 1936 from State Prison after having served 5 years for armed robbery. The State Parole Board did not return Stanislovits to prison to serve the unexpired part of his 5 to 12 years sentence. Instead, the Parole Board informed the Newton police that the Dorchester man was to become a sailor.

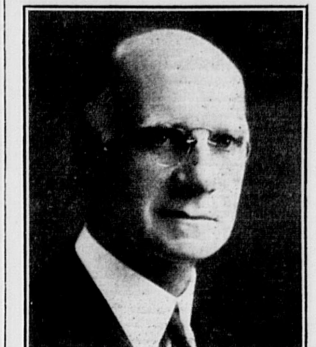

After Stanislovits had been placed in a cell, he hung himself from the bars of the cell by means of his sweater. He was discovered by Officer Geagan before he received any strangulation effects. He was arraigned in the Newton court Monday and held in $10,000 bonds for the grand jury.

Francis of Newton Centre was appointed to the special commission which will make a study relative to the State laws regulating the promotion and sale of securities and related matters. Representative Warren K. Brimblecom will serve on the commission which will study the re-registration of voters with a view towards determining a method of certifying the present voting lists. Senator Arthur W. Hollis was one of three senators appointed to the permanent commission on interstate co-operation, which succeeds the former interstate commission on labor compacts.

Union Services At N'ville and W. New. Churches

Six churches of Newtonville and West Newton have arranged to hold union services this summer, and have engaged Rev. Dr. Benjamin T. Marshall as their summer minister. Dr. Marshall was born in Boston. He is a graduate of Dartmouth College '97, and of Union Theological seminary, 1900. He was for 12 years pastor of Presbyterian churches in Scarborough and New Rochelle, N. Y., five years Phillips professor of Biblical literature and history at Dartmouth college, 11 years president of Connecticut college for women, and five years pastor of Piedmont church, Worcester.

The churches co-operating in these services are as follows: Central Congregational, Church of the New Jerusalem, and Methodist, Newtonville, and the First Unitarian, Lincoln Park Baptist, and the Second Church, West Newton. These churches united for similar services for 10 Sundays last summer, having as summer minister, Rev. Dr. Harry P. Dewey, whose recent death is deeply regretted. The large attendance at the 1936 services suggested that the same plan should be continued this summer. During July, the services will be held at the Second church, West Newton, and during August and the first Sunday in September, at the Methodist Church, Newtonville. Dr. Marshall will be available for emergency pastoral work during this period.

Golden Eaglets for Newton Girl Scouts

Five Newton Girl Scouts received their Golden Eaglet awards last Monday night at War Memorial Hall. These five girls, Barbara Filbin, Troop 5, West Newton, Ada Merriam, Edith Pratt, Mary Reidy, and Virginia Squiters all of Troop 21, Newton Highlands, have attained a goal of achievement for which they have been striving for five or more years. The award is based not only on actual achievement, but also on length and quality of participation in the movement, and character.

Mrs. Theron B. Walker, newly elected Commissioner of the Newton Local Council, presided and assisted by Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, former Commissioner, awarded the five Golden Eaglet Awards. Mayor Edwin O. Childs was the speaker of the evening. In congratulating the recipients of the award, he summed up the function of Girl Scouting in the community.

The Color Guard which entered the hall through a side of Troop American flags included Diana Cumner, Ruth Filbin, Grace Nichols, and Betty Egan. Helen Oldfield, State Bugler, opened and closed the meeting. Eleanor Sampson accompanied at the piano.

With these five new awards, Newton now has 80 Golden Eaglet Girl Scouts.

Alderman McCabe Criticises Mayor Childs For His Attitude Toward Police Department

Asserts That Mayor's Deference To Mechanic Cullen Injures Morale of Department

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, Alderman McCabe of Ward 1 read a prepared criticism of Mayor Childs for the alleged favoritism he has been showing to Sergeant Bart Cullen, mechanic of the police department. At previous meetings during the past year references had been made to the condition in the police department to which McCabe referred. The statement made by the Ward 1 alderman is as follows:

"Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen, "In the past week our city has been subjected to a lot of ridicule because of the conduct of some of its paid servants. We of this board are unpaid and properly so, and I think as a whole we resent such unnecessary and disgraceful situations.

"Let me read some of the press comments. (He produced a newspaper clipping and read the story of the police car windows.) "The Sergeant-Mechanic is free to do as he likes with the exception of such supervision as the Mayor is able to give him. He operates independently of the Chief of Police and is answerable only to the Mayor. This I think must be recognized as not a very good situation in any disciplined body.

"Let me quote from the Mayor's speech of Jan. 1, 1936. 'The police department is in charge of a chief of police appointed by the Mayor and responsible through him to the people of the city. While criticism within and without the department has been voiced in recent years, I still claim that the present Chief can be a good one and can handle the department properly if only given the chance and I intend to give him that chance. In the future a patrolman will be a patrolman, sergeant a sergeant, a lieutenant a lieutenant, a captain a captain, and the chief a chief.' End of quote. There is no quarrel here. I am for that one hundred per cent, and I might add that I don't think the present chief has ever done a better job than he is doing right now, and under difficulties that the sergeant-mechanic and his superior make for him.

"Let us go back to the 1935 budget. At that time the police cars were in a disgraceful condition. Then Mayor Weeks asked the Board to give the sergeant-mechanic a helper to help keep the cars in shape. The Board did this and this man is a real mechanic, although it was not intended that he should be.

"In the 1936 budget the cars were not much better if any, than in 1935. In 1937 the cars were kept in better shape, but it must be noted that the helper has done a great deal of the mechanical work and the cars were washed by four men from the Welfare Department.

"In 1936 the Mayor recommended the sergeant-mechanic be made a lieutenant-mechanic. This the Board turned down unanimously. That was creditable action. According to the sergeant-mechanic's letter of Feb. 15, 1937, he purchases all automobile supplies for the Police Department, including radio equipment. His knowledge of radio equipment is little.

"The Board of Aldermen does not know of the automobile purchases because it is handled by the Mayor and the sergeant-mechanic. Take the matter of motorcycles. The sergeant-mechanic bought Indian Scouts. It is a good motorcycle, but Indian Chiefs are better for police work because they can more efficiently carry a side car. It is my understanding there are no side cars for these Indian Scouts. It is dangerous for any motorcycle to operate in rainy weather when the streets are all wet, and the same applies to streets that are snow-covered and ice-covered. The motorcycle without side car is out of the picture unless they are used in spite of the conditions, and then the operator is very likely to land in the hospital. I am informed that the sergeant-mechanic does not ride a motorcycle and that he is not familiar with motorcycle mechanism.

"Take the matter of the Mayor's recommendation for lieutenant-mechanic. If that went through he would be over all our police sergeants who are on the whole a credit to the city.

"Also, in case of a vacancy of captain or chief, as our force stands now, the three lieutenants and all the sergeants would be eligible to take the examination for promotion. This man does not do any police work as we know it. He is home every night, and we have sergeants who have never done any day duty, for example, Sergeant Bannon who, has been, giving us excellent service at night for 27 years. Were this sergeant-mechanic promoted lieutenant, there would then be four lieutenants, and as I understand civil service regulations, if the next lower group contains four or more, only those in that group are permitted to take the examination for captain and chief, and all the sergeants would be out of it.

"In conclusion let me say that my governmental philosophy is very simple. If a thing is right I am for it, if it is wrong, I am very much against it. This situation which I have attempted to show is all wrong, and I am thoroughly against it."

No New Schools This Year

The special committee on new school buildings held a meeting last Thursday night at City Hall. The committee is composed of Aldermen Bowen, McKay and Schipper; School Committee Members Mather, Smith and Mrs. Woods. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss a 10-year program of school construction as recommended by Mayor Childs some months ago. Comptroller of Accounts White was present and submitted figures to show how a $2,000,000 program of school construction can be carried out over a period of 10 years without increasing the city debt by having the expenses of new schools in each year being balanced by the retirement of present school bonds.

The program, as discussed on Thursday night, included proposed new schools at West Newton, Newton, at Auburndale to replace the Williams School, at Newton Centre to replace the Rice School, a new Trade School, an administration building, an addition to the Burr School, and a new junior high school at Waban.

It was proposed to build the much promised and often delayed school to replace the Franklin School at West Newton in 1938. A school, which has been promised for the past 8 years to replace the 83-year old Lincoln School and the 55-year old Eliot School at Newton, was again pushed back further into the future. It may be built in 1939. These two schools were recommended over two years ago by the then School Committee as the most needed, but they were sidetracked for the new school at Oak Hill. When Mayor Childs delivered his inaugural address on January 1, 1936, he said planned new schools at West Newton and Newton should be built without further delay. Some months later the Mayor recommended that another 10-year program of new school construction be studied.

A FOREMOST CITIZEN

The death this week of Charles E. Riley marked the passing of one of Newton's foremost citizens. A resident of this city for many years, he was interested in many community activities. He was a generous giver in the support of the Community chest, the Newton Hospital, the Y. M. C. A., and to numerous other institutions. His benefactions will long be remembered and the example which he set in his long life may well be followed by others who hold their community in high regard.

Next Monday, June 14, is Flag Day. Reverence for the flag is as essential to patriotism as religion is to life.

Vacation days are rapidly approaching. Schools are closing and summer is less than two weeks away. The seashore, mountains and country are calling again. New England offers glorious opportunities for rest and recreation. Happy days are here again.

When is a Republican a Republican? Not when he supports a Democratic candidate for public office, say all good Republicans.

'Tis June, the month of roses—and brides. A rose by any other name would smell as sweet. A bride, no matter what her name, is just as charming.

Commencement Week At Damon Hall School

The art exhibit, vespers service and tea began the closing activities of the year. The baccalaureate exercises were held on Sunday afternoon with the members of the senior class officiating.

The annual outdoor get-together was held Thursday evening at Cedar Hill at Waltham. After the indoor roast and "trial and erroring" through the maze, memories were recalled and songs were sung around the open fire. Friday evening a formal banquet was given to the members of the graduating class by the Junior Class at the Hotel Westminster. Between courses, the History, Prophecy and Class Will were read, and several skits built around activities of the year were put on. The members of the outgoing class installed the officers for next year with a formal ritual.

The class day procession began at 8:30 on Saturday evening and following the planting of the Ivy the academic procession was formed. The Ivy Chair was carried by the members of the Junior Class in summer formal dress, with the members receiving diplomas in white caps and gowns.

Mrs. James Donovan, secretary of the Volunteer Service Bureau of Boston, gave an address on "The Volunteer of Life." The entire numbers were played by a woman trio.

The honors of the year were as follows: Dean's List: Euna McCord of Medford; Pauline Irish of Brookfield; Katharine Whalen of Greenfield; Muriel Trockman of Brookline; Eleanor Baker of Jamaica Plain; and Doris Rosenberg of Newton. Awards: Highest academic standing, Euna McCord of Medford; Most Talented, Pauline Irish of North Brookfield; Outstanding executive ability, Katharine Whalen of Greenfield; Thoughtfulness for others, Muriel Trockman of Brookline; Leadership, Doris Rosenberg of Newton; Outstanding work in Journalism, Eleanor Baker of Jamaica Plain; Outstanding work in Design, Josephine Thorne of Jamaica Plain; Outstanding work in the High School Department: English Composition, Virginia Dewey of Newton; History, Bernice Goldberg of Brookline; and French, Ethel Dewey.

Several compositions for the piano interspersed with vocal numbers are to comprise an attractive program. Mrs. Dudley, who has been the contralto soloist at the Second Church, West Newton for thirty years, is a well known teacher of voice and piano with studios at 30 Huntington ave., Boston.

Circus at Newton Centre Playground

The Newton's Centre Woman's Club are bringing the well known "Kay Bros. Circus" to Newton Centre on Thursday, June 17 to play both afternoon and night for the benefit of their philanthropic fund. The many large tents with the Kay Bros. Circus will be erected on the Newton Centre Playgrounds and a three-day circus performance up to the established high standard of the Kay Bros. will be offered at two in the afternoon and eight at night.

Kay Bros. Circus has many new innovations and unusual acts to offer the public this season. Art Mix, famous Western scene star and Hollywood stunt man appears at each performance with his congress of cowboys, Indians, rodeo prize winners and some picked players from his studio cast. The balance of the vast array of acts have been gleaned from around the globe as well as the premier acts from America. Australia sends the famous Greases in their astounding acrobatic and teter board displays. Japan contributes the Kitchie Troupe of tumblers and aerial artists, India is the birthplace of "Teddy" world's largest performing elephant, other riding and thrilling acts come from Germany, England and even war-ridden Spain. All vie with each other in their dangerous tasks of furnishing something new and startling for circus audiences. Of course the humorous side should not be forgotten and the vast army of clowns headed by "Beano" circus-land's funniest mule are so dizzy in their doings that they might rightly hail from Coo-coo land.

Moore Hardware Anniversary on July 1st

"Come July and we will be celebrating our first anniversary as a corporation." That was the very pleasing declaration made by Walter Moore, who, as owner-manager of Moore and Moore, Inc., last July 1st, signed the papers incorporating this well known Newton Corner hardware store, assuming its full responsibilities.

"We've been making some nice records," he remarked, "every month, except last February, showing extremely fine gains over previous corresponding periods. With snow not putting in its usual appearance, all demand for snow equipment simply stopped, and February as a winter month just was not in our business calendar. The other months, some showing increases of as much as fifty per cent, more than made up for any unrealized February expectation, however, and the business shows steady, substantial increase."

"You know," Walt went on, "I believe our customers consider us an old, established house. In fact we are not far right now from being in the quarter century class. We've served many families round here since the business started back in 1919. Many probably remember our small store on Hall st. Three years later, in 1922, we took over more space clear through to Center St. That was a big move for us then, but in 1924 we secured practically the entire place we're now in, fronting on three streets, and with over three times the original capacity."

No outside capital was necessary, Mr. Moore says, when his corporation was formed a year ago, and his organization was operating so well that there was no need for a partner to help run things.

"When development sets in so markedly, and when such fine records are made, they indicate a public appreciation which just impel me to go still further in affording larger, better facilities. This spring our entire floor plan and method of presenting our wares was changed. For instance, the setting up of a Radio Room with specialized operator in charge, made the inside of the store seem entirely new, roomier, brighter. To this, and other similar improvements is attributed most of the present business gain."

"I just have to apologize for this little human streak," Walt said, with that whimsical head twist which many of his friends know so well, "but I do have a lot of personal pride when I learn that Newton families, yes, even those in Watertown, Brookline and Wellesley, regardless of their trouble call Moore and Moore."

"While I desire to build a fine reputation I realize that it is not what is done last year or this month that counts, but all the little things in the aggregate, that help our patrons to find satisfaction in doing business with us. Our goal is to make the business road which we are traveling is to be always favorably known for the quality lines which we handle and the pleasing service given and now at anniversary time we pass another milestone confidently headed in that direction."

As hardware dealers, Moore and Moore, Inc., was originally started by Harold and Walter Moore as a partnership in 1919. The present business is located in the heart of the trading center at Newton Corner, opposite the bank, theatre and other prominent business locations. Their merchandise includes a great variety of household hardware, paints, kitchen goods, automobile supplies, sporting goods, electrical supplies, radios, major electric appliances, and they are completely equipped to take care of all household needs.

"Prince and the Pauper" Heads Bill at Capitol, Allston

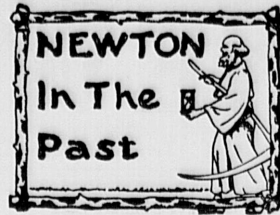

History, romance and adventure are combined in the film version of Mark Twain's immortal "Prince and the Pauper" which opens as the feature attraction at the Capitol Theatre in Allston, starting Friday, June 11th. The March twins, Billy and Bobby, have solved the difficulties of the stage and silent film version in having the title roles played by one actor. These twelve-year old twins are identical with Bobby playing the part of the young Prince, Edward, heir to the throne of King Henry VIII, and Bill the role of the pauper. The color and drama in which the pauper is almost crowned King of England provide one of the most dramatic scenes of recent years. Errol Flynn, Claude Rains and Barton McLane head a strong supporting cast. The co-feature will be "Mountain Justice," a picture which is not alone a sociological document but one with a tender romance starring Josephine Hutchinson and George Brent.

Junior Mothers' Rest Club

The Junior Mothers' Rest Club of Newton Centre held its annual meeting and picnic at the summer house of Mrs. Arthur P. Badger at Cohasset. After the annual reports were read and accepted the following officers were elected for two years: President, Mrs. George W. Pratt; recording secretary, Mrs. Willis E. Pattison. The vice president, Mrs. Carl H. Cummings; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles E. Bailey; treasurer, Mrs. Tressler W. Callahan continue in office for next year.

REAL ESTATE

At a meeting of the directors of the Brighton & Newton Railroad Company held at the office of Hon. Edward Appleton, 11 Pemberton Square, Boston on the 14th inst. it was voted that Dr. Mason of Brighton and J. D. Towle of Newton be a committee to ascertain upon what terms the land for the roadway can be obtained, and to open offices in the village of Brighton and at No. 33 Studio Building, Boston for the purpose of receiving subscriptions for stock in said railroad, and to give such information to friends of the road as may be in their possession.

This road has been surveyed from a point connecting with the Boston & Albany road at Brighton, passing through the center of Brighton, onward by Strong's nursery on Kenrick street at the Brighton-Newton line, through the central part of Newton, connecting with the Albany road again near the Needham line, a distance of about 10 miles. Arrangements have already been made with the Boston & Albany to furnish rolling stock, and operate the road on favorable terms. The proposed road will shorten the distance between Boston and Wellesley about one mile, and will open up to building purposes a large and valuable tract of territory. (This railroad was never built.—Ed.)

Our streets are very dusty.

The second annual games of the Newton Caledonian Club will be held Tuesday at Fresh Pond Grove, Cambridge. The prizes will total between $200 and $300. Horse cars every half hour. Music by the Water-band and A. and J. Murray, pipers of the club.

The new Catholic church, the foundations of which are being laid at the corner of Washington and Adams sts., Newton, will be an elegant affair. The dimensions will be 70 by 160 feet, the construction of brick, and the cost $60,000. Mr. Mague of West Newton has the contract to build the foundation.

There was an impromptu display of fireworks on the 17th of June at Newton Centre. Mr. F. A. Brown is agent for the naphtha-burning lamps, and had changed a few of the street lamps in order to show the advantage of naphtha over kerosene oil. Jeremiah Johnson, superintendent of streets, sent to Boston for a barrel of kerosene. At the same time Mr. Brown sent for a barrel of naphtha. Mr. Johnson knew nothing of Mr. Brown's order, and when the barrel of naphtha came, Mr. Johnson took it in charge, and his man drew the liquid from it and filled the lamps as usual, supposing it was kerosene. In so doing he lighted them a series of explosions was heard, and 15 of the lamps and their shades were badly shattered. Fortunately no one was injured.

The Nonantum Cycle Club has arranged for an all-day run to Wayland on June 17th, and the program includes dinner at the Pequot House. On July 2nd there will be a run to South Natick, leaving Newtonville at 3:30 and having supper at Bailey's.

There are 986 persons in Newton over 10 years of age who can neither read nor write. In the whole State the number is 121,572.

Some 15 Newtonville young ladies had a very jolly hayride on Tuesday evening. They procured the teams from J. T. Hill's stables and after driving about this city visited Waltham.

The annual picnic of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held at Leland's Grove, Farm Pond, Sherborn next Thursday. The trip will be made in barges and a stop will be made at Natick to visit the Indian Museum and natural history room. On the return trip a stop will be made at Hunnewell's in Wellesley to view the rhododendrons.

The Newton City Band will give a concert next Wednesday evening on the vacant lot at the rear of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church. It is proposed by Newtonville people to buy this land, and after laying it out as a park, present it to the city. The band has made remarkable progress and deserves to be encouraged. Newton Centre has already set a worthy example by engaging the band for afternoon and evening concerts on July 4th.

Powers' Paragraphs

Shortly before 1 a. m. last Thursday morning we were disturbed by a noise which we thought was produced by someone blowing an automobile horn. The noise continued at irregular intervals and we gave a reverse blessing to the autolst we supposed was awakening our neighborhood. About 15 minutes later the racket started again. This time we wondered if it could be the police signal located on a pole in front of Woolworth's store at Newton Corner. The following day we learned that the infernal racket had been produced by a new contraption installed as a fire alarm signal at Waltham. It is called a "diaphone" and had amplifiers pointed North, East, South and West. We were getting the sound waves sent out by the East amplifier, across the city of Waltham because the big bull horn which for years had served as the fire alarm signal there, has been less loud since it has been blown by compressed air instead of steam. Waltham in past years has had about as many false alarms as any place in Massachusetts. When it ceases using small town methods of sounding noisy fire alarms, the number of false alarms in the Watch City will decrease.

The future of the Democratic party in Massachusetts would be rather dubious if the "Young Democrats," who conducted themselves so decorously at their annual convention in Cambridge last Saturday, become an important factor.

Some members of the barbers' union in Boston are demanding that 75c be charged for a hair-cut. Hundreds of thousands of men who are bald, or nearly so, believe they are now paying too much for having their quite sparse thatches trimmed. If the barbers double the present price for a haircut, a large percentage of the bald-headed clan will not hesitate to patronize "cut-price" barbers. Possibly, if the barbers assume the title of "Doctor," they might awe some into paying much more for a tonsorial operation. There is a wonderful opportunity for some inventive genius to perfect a clipper which will enable one to cut one's own hair, as Mr. Gillette's razor enabled self-shaving.

Frequently we read that some person has been rushed a long distance to a Boston hospital in an automobile traveling at tremendous speed and escorted by State troopers and police of cities. One such instance occurred Sunday when a woman suffering from appendicitis was rushed 30 miles from Franklin to Boston in 40 minutes; from the Dedham line to Boston City Hospital in 7 minutes. The lives of hundreds of persons, both in automobiles and afoot, are endangered by such grandstand performances. If, and when the U. S. A., including Massachusetts, becomes more civilized, such reckless stupidity will cease.

The sudden death on Sunday of Gobinet N. Hurley of 32 Hagen rd., Newton Centre, removed from this life a woman of exceptionally fine character, and one who was largely responsible for the planning and development of the splendid civic center at Oak Hill Village; a development which in future years will be one of the most attractive areas in this city. It is to be regretted that Miss Hurley did not live to see the playground and civic center at Oak Hill developed and beautified as she had visualized it.

The problem of remaining presentable despite sweltering weather concerns many of us. Personally, study of the subject has availed me little. Sometimes I have thought the less attention given one's appearance the better. That, however, has not lowered the temperature. Furthermore, I believe discussion to be fatal. Do not allow yourself to be drawn into an argument as to whether yesterday was hotter. Avoid disputes these warm days. Let cooler heads prevail.

Summer Sanity

The problem of remaining presentable despite sweltering weather concerns many of us. Personally, study of the subject has availed me little. Sometimes I have thought the less attention given one's appearance the better. That, however, has not lowered the temperature. Furthermore, I believe discussion to be fatal. Do not allow yourself to be drawn into an argument as to whether yesterday was hotter. Avoid disputes these warm days. Let cooler heads prevail.

Facts of Life

Somehow I have never been able to discover who originated that nicely of post-repeat speech that gives to the establishment where bottled liquor is sold the name of "package store." Certainly it has nothing to do with the slang of bygone days whereby an inebriated man was said to be "carrying quite a package." That, nowadays, would not be the right kind of advertising. Rather I think that the idea is a bit of excessive elegance which, in my yearning for the plainer and simpler things of life, I cannot reconcile. To me there is nothing in the contents of the packages on sale that warrants such delicacy, such euphony or such condescension. My practical view of this sort of world has all along convinced me that, wholesale or retail, booze is booze.

So Many Do It
Cutting across a stretch of beauti-

Last year in this column we published the suggestion that the new playground at Oak Hill be named "Hurley Playground" as a tribute to Frank and Daniel Hurley, the largest donors of the land for this community centre; they gave 19 acres. For over a half century the Hurley brothers conducted a farm adjoining Boylston and Parker sts. at Oak Hill, and earned a fine reputation for industry and integrity. James Kingman of the Newton Planning Board also urged Mayor Childs to give deserved recognition to the Hurley family, and Herbert Kellaway of the Planning Board strongly favors it.

The death of Gobinet Hurley causes requests to be made again that she and members of her family receive just recognition for their contributions to the community in which they toiled for so many years, and where future generations will benefit because of their public spirit. Mayor Childs' action on this matter will be awaited with interest.

We have been informed that the reason the city has not removed the old residence of Elizabeth Speare at the corner of Walnut Park and Washington st. is — that certain details pertaining to the settlement of the estate have to be attended to. But this does not justify the failure of the city to cut the grass and trim the shrubs at this property which Miss Speare donated for a small park, and which the city accepted. Miss Speare wanted the property to be a "green spot." It is now an eyesore.

Our old friend William F. Woodman died on June 3rd at his home in Norwell. For 50 years he was one of the best known citizens of Newton Centre, where he conducted the newspaper agency, Genial and sympathetic. Mr. Woodman performed many kind deeds in his long life.

Some day, we hope, the people of this State will display sufficient common sense to rectify or modify laws which are so flexible, or have so many loopholes, that nuisances are permitted under them. One such instance is the continued use on Sundays of the area at Pine Island, at the Newton-Waltham line for trap-shooting by the Waltham Gun Club. Residents of Auburndale and West Newton must listen for hours on the Sabbath to the incessant discharge of guns as skeet addicts fire at targets. The noise can plainly be heard, when the wind is in that direction, at the Newton Hospital at Lower Falls. A few years ago this matter was taken to court, but, the protestors lost out at Cambridge in one of those strange decisions which cause many of us to be sceptical of modern justice. Last Sunday complaints were made regarding the noise of the shooting at the gun club. The objectors were informed that the Sunday sports law legalizes the racket. Many cities in this country have outlawed unnecessary noise. People of this State should organize to isolate skeet clubs to remote distances from thickly settled communities.

We may be wrong, but, in our opinion the State Police displayed as much misguided energy in the slaughter of the insane man at Millbury as they did a couple of years ago when they made that spectacular invasion of Rockport homes in vain hunt for a murderer. If the State Police performed more duty in patrolling State highways to save lives from reckless drivers, instead of such "show-off" activities as we refer to, more citizens would believe that the expense of this battalion of 300 troopers is warranted.

Incidentally, we believe Commissioner Paul Kirk, a young man of ability and character, is trying to keep his department well disciplined, and that professional or amateur police chiefs in this State should mind their own business, and not attempt to interfere in the present trouble within the State Police Department.

ful lawn seems to fill a great many people with something that to me is indescribable but which to them, I suppose, is satisfaction. The ease with which they do it shows indifference to the property rights of others. There are in our State attractive city many luxurious grass carpets, publicly, semi-publicly and privately owned. Over them tramp men, women and children heedless of the damage they are doing and the ruin they leave. It is almost too much to expect police or others to keep constant watch for offenders as there are so many. Possibly the destructive throngs agree with that great intellect who would have us believe that respect for private ownership is outmoded.

Anxious for Opportunity
My friend who enjoys criticism of the Massachusetts Legislature, and all deliberative bodies for that matter, was not satisfied when I told him about the 1938 constitutional amendment referendum. I stated that he would have his chance to vote for biennials. He shrugged his shoulders, and asked, "Can't I make it triennials?"

Closed for Repairs
Suspension of this column is one of those mid-June practices that cannot be ignored. Our shutters go up this day to remain until Fall. Not that I have joined the C. I. O. (Completely Ignoring Others) nor have I agreed to plough under, limit production or mend my ways. Nothing like that. It's summer—that's all.

Kiwanis Club

The Wellesley Kiwanis Club joined with the Newton Club in a joint meeting on Tuesday, June 8, 1937, at the Charles River Country Club. Presidents Harold Rand of the Roslindale-West Roxbury Club and Clarence Holman of the Wellesley Club both had a few words of greeting for the Newton Club.

Edward M. Rowe, Attorney, and instructor at Harvard College, gave a fine presentation of facts relating to the present situation of the judicial system in our country and, in particular, our own commonwealth.

He explained the need of more judges in our courts by pointing out the tremendous increase in motor vehicles and the resultant increase in motor vehicle accidents many of which are dependent on the courts for final disposition. In some cases it is as much as four to five years after the filing of a case before it reaches a trial by jury. In the meantime witnesses are often dead or missing, testimony is made hazy and an unsatisfactory condition is thereby created.

An increase in the number of justices of the superior court from the present sixteen to a possible twenty-six or thirty would greatly speed up the settlement of these cases in the opinion of Mr. Rowe.

Music for the day was furnished by Miss Joy Wingett, violin soloist, a student at the Newton High School. Miss Wingett was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather.

President Bill White of the Newton Club told the members, Tom Burns has improved considerably and will soon be back at the Club. Ed. Hickey is recovering from a serious operation at the Newton Hospital and past president George White is receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

Playground Dept. Makes Annual Appeal For Materials

No citizen of Newton needs to be told that our playgrounds rank among the finest in the country but many of us may not know that our children have a reputation for making excellent handicraft from discarded materials.

Every year a plea is made asking housewives to save odds and ends gathered during the year, empty spools, stockings, ribbons, tape, pieces of silk or cloth, paper dolls, Christmas cards, envelope linings, embroidery materials, wool or articles suitable for prizes. The answer to this plea is always generous and the materials aid in keeping five hundred young children busy and happy during the summer season. If you have a donation the playground truck will call for it at your home by appointment if you call the Playground Department, Centre Newton 4700.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

Christian Science: The Way of Scientific Progress

by

MISS MARGARET MORRISON, C.S.

of Chicago, Illinois

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church,
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

An authorized lecture on Christian Science was delivered by Miss Margaret Morrison of Chicago, Illinois, in the edifice of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, on Friday evening, June 4. Mr. Raymond Wilson, First Reader of that church, introduced Miss Morrison, saying:—

Friends, this church cordially welcomes you here tonight.

Our speaker this evening is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Massachusetts.

In her lecture "Christian Science: The Way of Scientific Progress" she will show that Christian Science is the law of God, and is demonstrable as the true way, in our everyday life.

It gives me great pleasure to introduce to you Miss Margaret Morrison of Chicago, Illinois.

Progress—A Law of God

Progress is a law of God. This is why there is in the heart of every human being a desire for improvement, for progress into better things, better living, greater freedom, joy, and security. This desire may seem to express itself in strange ways, at times in ungodlike ways, for to the unsatisfied mortal mind evil may sometimes appear to be good. This desire for better things may be shown by the planting of a flower in a can at the window of a tenement, in the mistaken ambition of a business man to control world markets, or the urge of a material scientist to understand and master the laws and elements of nature. But, underneath and encompassing all is God's irresistible law of infinite progress drawing us to Him, eternally unfolding to us higher, fairer views of His power and goodness, and revealing to us our relationship to Him, the only creator of the universe. This unfolding of good must continue throughout eternity for each individual; and today, as of old, in that urge for better ways, we may hear His voice saying, "Yes, I have loved thee with an everlasting love; therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee."

The Basis of True Progress

Jesus of Nazareth was the most scientific and progressive man ever known, and he gave the basis of all true progress during that memorable interview with Nicodemus when he said, "Ye must be born again." Nicodemus, an honest though timid investigator of thought, went, you remember, by night to question Jesus about those miracles which, he said, "no man can do . . . except God be with him." Jesus' reply, "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God," brought from Nicodemus the astonished query, "How can a man be born when he is old?" The answer of Jesus is as pertinent today as it was for Nicodemus in that far-off time: "Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit." Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again." This statement, "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit," shows clearly the basis of Jesus' thinking and acting. He never attempted to mix Spirit and matter, never for one instant thought or acted from the premise that he was a creature, never stooped to the superstition of two powers, one good and one evil. This simplicity of his teaching is based on the first commandment: "Thou shalt have no other gods before me." He knew this "me" to be Spirit, divine Mind, and he knew this one Mind to be infinite.

No reasoning, no so-called science, which is based on the premise of two first causes, can be either reasonable or scientific. That kind of reasoning must result in the same confusion and disaster as would follow in the realm of mathematics were one to believe that two times two is both four and six and attempt to calculate from that basis. That only can truly be called Science which is based on and emanates from one changeless, perfect Principle, supreme intelligence, even that one God who made all that was made and saw that it was good. Jesus knew one power only and demonstrated it. He knew one substance only and demonstrated it. He knew one Life only and demonstrated it. He knew that power, that substance, that Life to be Spirit, altogether good, self-existent Truth, Life, and Love.

Material Beliefs Must Be Reversed

The way of true scientific progress, as taught by Christ Jesus, is the way of spiritual enlightenment, a way of instruction, the correction of false material beliefs with spiritual facts. To apprehend a divine fact and allow it to govern our thinking and living in place of its opposite false belief, is true progress. The Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 129), says that if we wish to know the spiritual fact, we "can discover it by reversing the material false, be the false pro or con—be it in accord with [our] preconceptions or utterly contrary to them." In this scientific process of reversal we discover that poverty is not a fact, disease is not a fact, sin is not a fact, war is not a fact, death is not a fact, but in spiritual reality abundance is a fact, sinlessness and health are facts, peace is a fact, Life is a fact. "The spiritual reality is the scientific fact in all things" (Science and Health, p. 207). This is a very comforting thing to remember when we are told, as we so often are, that we "must face the facts." This demand to face the facts usually means something most disagreeable and, at times, most terrifying. One may, for example, be called upon to face what materia medica has pronounced the fact of an incurable disease. What is the spiritual reality in such a case; the scientific fact to which we turn our thinking, and which we face with confidence and trust? Even this: in divine Science the health of man is an established, inviolate fact, a pure state of spiritual being. That fact cannot be disputed, displaced, or destroyed by any opposite belief, no matter how desperate that belief may be pronounced by so-called medical laws. Sickness or disease, of whatever name or nature, can no more disturb, or destroy the health of man in God's image and likeness, than can the belief that two times two is ten alter the fact it is four, and though the greater mistake that it is fifty or five hundred might be believed it would still remain unalterably four. The greater, seemingly graver, mistake would not be any more true than the lesser. This truth that man's health is an inviolate fact in the reality of Spirit may be proved by anyone willing to acknowledge the allness of the one perfect Mind and his relationship to that Mind; willing to surrender the belief in a self apart from Mind; willing to let drop the thoughts and qualities of character unlike good, which may seem to have found expression in sickness, suffering, pain, or disease. As we "let this mind be in [us], which was also in Christ Jesus," as we allow the gracious qualities of this Mind to combine the opposite claims of fear, resentment, loneliness, greed, lust, etc., this Mind manifests its own dominion, and it will be found that the healing of mortal mind is the healing of the body.

Universal Peace a Spiritual Fact

This being true personally of the physical body is true universally of the political body. Truth is for the healing of the nations as well as for persons. And today when nations are in a state of misunderstanding and strife with one another, when rumors of war are so rife, must not we as true scientific thinkers stand firmly in the knowledge that the law of divine Mind, the creator and governor of the universe, must be a law of harmony, and the peace of the universe inviolate? This is true because in that infinite Mind which constitutes reality there are no conflicting interests, no warring elements, no hating or discordant ideas, no limited supply—only divinely intelligent, Love-directed ideas supplied by infinite good, governed by omnipotence, held in the immutable bonds of brotherhood. Even in the midst of seeming war itself, still is peace the spiritual fact of the universe. This fact, unbroken and unobeyed will banish war forever from the earth, and mankind will dwell in peace and plenty.

The Fact of Eternity Revealed

One of the most stubborn beliefs to be corrected in the human mind is the belief in time; beginning and an ending, a limitation of life, a past in which to have been born, and a future in which to grow old and die. True progress obliterates this false belief and reveals the spiritual reality, or scientific fact of ever-present eternity, that eternity which is not an endless accumulation of years, but an infinite number of days, but a consciousness of the one day—the presence of Mind and its changeless perfect ideas. In this eternal day of spiritual understanding there is no weary weight of time, no burden of a past, or fear of an uncertain and disintegrating future. In this eternal day of spiritual facts we find the faculties of man held intact, never in nor of matter, incapable of impairment by belief of age. In the light of this day that old past, which is a step in progress, is a new meaning. It comes to mean getting on in a knowledge of God, increasing our understanding of good, of the truth of being, and of the way to demonstrate that truth; it means getting on to richer opportunities for greater enlightenment, for greater strength and vitality, for fresher joy, more radiant peace; getting on into a more complete consciousness of at-onement with the source of Life. In the presence of eternity we find that every moment of what is called time is safe in the completion of God's love. There is no uncertain future for him who knows and lives in the ever-present eternity of God's goodness. Neither can there be any regretted, wasted, or irremediable past. In her book "No and Yes" (p. 24) Mrs. Eddy says, "There was never a moment in which evil was real;" never, then, a moment into which evil could inject its claims of sin, sickness, sorrow, or death. There never was nor ever is a moment that is not pure, free from evil, safe in God's law of love, shining in the light of His joy and peace. There never was nor ever is a moment when man is not safe in that life-giving Mind we call God. If materiality is not real now (and it is not), it never has been real. Then there never has been an instant when man and the universe had ceased to be the complete and perfect expression of a complete and perfect God or Principle. Because of the revelation of Christian Science this fact can no longer be hidden or obscured by superstition, mesmerism, or occultism, ancient or modern. Said the wise man of old: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it; . . . That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been; and God requir-eth that which is past."

Eternity is not an everlasting process of perpetuating material beliefs, rather is it an unfolding of that which eternally is. There is no struggle in this unfolding, because it is under the harmonious, irresistible law of Love. So we see that we are not struggling to perpetuate life in matter, but awakening to accept the indestructible life of Spirit. And now is the day of acceptance.

Accepting Spiritual Facts

Thus awakening to and dwelling decisively in the realm of spiritual facts we will no longer find ourselves living idly, discouraged, or discontented in the land of "If": "If I had enough money," "If I had a job," "If my family would behave," and so on.

Science and Health, p. 147.) That, he promised, would come later. He said: "When the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me: . . . When he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; . . . He shall glorify me; for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you." That Mary Baker Eddy was able to discover and give to the world this Comforter, or Science of Christianity, proves that to be spiritually minded is to be scientifically minded. It was her pure spirituality that gave her the humility through which she was able to discern God as changeless, immutable Principle, the Law-giver. It was her Christlike compassion and love for humanity which enabled her to see that Principle as Love, divine Love, impartial and universal. It was her stupendous moral courage which enabled her to brave the opposition and persecution of the carnal mind and give Christian Science to the world. She must be acknowledged as the greatest Scientist of the age, as she has given to the world the exact Science of that knowledge possessed by Jesus, which gave him dominion over all the earth through spiritual law. She has made this knowledge available to all. It comes not through intellectual power, scholastic attainments, abstract calculations, or technical efficiency, all the complexities of mortal mind. Is it not the part of the Comforter to turn us from these complexities and uncertainties to the simplicity and assurance of the Christ; to the pure divinity, goodness, and power of those qualities of Mind which are a law of annihilation to everything unlike themselves, and which enable us to walk comfortably with our God?

Liberation from Limitation

As the light of spiritual understanding pierces more and more the mist of mortal beliefs and superstitions, humanity is finding ways and means in its own realm of belief of overcoming its self-imposed limitations and bondage; the belief of space, for example. And so today we have streamlined trains, high-powered automobiles, and the ever-increasing speed of the aeroplane. Here we see the belief of speed having ascendancy over the belief of space. Does not the belief of space as distance, without traversing space, to be where it was needed for him to be Philip, also, one of the followers of Jesus, gave evidence of his understanding of this spiritual law. The story is told in the Bible, in the book of Acts, that after he had baptized the Ethiopian, on his way from Gaza to Jerusalem, "when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip; that the eunuch saw him no more; . . . but Philip was found in Azotus." This understanding of omnipresence is the only real annihilator of space. In gaining this understanding there is no danger of accidents or disaster.

The inventor of wireless telegraphy and the radio had first to discard his belief in the necessity of wires for the more refined material belief in waves of ether before he could give this "useful wonder" to the world. Jesus, the Christ, because of his understanding that there is only one substance, Spirit, knew that matter in any form is not necessary for either the expression or maintenance of life; and he fed the multitude, walked on the water, and raised the dead. Because of his at-onement with that Mind which is all power, he understood omnipotence, and stilled the tempest with a word of command,—needing no material oil to pour on the troubled waters. — and called forth from the disciples the exclamation, "What manner of man is this! for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him." Because of his at-onement with the Mind that is all wisdom, he understood omniscience and could read the thoughts of men in order to correct and heal them. So he could say to the man whose friends had let him down through the roof, "Thy sins be forgiven thee; . . . take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house," and immediately the man arose and went into his house.

Mrs. Eddy has said in the Christian Science textbook (p. 95), "We welcome the increase of knowledge and the end of error, because even human invention must have its day, and we want that day to be succeeded by Christian Science, by divine reality." So, we see that Christian Science does not teach us to decey or belittle the "many useful wonders" which "thought has brought to light" (Science and Health, p. 268). It teaches gratitude for the liberation they bring and the proper use of them. At the same time it keeps them in their right secondary place and shows how, through a knowledge of the omnipresence and omnipotence of divine law and Love, one may protect oneself from the dangers and disasters that so often seem to attend material progress. It shows us that, while it is necessary, nay, it is imperative, that we "keep up-to-date," that we keep in touch with the unfolding liberation of mortal mind from its own beliefs, it is still more necessary that, in thus keeping "abreast of the times," we do not get out of step with eternity, with those eternal verities that know no time, that wisdom which is "from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy." It teaches us not to stray from that Truth which knows no "variableness, neither shadow of turning," nor from that "[Love] which never faileth." These eternal verities, which change not with changing times, are the safeguards of humanity. We can see that unless spiritual enlightenment keeps pace with human inventions the evil elements in the human mind will use these inventions for their own evil and destructive purposes. So, we may well give heed to that question so often in the thought of mankind today, What have all the discoveries and inventions, the useful wonders, which make for convenience and ease in matter, done for mortal man himself? In gaining dominion over the elements and forces of what he calls nature, has he gained dominion over himself, his own passions and appetites, "getting on" in this subject? Someone commenting on this subject in an editorial of one of the leading dailies of New York City has said that the "triumphs of experimental methods and the success of mathematics have blinded us to the price that had to be paid for apparent progress." "Man was sacrificed."

"Problems about stars and coal-tar were solved as if he did not exist!" (New York Times, September 5, 1934). And Sir Philip Gibbs, an eminent British writer, speaking of the progress of material science says: "I am convinced that we need at least a thousand years to control what knowledge we have and to prevent it from destroying humanity itself. Science has put powers into the hands of men who are still unable to control their own passions though they may wield the thunderbolts of Jove" (England Speaks, p. 130).

Necessity for Spiritual Thinking

Is it not apparent, then, that only through the reflection and cultivation of the qualities of the divine Mind can there be a negation of the evil passions of mortal mind, which seem to find expression in wars, disasters, earthquakes, famine, and so on, all the illusions of the physical senses, to which senses those illusions seem so real? The salvation of the human race from sin, sorrow, poverty, disease, and death will come, not through human inventions, knowledge of so-called physical laws, chemistry, astronomical calculations, or the illusive essence of mortal mind called electricity, nor from more human goodness. It will come through spiritual enlightenment and intelligent obedience to the laws of Spirit. Dominion is won by the displacing of lust with chastity, greed with generosity, blind force with love, self-will with the divine will, superstition with spiritual understanding. It is goodness outshining evil. Then appears to us the clarified vision the great imperative wonder—the spiritual nature of the universe, the infinitude of good, the omnipotence of Mind.

Mrs. Eddy Makes Known the "Unknown"

Today we find the greatest physical scientists admitting more and more that they deal only with mental concepts. For example, we find such men as Steinmetz, who has been called a wizard in his knowledge of electricity, saying that the great power of the future will be found in the realm of Spirit. And, to quote Sir James Jeans again, in an address given in Aberdeen, Scotland, he said: "Knowledge follows knowledge. And even this knowledge is only one of probabilities and not of certainties; it is at best a smeared picture of the clear-cut reality, which we believe to lie beneath." . . . "The electron exists only in our minds. What exists beyond, and where, to put the idea of an electron into our minds, we do not know." Shall we not give all honor to her who was spiritually minded and humble enough to see and make known this "unknown" power and creator as divine Mind? Does not her teaching virtually repeat the words of St. Paul on Mars Hill? "I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious. For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you."

Humility the First Step

How can we as individuals seeking freedom, health, and happiness come into and walk in this way of spiritual unfoldment, scientific progress? We can turn with comfort to the simplicity and tenderness of the truth as revealed through Christian Science. The first step in this way of progress is humility, that true humility which was evidenced in the power possessed by Jesus and voiced by the Preacher of old when he said, "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways own acknowledgment him, and he shall direct thy paths." Humility is that state of thought which has dethroned self-will and enthroned God's will, which aids in bringing every thought into captivity to Christ, Truth; that is, in conformity with Principle, perfect God and perfect man. It is that complete surrender of all belief in a self apart from God—apart from that divine Mind which is altogether good, intelligent, wise, and lovely. It is a vigorous, practical, and courageous claiming of at-onement with that Mind; not in arrogance or the slightest taint of boasting, but in the serenity of security, in gracious service and unselfed rejoicing in all good.

Humility can have no sense either of fear or inferiority, timidity, or servility. With true humility comes the realization that God alone is Life, the source of health, vitality, activity, and capacity. True humility is not afraid to claim man's birthright as an expression of Principle, a child of God. Humility never feels pride of accomplishment. It maintains its purity even through the greatest victory—the most sublime conquest—Witness Jesus' attitude after his resurrection. While he allowed the magnitude of his demonstration over death and the grave to speak for itself, saying unto his disciples, "Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself; handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have;" while he thus taught his disciples and "opened . . . their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures," he never spoke of his great victory with a taint of vainglory or a sense of personal achievement. That attitude never could have attained the victory. He knew the utter unreality, the mythical nature of material existence, and the mighty uninterrupted actuality of spiritual being and identity. So at that meeting with his disciples on the shore of the Galilean sea, with the glory of his ascension before him, he spoke of his loving solicitation for his disciples: "Children, have ye any meat?" "Come and dine," and his compassionate regard for humanity in that tender command to Peter, "Feed my sheep."

This humility it was which enabled Jesus to say, "I and my Father are one," and, "Of mine own self I can do nothing;" it is "the Father [Mind] that dwelleth in me," he does a tale of wonders. It is that humility which claims the promise of Jesus, "Behold I give unto you power . . . over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you." It also enables one to prove that statement of Mrs. Eddy (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 183), "Whatever is possible to God, is possible to man as God's reflection." This humility never fails to give to God [Mind] the glory, honor, power, and dominion due unto His holy name.

Love the Way and the Goal

One of the truest and dearest names for God is Love. The ultimate goal, then, of scientific progress must be to understand and reflect the "Living Beauty" (Retrospection and Introspection, p. 88) and power of that Love which is the Principle of man and eternal Life; that Love which makes of one Mind all the nations that dwell upon the face of the earth; that provides abundantly for all; that ends wars and reveals the omnipresence and omnipotence of its own universal harmony. Perhaps in all the language no word has come to be more misused, misunderstood, or grossly perverted than the word "love." Most frequently it is given the exact opposite of its true meaning. Let us consider it for a few moments and see if we cannot come to know it in its pristine purity and beauty of its true meaning. We can come to see that love is not a thing of the senses, but of Principle; not personal, but universal; not fickle, selfish, and changeable, but selfless, changeless, immutable law. Its primal quality being intelligence, true love is always wise.

One of the most familiar and truest definitions of love is found in the letter of St. Paul to the Corinthians, in which the word "charity" is rightly translated "love."

"Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not [love], I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal."

"And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not [love], I am nothing."

"And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not [love], it profiteth me nothing."

"[Love] suffereth long, and is kind; [love] envieth not; [love] vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up."

"Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh not evil;

"Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth. . . ."

"[Love] never faileth."

We read in the Christian Science textbook (Science and Health, p. 19), "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin and death by the law of Spirit,—the law of divine Love." An important question, then, is: What is this "truer sense of Love"? How does it differ from the finite sense of love, which has been so self-sacrificing in its efforts to aid, and yet has proved so futile and unavailing to save? We may find the answer to this by turning to John, the beloved disciple. In the fourth chapter of his first letter he gives us these great statements as to the true nature of divine Love and its reflection: "God is love;" "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear; because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love." Here, then, is the great difference: there is no fear in love; . . . perfect love casteth out fear."

The personal sense of love sees man as material, believes him capable of sinning, suffering, dying, and being filled with fear for the one loved—often harming where it would bless. Divine Love which knows man as spiritual, not material, casts out fear caused by the belief that life is in and dependent on matter. Is a loved one seemingly ill, unhappy, surrounded by lack or distress? Then our refuge is in this "truer sense of Love" which denies these errors, and imperatively forbids giving them identity as person, place, or thing, and demands that they be displaced by the truth that man is the image and likeness of God, possessing and expressing nothing unlike his creator. The nearer and dearer the loved one seems to be, the greater should be the desire and willingness to free him from the falsities that bind and destroy, and through spiritual understanding to see the good that is his because of his inheritance as a child of God.

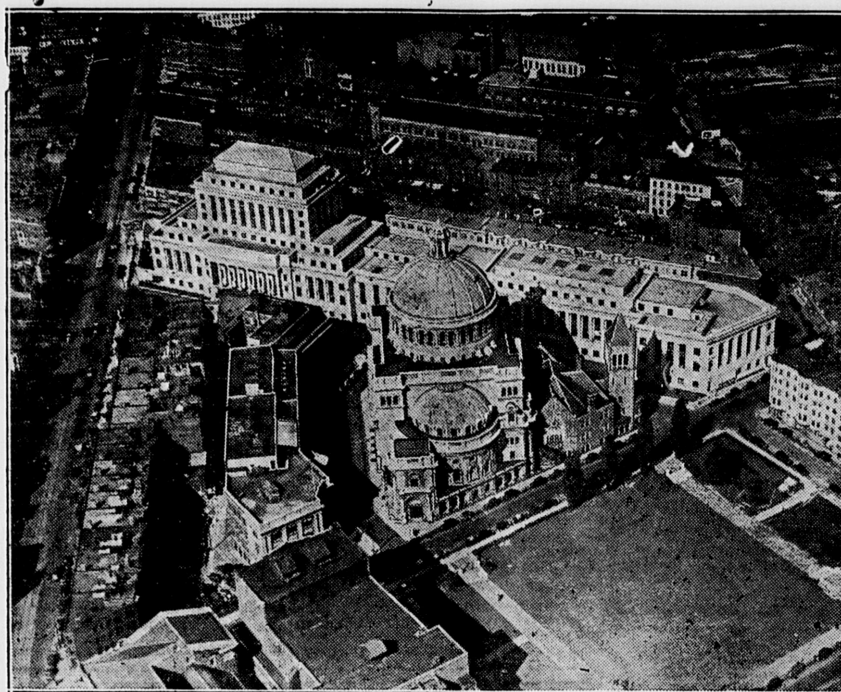

In order to gain a still clearer view of this "truer sense of Love" one should consider the two great commandments of the Master, on which, he said, "hang all the law and the prophets": "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind;" and, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." What does it mean to love God? This question cannot be answered without some definite, intelligent concept of what God is. We cannot love that of which we are ignorant.

In seeking for a more practical knowledge of God it is helpful for one to think of spiritual qualities. Paul names some of these in his letter to the Galatians: "The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance." To these may be added intelligence, purity, honesty, affluence, and health. To love God, then, is to love these expressions or qualities of good. And what can be so precious, so to be desired, so to be sought after, as are these living qualities? Truly, their price is above rubies. "The hands and feet [of them] is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold."

Having learned to perceive these true qualities and love them, one begins to cherish and reflect them, to find them the very substance of his existence. Prayerfully and constantly one learns to protect them from robbers and devastators of personal peace—envy, malice, fear, criticism, sadness, or doubt. So doing, one loves God and his own true selfhood, the reflection of God. Then is one prepared to love his neighbor as himself. This means that one is willing to acknowledge and preserve in his own thinking the unity and oneness of God, by seeing in his neighbor the same reflection of God that he claims for himself. In this way thought becomes not a personal stopping place, but a universal transparency for Truth. Truly to love one's neighbor is to know him as spiritual and not material. Anything less than this is not worthy the name of Love.

Someone may ask, "How can I love that which seems altogether unworthy and unlovable?" That we are not required to do. We are required to see to it that that which seems unworthy and unlovable, and which is, therefore, untrue, does not cloud or interrupt our consciousness and reflection of that which is true and, therefore, worthy and lovable. To love God supremely is to acknowledge His supremacy, and so we are called upon to keep our reflection of Him supreme. Would it not be a distracting world if the sun should stop shining every time its beams were

Charles E. Riley, a prominent citizen of Newton for the past half century, died at his home, 93 Bellevue st., Newton, on June 4. He was born at Burnley, Lancashire, England, 85 years ago, the son of Edward and Ann (Law) Riley. He came to this country in 1879 as representative of Howard & Ballough, textile machinery manufacturers of Accrington, England. He later established at Pawtucket the H. & B. American Machine Company. He was the owner of several cotton mills, a director in others, and long recognized as a leader in the cotton textile industry. During the past three years failing health caused Mr. Riley to relinquish his business activities, but until recently he continued to visit his office in Boston.

Mr. Riley, during his long residence in Newton, took a prominent part in civic affairs and was very generous in contributing to local philanthropies. For 25 years he was president of the Stone Institute and Home for the Aged at Newton Upper Falls. He donated freely to the support of the Newton Hospital and the Newton Y. M. C. A. For over 25 years he had been a vestryman of Grace Episcopal Church, Newton. In 1904 and 1905, Mr. Riley served as Alderman from Ward 1. Among the organizations of which he was a member are the National Assn. of Cotton Manufacturers, Home Market Club, Victorian Club, Exchange Club, Boston Chamber of Commerce and Foreign Policy Association.

Mr. Riley is survived by his widow, Mrs. Agnes A. (Winslow) Riley, and a daughter, Miss Mabel L. Riley. His funeral service was held on Sunday, June 6, at Grace Church, Bishop William Lawrence and Rev. H. E. Smith officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

GABINET N. HURLEY

Miss Gabinet N. Hurley of 32 Hagen rd., Newton Centre, died suddenly of heart failure on Sunday, June 6, at Magnolia, where she was spending the week-end. Miss Hurley was born at Newton Centre 56 years ago, the daughter of John P. and Honora (Sullivan) Hurley. She was a graduate of Newton High School and the Normal Art School in Boston. She taught art at Newton High School and Rochester, Minnesota, and lectured for years on this subject. She is survived by her father, two sisters, Mrs. Catherine Simcock and Mrs. Cecilia Gorman, both of Newton Centre; and a brother, Frank P. Hurley of Woodmere, Long Island, New York. Her funeral service was held on Wednesday at Sacred Heart Church, and burial was at Mt. Benedict Cemetery, West Roxbury.

Miss Hurley was a former president of the Newton Centre Catholic Women's Club. She had taken an active part in civic affairs affecting Oak Hill, and was largely responsible for the planning and realization of the large community centre at Oak Hill, including the school and playground area.

WILLIAM F. WOODMAN

William F. Woodman, for over 50 years engaged in the newspaper business at Newton Centre, died on June 3 at his home in Norwell. He was born in South Boston, 81 years ago, and came to Newton Centre when a young man. His store for over 40 years was located at 1241 Centre st. For many years Mr. Woodman was affiliated with Democratic activities in this city. He had a summer home at Norwell for the past 27 years, and for some time resided there the year round. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Carrie A. Woodman; a daughter, Mrs. Marion Soars, both of Norwell, and a son, H. Leslie Woodman, of Newton Centre. Mr. Woodman's funeral service was held on Saturday afternoon at Norwell. Burial was in Mayflower Cemetery, Duxbury.

JOHN G. TEEVENS

John G. Teevens of 1388 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, died on June 7. He was prominent in track athletics while attending Huntington School and Mercerburg Academy. He was a member of the class of 1932 at Notre Dame University and graduated from B. U. School in 1935. His funeral service was held at Sacred Heart Church on Thursday morning and burial was in Old Cavalry Cemetery, Roslindale.

luggage compartment of the year.

Its non-slam doors click lightly, tightly and silently. Its Fram oil cleaner and gas-saving automatic overdrive give it the economy of a lowest priced car. It rides as smoothly and ventilates itself as refreshingly as an air-conditioned Pullman.

See and drive—and price—this magnificent Studebaker coupe today.

THERE's a lot more in this picture than meets the eye, though the eye has plenty to sparkle about in the stunning style of this spirited Buick car.

What you don't see here is the lift that's yours when you touch off the flashing power of Buick's valve-in-head straight-eight engine and go streaming off across the map.

What you don't see is the solid, steady feel of Buick—the firm stability that holds you on the line without weave or sway or wander on straight-aways or on the curves.

What you don't see is the assurance you'll know once you step on Buick's tiptoe brakes and see how surely and safely they make you master of its power.

We can't picture here the security that's yours in a body of steel-fused-to-steel—with floor, roof, side panels, cowl all welded into one stout unit of protective metal.

And only time can tell you how big is your money's worth in Buick—all steel and two yards wide, a big package that's your one best bet of the field when you add the superb action that gives its metals life.

All we can do is show you how a Buick looks—and handsome as this gallant traveler is, remind you that its good looks are literally the least of what it has to offer.

There's still time to make this a summer long to be happily remembered—if you'll go try a Buick now.

Replace Handles on Police Car Windows

Last Saturday Chief of Police Hughes ordered Sergeant Mechanic Bart Cullen to replace the handles on several new cruising cars used by the Newton police department for patrol work. Because some of the policemen had been too rough in opening the windows alongside the rear seat in these cars, Mechanic Cullen removed the handles which lowered the windows, replaced them with old handles, and then sawed off the substituted handles. The patrolmen, unable to open the windows complained that the cars were not properly ventilated since the warm weather set in, and that they suffered from the heat. Chief Hughes stated that the action regarding the removal of the handles, had been taken without authority from him.

Filming of Hilton's "Lost Horizon" at Wellesley

Frank Capra, director, says that he read "Lost Horizon" when it was first published and immediately wanted to do it. He saw in this James Hilton story of adventure in Tibet one of the big stories of the times, which "held a mirror up to the thoughts of every human being," and, in the opinion of this ace director, any big story with a grip on hearts and minds all over the world is something to make first-rate entertainment on the screen.

"Lost Horizon" was made at an expense of over $2,500,000 which is considerable money even for Hollywood. A year was spent on plans, a year more on production and the result is one of the most creditable film achievements in several years, the greatest work to date of its director Frank Capra who was likewise responsible for the prize-winning "It Happened One Night" and the more recent and equally praiseworthy "Mr. Deeds".

The James Hilton story has been adapted with a keen appreciation for the original and, save for the change in two minor characters, the tale remains as written. Robert Conway, the role enacted by Ronald Colman, is its chief figure, a young dynamic, English consul. Kidnapped with a strangely assorted group whom he is rescuing from a Chinese uprising, he is taken to Shangri-La, remotely located lamasery in the fastness of Tibet. It is there revealed to him that he has been chosen as leader of this colony, which, forsaking relations with outside civilization has found an idealistic purpose and a supreme peace to rule their miraculously extended lives.

Each department in the production of "Lost Horizon" has been handled with the utmost skill. In the selection of its imposing cast rare judgment has been shown. Besides Colman in the chief role, there is Jane Wyatt, young, charming and talented, Edward Everett Horton and Thomas Mitchell adding a pleasing and contrasting lightness, Margo, duplicating her work in "Winterset," John Howard, Isabel Jewell, Sam Jaffe and countless others all matching their talent to the greatness of the story. "Lost Horizon" is to be seen at the Wellesley Community Playhouse six days beginning June 14th.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Reports At The Biennial Council
At Tulsa

In her report which was one of those given during the Radio Hour of Tuesday morning, Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, in her Presidents' Address, which reached clubwomen and many radio listeners country-wide, said: "American clubwomen need more than ever before an education which can direct calm living and which teaches the difference between the real and the gloss."

"Last year we looked forward to a more settled program of life," she said. "Have we found it? There seems to be an ever-increasing necessity for education for living."

"We weigh the real values of life, we should turn to the Book of Books and read: 'Seek ye first the kingdom of God.'"

"If the world could realize that each individual is an eternity-living entity, one feels contented with cease and human life would be held more sacred."

"In our present education for living a great problem confronts us and that is the use of leisure time. Not the leisure hours which you and I seldom enjoy because we will it so, but the leisure which is coming to millions through shorter hours of work and earlier retirement age. With this development in our social structure, there is a great challenge which faces education, recreation, and the right use of leisure."

She said the Federation has empowered her as president to approach women's organizations of other countries to join in an educational campaign for recognition of the sanctity of treaty obligations, and to ask them to join in the study of treaties to which the various nations are signatories.

She amused the clubwomen by saying that because the aims of the General Federation are so widespread, the women "must spread themselves as thin as pancakes" in order to cover them all!

Among other reports of Tuesday, the first—closing the morning session—was that of Public Safety, by Mrs. Edward Hammett, chairman of Sheboygan, Wis. She also presented as guest speaker, Mr. Maxwell Halsey, assistant director of Harvard University's Bureau for Street Traffic Research.

A public taught to drive and to walk safely and a standard drivers' license law were advocated for every state by Mrs. Hammett.

"Statistics show that states having such a law have a lower accident rate," she said. "For the last few months we have concentrated upon the legislative phase of the safety program. The next step will be to emphasize the importance of strict enforcement of traffic laws, with the establishment of standard traffic courts."

Maxwell Halsey in pleading for safety in his address, said: "The combination of our highways and our children, which results in a needless toll measured in the unhappy occurrence of death and injury represents a problem which is basically one of maladjustment."

"If the parents are not themselves able to drive and walk safely, then they should be afraid to instruct their children at home and thus teach them their own bad habits. Education should teach people how to live in this motor age."

"The General Federation is in an especially favorable position to produce a marked improvement in the traffic situation, because of the strong inherent interest of many of its members as mothers."

A high point of the Tuesday afternoon session was the Panel Discussion, introduced for the first time at this Council conclave. Miss Alves Long of St. Louis, International Relations chairman; Mrs. William Dick Sporborg, Port Chester, N. Y., Legislation chairman; and Mrs. Jefferson D. Atwood, of Roswell, N. M., chairman of American Citizenship, were participants.

The three chairmen sat on the platform, and discussed the work and problems of their departments.

"The Constitution should not be changed unless this test is applied: Whether the amendment would impair any of the basic principles or change any essential forms of our government," declared Mrs. Atwood, whose subject of discussion was "The American System of Government as It Relates to the Department of American Citizenship."

"Our American government is facing three dangers—the world-wide trend toward centralization in government and dictatorship with its attendant subversive propaganda, disbelief in American principles of government, and, above all, the increasing disregard of law and authority," she said.

"If we ever have dictatorship, it will come through indifference of our people toward affairs of government. I do not believe we are in any immediate danger, but the indifference of many of our citizens is the most discouraging of all our national symptoms. The privileges of franchise and free speech and the right of petition are almost wholly unused by a large proportion."

"Subversive propaganda is the un-American propaganda which would have us substitute communism, fascism, nazism or any other foreignism. Some are becoming serious threats."

"For more than 30 years the General Federation has shown marked interest in civil service and its reform. In the federal government not only has the merit system made no progress in recent years, but ground has been lost. Large numbers of employees have been added to the pay rolls but comparative few have been placed under civil service."

The crusade against the maribanna is the most significant part of the Legislative department's efforts this year, declared Mrs. Sporborg.

"The major frontal attack has been to enlighten the public regarding the increasing sordid traffic in this narcotic drug, and waging a concentrated campaign for uniform state narcotic laws to control it."

"The United States virtually is in a state of civil war with the present conflict between capital and labor. Many of us who formerly were wholeheartedly in sympathy with the struggle of labor against oppression," said Mrs. Sporborg, "are finding that our support for labor wanes as we view its exploitation by certain of its own leaders. Both capital and labor must discipline themselves to be responsible under the law for the common good of both."

Miss Long's topic was "The Government of the United States in Relation to World Peace."

"There are two blessings I think we stand a better chance to get under a democracy than under any other form of government. Those are liberty and justice," she said.

"We fought the great war to make the world safe for democracy. Instead we seem to have made it safe for dictatorships."

"Congress has the power to impose taxes sufficiently heavy to take the profits out of war, but it was shown in the last war that manufacturers simply would not make goods unless assured of what they considered a fair profit."

Social events of Tuesday in the late afternoon and evening included Open House at Mrs. Lawson's Indian Museum, on Sunset Drive, from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock when delegates and clubwomen from the States of Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana and Iowa, were the invited guests entertained.

At 6:30 p. m. Regional Dinners, so-called, were enjoyed, in pleasurable get-togethers. At the Tulsa Hotel, the New England Conference had dinner in the American Room; the South-eastern Council dined in the Art Moderne; and the Upper Mississippi Conference dined in the Topaz Room. At the same time other regional groups were dining at the Hotel Mayo; the South Central Group in the Crystal Ballroom; and the Western Federation in the Junior Ballroom.

Tuesday evening celebrated Junior Night. At 8:15 the Juniors were guests of the General Federation in the Akard Theatre, with Mrs. Lawson, Mrs. Elbert W. Shirk, of Redlands, California, national chairman of Junior Membership; and Mrs. Albert Powers, of Powers, Oregon, vice-chairman, presiding. A very lovely Processional of the Juniors, in their attractive evening gowns followed music by the Tulsa High School Orchestra.

Juniors were represented by States in a speaker who brought greetings. Of the 19 states represented, from California to Massachusetts, and from Vermont to Texas, and New Mexico to the Virginias, Miss Eleanor M. McManus, winner of the State Traveling Scholarship, was spokesman for Massachusetts.

A beautiful Pascent, "Shawls from Many Lands," written and directed by Mrs. J. V. Warren Burgess, of Tulsa, the local chairman on the Council Program committee, gave entertainment. The Junior Ball, a decidedly festive and gay event, followed at the Tulsa Hotel, with three hostesses of local clubwomen facilitating sociability. Special features were Music by the Glee Club of Tulsa University, and talented dancers from the Billy Warren Studios.

Highlights In Speeches, Events
At Swampscott

Not only was Lord Marley's speech of deep interest to the clubwomen of Massachusetts attending the opening sessions of the Annual Meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs at Swampscott, but another speech was a highlight of Monday, May 17th.

Judge Kenneth Johnson of the Quincy district court, received repeated applause for his advocacy of well-directed homes and wise parental guidance in order to prevent juvenile delinquency.

"The parents who no longer teach their children the Ten Commandments, who fail to supervise their lessons, their behavior, are tragically neglectful of the duties that are primarily theirs, duties which they cannot properly delegate to any outside agency. When they do they are definitely on the road leading to State Communism."

"To impress upon parents that they must retain the control and training of their children is indeed one of the most important functions of the court. It is evident that if the home were performing its job adequately, there would be a minimum of social ills and problems."

"Hypocrisy is spotted," he said, "by a youngster sooner and quicker than by any other person. Live your religion in the home even more than you do in church."

He insisted that children should be taught to respect the rights of others and that parents should cooperate with the school authorities.

"When the child comes home with a complaint about the teacher," he advised, "whatever you do be sure you do not make yourself his ally and thereby give him to understand you believe he is right and the teacher is wrong. On the whole it is fairly safe to assume that the teacher is always right, and, at least, it is with that in mind that the parent should approach any such problem when it arises."

Judge Johnson spoke of the dangers of "broken homes" and of bad companions for children; the need to prohibit the gang idea.

"Yes, I am still old-fashioned enough to believe in some application of the strap slipper, or switch," declared Judge Johnson in discussing corporal punishment for children. "The poem of a broad hand impelled with some force and coming in contact with the most expansive area of a boy's or girl's body, is often an adequate means of discipline."

Salient characteristics of a home in which delinquency was the least likely to breed were named by the Judge, and included a clean and permanent home, meals on time, pleasant conversation, careful hygiene for the child, good reading, appreciation of art and music, companionship with parents, the avoidance of quarrels between parents in front of children, display of affection, supervision of movies, the home as a club room for friends, bed at an early hour and the use of the automobile "carefully and sparingly permitted."

There was no business session Monday evening which was devoted entirely to a program of entertainment by Miss Sylvia Thompson who gave dramatic readings, garbed in beautiful costumes, modern and of the style of the middle ages. The musical program was accompanied by our own Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, of Chestnut Hill.

Everyone donned evening gowns and wraps for the entertainment program Monday night and the assembly was, indeed, a brilliant one.

But rivalling all gay affairs was the surprise shower for Grace Morrison Poole, who admitted it was the first and only shower ever given her, and that she was glad her future husband, Dr. Henry Gilbert Reynolds, wasn't there, since he was an unusually "shy man."

There must have been hundreds of presents, beautifully wrapped and tied, on the table at the end of the Ballroom and clubwomen attending were apparently as excited and thrilled over the prospect of such a romantic occasion as Mrs. Poole herself.

It was only after she had sat down for a while to collect herself and recover from her complete amazement, that she was able to answer the cries for "speech."

She expressed the hope that, even though she might be a lady of leisure in the South, married to a busy doctor, she and Dr. Reynolds would be in Swampscott for the Convention next spring.

Clubwomen had been delighted and thrilled to learn of Mrs. Poole's engagement, which was announced over the week-end, and at the opening session on Monday to the assembled delegates.

Mrs. John H. Kimball, president of the State Federation, said that for more than twenty years "the beloved Grace" has worked to help other clubwomen to achieve a useful and happy life and when the announcement was made of her own engagement, she said, "no news could have made us happier."

Mrs. Kimball pointed out that Mrs. Poole became a widow as a young woman being obliged to make a career for herself. She became popular throughout the United States as a lecturer and educator. She served in her own club in Brockton, became its president, and after being president of the Massachusetts State Federation, she achieved the honor of becoming the first Massachusetts woman ever to be president of the National Federation.

Mrs. Poole is now dean of Stoneleigh College at Rye Beach, N. H., which office she will relinquish in June. She is to marry Dr. Henry Gilbert Reynolds of Paducah, Ky. The wedding will take place next fall and the couple will live in Paducah.

Mrs. Poole, who is now in her middle fifties, is the daughter of Mrs. William H. Morrison, of Brockton, and the late Rev. William H. Morrison, a Universalist clergyman.

Dr. Reynolds is an eye, ear, nose, and throat specialist, and is president of the Kentucky State Medical Association. He is a graduate of Washington and Lee College, and was valedictorian of his class. His first wife, the late Mrs. Henry Gilbert Reynolds, was treasurer of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and was an intimate friend of Mrs. Poole.

Clubwomen were so eager to do Mrs. Poole homage, after hearing the news, that they hastened to find suitable gifts, and arranged for a "Bridal Shower" after the evening program—all a complete surprise to their beloved club leader.

Mrs. Poole was invigiled from her room, where she had retired after attending the evening entertainment, on the pretext of refreshments, and was escorted by the State president, Mrs. John H. Kimball, to the Ballroom of the hotel, to find it filled with clubwomen.

That the party was a complete surprise to Mrs. Poole was evidenced by her astonishment. She expressed her sincere thanks to all of those who remembered her, and announced that not one of the presents would be opened until after the wedding next fall, when she and Dr. Reynolds would open one each day to bring her memories of Massachusetts.

Highlights of Tuesday, May 18th, in the sessions of the Annual Meeting of the State Federation at Swampscott were forceful speeches from General Federation officers invited to attend and address the delegates, and by other speakers presented.

The Women's Clubs were warned against entertaining speakers of foreign philosophies at their meetings. Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, of Baltimore, Md., chairman of the General Federation committee on Education, asserted "women's clubs have been a fertile field for propagandists and speakers of foreign philosophies."

She said that communistic propaganda is being disseminated through the schools by means of "textbooks written by radicals with the purpose of breaking down the government," and through radical magazines. Also that the communists consider Massachusetts the fifth state for their activities, with Boston as the headquarters for section 1. She also urged clubwomen to establish public affairs forums to educate the masses in the principles of the United States government.

She stressed the need for crime prevention, saying that there are on an average 700,000 young people engaged in crime annually, at a cost of $15,000,000,000.

Problems of youth she classed as "youth and unemployment; youth in crime, and youth and the isms." She said that it is estimated there are 4,700,000 young people out of work, and with insufficient funds to attend schools. She scored "academic education that does not prepare for industry," and urged clubwomen to "consult the educators of the state and communities, from the grammar school up," in regard to the preparation of young people for trades and professions, and providing character-building studies.

Newton Man Elected Head of Scientists

At Annual Meeting of The Mother Church in Boston

Progress of Christian Science expressed in the organization and recognition of fifty-nine new churches and societies; in sales increases of 66 per cent for the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science; in an increasingly friendly public thought as reflected by legislative bodies when handling measures involving medical and religious work; featured reports today by church officers at the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist.

The election of Judge Clifford P. Smith of Newton, as Church President for the coming year, and of Edward L. Ripley of Brookline as Treasurer, and Ezra W. Palmer of Marshfield as Clerk, was announced. The President is elected by The Christian Science Board of Directors to serve for one year. His duty is to be presiding officer at the Annual Meeting.

Clifford P. Smith, C. S. B., LL.B., became interested in Christian Science at Mason City, Iowa, in 1896, where he practiced law before becoming judge of the District Court of Iowa, the superior court of that state. He had been a member of The Mother Church since 1902, and was one of its Executive Members. He had class instruction from an authorized teacher in 1901, Primary instruction from The Christian Science Board of Education in 1903, and Normal instruction from this Board in 1910.

Judge Smith has been in the service of The Mother Church occasionally since 1905 and continually since 1908. The positions he has held include the following: member of a committee to define and preserve the legal rights of Christian Scientists; First Reader of The Mother Church; Trustee of The Christian Science Publishing Society; President of The Mother Church; member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship; teacher in The Christian Science Board of Education; Manager of Committees on Publication, Editor of The Christian Science Journal, Sentinel, and Herald. Since 1932 he has been Editor of The Mother Church's Bureau of History and Records. He also had the privilege of rendering particular services under the direction of our Leader, Mary Baker Eddy.

Judge Smith declared in his address that "To insure its strength and success, an organized movement requires (1) a good purpose clearly stated, (2) an intelligent plan for achieving this purpose, (3) active co-operation in accordance with the plan by the persons who compose the movement.

"The Christian Science movement has the first of these essentials in our Leader's writings on the nature and purpose of our Church. The second of these essentials (a practical plan conceived in wisdom) we have in our Church Manual. The third essential can be restated for our movement as active and united efforts to communicate, demonstrate, and propagate the Science of Mind-healing. For this essential, the responsibility rests on all Christian Scientists collectively and individually. The obligation to prove by its effects that our religion deserves its name is not limited to listed practitioners; this obligation extends to all who are enrolled as Christian Scientists."

The fact that the Christian Science denomination has 2781 branches was cited and Miss M. Rosamond Wright, Manager of the Department of Branches and Practitioners, reported further for the year, "Good growth in our movement is shown through the organization and recognition of fifty-nine new churches and societies as branches of The Mother Church, and six new university organizations. Twenty-five of these branches are in Europe, thirty in North America, two in Australasia, one in Africa, and one in South America."

The Christian Science Board of Directors, in its message read by the retiring chairman, Mrs. Nelvia E. Ritchie, told Christian Scientists everywhere, "The inspiring reports and testimonies of healing that have come to this Board during the past year give abundant proof of work well done, of progress throughout the movement.

"It is our sacred duty and privilege to uphold righteous government and to know that in reality divine Mind, with its attributes of intelligence, wisdom, justice, and mercy, always guides and controls the avenues and channels through which government is expressed. As we look upon the apparent unrest and fermentation in the affairs of the world today, it is heartening and comforting to know that by obedience to the teachings of our Master we can be conscious of the government of divine Principle, and actually see this government made manifest in human affairs and universal peace established."

William M. Bartlett, Secretary of the Trustees under the Will of Mary Baker Eddy, reported that sales of Mrs. Eddy's writings in 1936 increased 66 per cent over sales in 1935.

Judge Frederick C. Hill, Chairman of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, reported 3216 lectures had been delivered during the year ended April 30. Of these lectures, 53 were given in Africa, 54 in Australasia, seven in Hawaii, China, Japan and Manila, one in the City of Mexico, eight in Bermuda, Canal Zone and West Indies, 242 in Great Britain and Ireland, 129 in Continental Europe and Scandinavia, and 2722 in Canada, the United States and Alaska.

Edward L. Ripley, Church Treasurer, expressed gratitude for the increased individual activity accomplished by members of The Mother

Church and added that "in disbursing the funds so generously contributed for food relief, excellent service was rendered by the Committees on Publication and the various relief workers."

In the report of the Clerk, Ezra W. Palmer, attention was drawn to the international appeal of Christian Science as indicated by the fact that the instructions for filling out Applications for Membership in The Mother Church are now available in 11 languages.

eral Federation, pointed out that the objective of this committee is to reduce the motor vehicle accidents on the streets and highways 35 per cent by 1941. Motor vehicle accidents, she pointed out, are now causing 35,400 accidents annually, and a million injuries to our citizens, also she said the economic loss was about a billion and a half dollars a year. She emphasized the importance of observing State Motor Laws and advocated the program adopted by the Junior clubwomen of the United States who have pledged themselves "never to take a drink before they drive and never to ride with a man who has taken a drink."

directed on an unpleasant or un-savory object? As the Master said, "He maketh the sun to rise on the evil and on the good." So the sun keeps right on shining no matter what it seems to be shining upon. This it does because it knows only its own nature, its own being. Divine Love, in like manner, knows only its own infinitude, its own loveliness, and its uninterrupted reflection is the consciousness of man. It is this uninterrupted consciousness of divine Love we are called upon to preserve in our

Demonstration Of Minute-Savers

The American Home Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club held their Annual Meeting on Wednesday, June 2nd, at the home of Mrs. G. Howard Frost, 200 Fuller street, West Newton. Ice cream, cake, and coffee were served by Mrs. Frost and Mrs. Willard C. Church. The business meeting was called to order by the leader Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield, after which a demonstration was given of "Minute Savers Round the Clock." Mrs. Littlefield conceived this idea from the April issue of "Better Homes and Gardens." The following manufacturing companies contributed articles to the Club, which were sold at the close of the demonstration. The Washburn Company, Rockford, Illinois, Rubberized and Wire Goods, an Androck dish drainer; Royal Lace Paper Works, Brooklyn, New York, lace paper dollies and special edge shelf-paper; Burlington Basket Company, Burlington, Iowa, a Hawkeye clothes-basket; Lincolnwood Manufacturing Company, Chicago, Illinois, lambswool wall-duster with removable handles, hand duster for cleaning Venetian blinds, and rubber brush for cleaning bathtubs; and Knappe and Vogt Manufacturing Company, Grand Rapids, Michigan, K-Venience shoe-rack for clothes closet.

Several members on the waiting list were present as guests of the Club for this party.

The Class voted to have a get-together luncheon at the Colonial Cooking Club, Boston, on October 20th.

WABAN GARDENS OPEN TO PUBLIC

On the afternoon of June 12 the gardens to be open to the public in Waban are those of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Black, 180 Kent rd.; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Forte, 203 Windsor rd.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Meadows, 77 Windsor rd.; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, 196 Kent rd.; and Mr. and Mrs. William D. Harvey of 200 Kent rd. Mrs. Harvey will serve tea from 4 until 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Warren have extended a cordial invitation to all members of the Garden Club to visit their summer home at Brookline, New Hampshire, to see the Mountain Laurel at the height of loveliness.

daily human living — allowing it to shine upon all whom we meet. This Love does not see a sick, sinful, forlorn mortal, but only His own purity, strength, health, and affluence. Love cannot see or know evil any more than the sun can know darkness. There is no handicap in divine Love, the Principle of man's being, and so no hindering handicap has been placed on any of His children. Thus knowing and loving man, one is enabled to see him as possessing all the gifts of God: nobility of character, abundance, ability, activity, beauty, health, and harmony.

This may seem an impossible task, but as progress is made in spiritual understanding it will be seen to be as possible, scientific, and necessary to know the truth about God and man, as it is to know the truth about the multiplication table.

Infinitely tender and gentle is this "truer sense of Love," selfless in its devotion, merciful in its rebuke, universal in its blessings, unflinching in its ministry. It is the Love that "thinketh no evil," and, therefore, "never faileth." It is the Love that heals.

The way of scientific progress is an individual way — a way for you and me — the way of humility and love, the way of the Comforter. If we follow it upright of heart, courageous, willing, and obedient, we shall find the words of the Psalmist true, "Light is sown for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart." In spite of seeming obstacles and difficulties it will be a shining way, a way of substantial pleasures, of triumphant growth, of spiritual ascension and power, of joy unspeakable. It will be the way of salvation for the world.

Still we may hear the tender voice of Truth, saying, "I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee." "This is the way, walk ye in it."

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

INDEPENDENTS HEAD FOR T. C. PLAYOFFS

With four games to go, the Newton Independents are only one point from the three leading teams in the Twin-County baseball race, and are almost certain of making the play-off series next week. They will travel to Chatham Sunday for an extra-league game, then take on Wellesley here Monday, Saxtonville Wednesday away, and Bemis Cardinals at Newtonville Thursday. These three games will finish the regular early season for the Independents, and the championship series will follow immediately.

Jeff Jones' locals won their sixth league victory last Friday by defeating Needham 5-1. Newton High school's Eddie Paul pitched his first Twin-County game and gave the Needham batters only two hits in seven innings. Les Shatzer accounted for three runs when he poled out a home run with two men on base. In the only other league engagement of the week, Bemis Cardinals won by default when the Independents failed to muster a complete team Wednesday night at Newtonville.

The Independents went to the Cape last Sunday to take a 15-9 beating from the Sagamore Club, some of whom Jeff Jones had coached years ago at Sagamore's junior high school. Tucker Rhodes, Les Shatzer and Phil Green, pitching for the Independents, were hit early and often, and so were the Sagamore hurlers. Les Shatzer hit three two-baggers, Herb Berry two, and Phil Green got a triple. Newton rallied in the ninth inning to score five runs, but were even then far short of tying the count.

Newton Highlights

Mrs. Warren Beard of Boston, shooting three consecutive 80's over the testing Plainfield, N. J., Country Club course, this week tied for the women's Eastern golf championship. With a 54-hole total of 240 strokes apparently assuring her the title on Wednesday, Mrs. Beard saw the 1933 champion, Charlotte Glutting of South Orange, N. J., finish with a 78 and an aggregate of 240. Mrs. Beard (Dorothy Hunter) was ladies' champion of Hawaii as a schoolgirl, and won the junior state championship while a student at Newton High School.

Wright and Ditson's Official Lawn Tennis guide has finally come out, and with it the local and national rankings for 1936. Elena Ciccone of Newton Centre was ranked seventh nationally and first sectionally in girls singles, as against her 1935 rating of third national and first in New England. Newtonville's Albert Everts, Jr., appearing in the boys' lists for the last time, is ranked second in New England and eighteenth nationally in singles, and seventh nationally in doubles, having teamed very successfully with Arthur Prochaska of Hartford in the nationals last summer. Robert Decker, former Waban schoolboy, is ranked 28th in junior

"Know New England Contest" Starts In Graphic Next Week. $3000 In Prizes Offered

GRAPHIC Readers Can Win Prizes By Answering Questions Relative to New England History and Geography

Starting next week in this paper a contest open to bona fide residents of the New England states will be run by this paper under the auspices of the New England Press Association. This contest will discover what New Englanders know about the history and geography of their own New England states. Thirty-one cash awards totaling $3,000, with a first prize of $2,000 to the winner and a $500 second prize will be the goal for which many thousands of New Englanders will try. The contest will be a simple one consisting each week of six familiar jumbled names to be unscrambled, one name from each New England state. For a period of ten weeks there will be six jumbled names each week which each contestant will have to solve in order to win the prizes.

The details of the contest itself are relatively simple. Next week in this paper will be printed an advertisement about the contest giving all the rules, together with the first six names to be unscrambled, and an answer form to be cut out, filled in and mailed to the "Know New England" Contest in Boston.

31 Cash Prizes

Be sure to tell your friends about the contest. It is going to be lots of fun, full of thrills, and a chance for anyone to win a prize award. Not only is there a $2,000 first prize and a $500 second prize, but there is also a third prize of $200, a fourth prize of $100, a fifth prize of $50, a sixth prize of $25, and from seven to thirty-one a prize of $5 each. There will also be 120 big merchandise prizes to be awarded by leading national makers of home products. In each state in New England the first twenty winners will receive a big free gift package containing 10 full-size packages of grocery products useful in the home.

Contest Runs 10 Weeks

Make sure that you get your copy of next week's paper so that you can start the contest and carry on for the next ten weeks. Any or all members of a family can enter the contest. The only restriction is that the contest is only open to regular or summer residents of New England with the exception of employees of the New England Press Association or of this newspaper and members of their families, and with further exception of any persons who have previously won $500 or more in any previous newspaper contest.

Here is your big chance to win $2000 and see how much you know about your own New England states.

All names to be used in the contest will be found in the Encyclopedia Britannica, and the spelling of these names will be taken as final from this publication.

The controversy over the continuation of the dental clinic for Newton school children was settled at the last meeting of the Newton Board of Health when it was voted to accede to the requests of Dr. Harold Chope, director of health of this city and provide for a full time dentist and a dental hygienist to extend the scope of free dental treatment for school children. For some years past Dr. John W. Pomfret of Newtonville cared for the teeth of school children, supposedly too poor to have this treatment paid for by their parents. There has been a difference of opinion as to whether or not the city should continue this paternalistic activity to the degree it has in the past. Last May Dr. Pomfret resigned and since then two dentists have been engaged in part time service in this work.

Dr. Chope contends that the work of the clinic should be broadened, and that one or more dental hygienists employed to assist the school dentist and to instruct the children in the care of their teeth.

Miss Mary Noone of River St., West Newton, who has been employed as a clerk at the school dental clinic for several years, is not to continue in this position, according to the new plans. As Miss Noone is a civil service employee, it is supposed she will be transferred to some other department at City Hall.

Newton Police Receive Praise

Chief Michael Hughes of the Newton police has received a communication from the Oak Hill Improvement Association expressing appreciation for the improved policing of the Worcester turnpike in the effort to curb excessive speeding on that highway. He also received favorable criticism for the Newton police from a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen, whose car was tagged for an infraction of the parking rules. This Alderman praised the courteous treatment he received at police headquarters.

Auto Hits Tree, Youth Killed

Robert Conlon, 15, only child of Peter and Alice (Murphy) Conlon of 82 Athelstone rd., Newton Centre, was fatally injured about 9 o'clock Tuesday night when the "Good Humor" ice cream truck, in which he was a passenger, went off the road at Brookline st., Oak Hill and hit a tree. The boy, hurtled into the windshield of the truck received a fractured skull, a severe gash on his neck, and a broken collarbone. He died at the Newton Hospital at 2:50 Wednesday morning. Edward Colligan, 23, of East Weymouth, driver of the truck, received a severe gash on his right arm. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday and charged with reckless driving. A hearing will be held on July 1. The truck was proceeding along Brookline st., and failed to make a curve near Oak Hill rd.

The boy had been a student at St. John's Prep School in Danvers, last November he became ill with typhoid fever and was sick for 11 weeks. He went to Florida with his mother when he was convalescing. His funeral will be held at Sacred Heart Church on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

WPA Workers Lose Jobs

Up to the first of this week 65 persons on the list of WPA workers in Newton have been ordered discharged. Of this number about 60 were men working on manual labor projects. The remainder were so called "white-collar" employees. It is expected that many of those dropped will have to obtain relief from the Newton Welfare Department.

Police Marksmen Awarded Medals

Patrolmen Dave Dalton and John McGrath, crack revolver shots of the Newton police department, were presented with medals by Paul Kirk, State Commissioner of Public Safety, at Commonwealth Pier on Monday. Both were highest scorers in their classes at recent competitions held by the New England Police Revolver League. Last year they also won medals.

Newton High School Holds Its 77th Annual Graduation Exercises At Dickinson Memorial; 3000 Relatives, Friends of Graduates Attend

Graduating Class Presents Loud Speaking System as Class Gift—Members of Class of 1887 Are Honored Guests—Edward P. Wallace Wins Meserve Fund Scholarship

The 77th graduation exercises of Newton High School were held on last Saturday evening at Dickinson Memorial Stadium, Newtonville. The weather was ideal and about 3000 relatives and friends of the graduates were in attendance. At 7 o'clock the long procession of members of the class of 1937 marched out of the school gymnasium and across the athletic field to the centre section of the stadium. The procession was led by Mayor Childs and Acting Principal of the school, Raymond A. Green, and the high school band provided the musical tempo for the marchers.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, pastor of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville. Richard M. Whitney, president of the Class of 1937 then presented the class gift to the school. The gift, a microphone and amplifying system was accepted by Principal Green. He said the class by giving the gift showed its appreciation for the advantages they have received from the schools of this city.

Edward P. Wallace of 108 Garland rd., Newton Centre, was awarded the Meserve Fund Scholarship, given annually to the boy whose character has been outstanding. DO YOU KNOW NEW ENGLAND?

How well do you know New England. Readers of the Graphic will have an opportunity to capitalize upon their knowledge of this beautiful and interesting section of the country during the next ten weeks by competing for prizes offered in the "Know New England Contest" to start in our next issue. In co-operation with other weekly newspapers in the six New England states we are able to offer this opportunity to share in the distribution of valuable prizes. It should be a pleasant diversion for some of the leisure summer hours. The rules are few and simple—plan now to start next week.

A SPORTS REVIEW

Although Newton is not generally regarded as an outstanding athletic centre there are many young men who achieve outstanding success in various sport endeavors. Our young athletes graduate from high school and participate in college sports. We feel that our readers are considerably interested in the success they have achieved in their chosen athletic endeavor and we present this week the first of a series of local sport cartoons. The cartoons are drawn by a local youth who has that uncommon ability to portray by pen and ink the characteristic expression of his subject. We are sure that they will meet with popular approval and that our readers will look for them each week with great interest.

LOST BOOKS—PARENTAL COOPERATION

Many are the problems of administration which are attendant upon the closing of schools for the year. Many are the teachers who find it impossible to account for library books, school books and magazines which are expected to be returned before the end of the term. Every year some are missing, not a few of which other pupils have to pay for because they cannot be found. Here is a situation in which parental interest and co-operation can well save the expenditure of a few dollars, as in the final analysis it is the parent who pays the bill.

Father is generally accepted as a necessary factor in the life of the normal American family. He brings home the bacon and generally carries the financial burdens. Sons and daughters will have an opportunity to show their appreciation of his presence and influence on Sunday, June 20—Father's Day.

Powers' Paragraphs

The annual torture season for sick persons, invalids and elderly people with frayed nerves is on. A Newton woman, who resides near the Oak Sq. (Brighton) line, informed us last week that boys in her neighborhood were exploding firecrackers. As there will always be incompetent and inconsiderate parents who do not train their children to respect the rights of others, there should be concerted action to pass legislation which will prevent the sale of firecrackers, caps, or similar noise-making devices in Boston or any other city in this state only on a few days preceding July 4th.

On the night of May 6, 1935, over two years ago, one of the most fiendish murders in the history of Massachusetts was perpetrated in the town of Hudson. Frank DiStasio, 52, and his son, Anthony DiStasio, 22, both of Revere, lured an elderly man, a stranger to them, into an old automobile driven by the elder DiStasio. This man, a laborer, named Daniel Crowley, was picked up by Frank DiStasio on Green st., Boston, driven to a

WARREN HUSTON
NEWTON'S
GREATEST ALL
ROUND ATHLETE
SINCE
GEORGE OWEN

Warren Huston was graduated Sunday from Springfield College, and arrived in Philadelphia Monday afternoon for a tryout with Connie Mack's Athletics of the American League. He has looked forward to a career in professional baseball for several years, having had a successful tryout with the St. Louis Cardinals while he was still at Newton High. Last summer he played shortstop for the Tarboro, North Carolina, club.

Huston was Newton High's last four sport athlete, and used to top off Friday afternoon game of Suburban League basketball with a Saturday of Greater Boston hockey. In his senior year, 1932-3, he was captain and mainstay of the football, basketball, hockey and baseball teams at high school, and was placed on nearly every honorary and all-scholastic team that year.

Next to baseball, hockey is Warren

Huston's favorite game. He has played little since he left high school, but organized Springfield's first team in football for a tryout with Connie Mack's Athletics of the American League. He has looked forward to a career in professional baseball for several years, having had a successful tryout with the St. Louis Cardinals while he was still at Newton High. Last summer he played shortstop for the Tarboro, North Carolina, club.

Huston will be 23 years old in October. He stands 5 ft. 11 in. tall and weighs 170 lbs. He bats and throws right-handed, and had his best hitting season this year, playing every game and batting around .280.

Bicyclist Dies
After Hitting Car

Maurice L. Chase, 44, of 253 Weston rd., Wellesley, was fatally injured last Thursday evening at 5:40 when the bicycle he was riding collided with a car driven by Harry Buchanan of Arlington on Washington st., near Allen pl., West Newton. According to witnesses, Chase was following a truck; the truck slowed down, Chase swerved out and his bicycle collided with Buchanan's car. Chase was hurled through the windshield of the larger vehicle and received a fractured skull. He died at the Newton Hospital the following day. Chase graduated from Harvard in 1918 and was employed as an engineer by the Metropolitan District Commission. He was an enthusiastic bicyclist and had participated in a number of Marathon foot races. He is survived by his father, Joseph A. Chase.

Fire Causes Two
Families To Flee

A fire which started in a basket of rubbish at the head of a cellar stairway routed two families from their beds at 14 and 16 Cambria rd., West Newton on Monday morning at 4:30 o'clock. The lower apartment is occupied by Lincoln Burofsky and his family. His daughter, Marcia, was awakened by smoke. She aroused her parents, and they fled from the apartment, together with their two daughters and a maid. Mrs. Burofsky awakened Mrs. Percy Nichols who occupies the upper apartment, and assisted Mrs. Nichols in carrying her three young children to the street. The fire was confined to the cellar and back hall of the Burofsky apartment.

Awards at Flower Show

The Annual Flower Show of the Auburndale Garden Club which was held on Thursday and Friday, June 3rd and 4th, at the Auburndale Club House, was viewed by a throng of interested spectators, the entire hall being filled with attractive displays. The Lounge even was utilized for one class display, as the entry list was so large that it overflowed the auditorium. The stage was transformed into a woodland bower, featuring evergreens, ferns, daisies, jack-in-the-pulpit, and white birches, by Miss Agnes Strang and Mrs. John Brown, Jr. Announcement of the opportunity for children to compete in one of the classes brought entries from about fifty children of the Burr and Williams Schools, showing distinct individuality and artistry.

The Judges were Mrs. Irving Wright, of Chestnut Hill; Mrs. Joseph Enno, of Bradford; and Miss Clara Blattner, of Wellesley. So excellent were many of the entries it was necessary to give several awards in several groups. Awards were made on the "A," "B," and "C" grade basis. Highlights in Speeches, Events At Swampscott

Outstanding events and comments by speakers at the second day sessions, Tuesday, May 18th, before members of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, at Swampscott, during the Annual Meeting, held the keen attention and interest of the more than 3,500 clubwomen present. Melinda Alexander, of New York, world-traveler and author, speaking on the subject "Things as They Are," urged that America establish a policy of demanding concerted action on the part of all nations, guaranteeing the peace of the world. She opposed giving the Chief Executive the "colossal power" of having the right to appoint six new justices to the Supreme Court, and said that the "counselors of the administration do not truly represent the sentiment of this country."

She told of going to Russia to study the Russian "Five-year Plan" and its workings, in a party that included Rexford Tugwell, Stuart Chase, and several other widely-known speakers, and advised that "the task of taking care of our unemployed is essentially a local problem," and that the greatest economic problem in the nation today is "how to get them back in industry." Until some solution is found, and "we do concentrate on some of these features, the situation is precarious, if not hazardous," she claimed.

She recommended that there be an industrial survey to discover possibilities of returning the 11,000,000 who are still unemployed to industry, and suggested that the government might aid industry with loans on the basis of re-employing the jobless.

She said that Germany has "undergone a psychological collapse," that Russia is "a psychopathic ward," and that "we have men in this country today who would, if they could, overthrow this government." She termed

Gen. Franco in Spain "the greatest traitor since Alcibiades of Athens betrayed his city," and said that "we now are closer to a world holocaust than the people of Europe were in July, 1914."

One of the most stimulating events of Tuesday was the President's Round-Table, which Mrs. Kimball, president of the State Federation, conducted Tuesday morning. One after another, in rapid succession, presidents of women's clubs throughout the State, rose to tell of valuable activities and services that would cease in towns were it not for their clubs. Opportunities for girls to attend college, necessary hospital treatment for children, assistance to war veterans, Christmas parties and gifts for children, nurseries, warm clothing and other necessities supplied needy families, placement of the unemployed through employment bureaus set up, work for the blind, reconditioning toys, picnics, health camps, establishing public parks, establishing recreation playgrounds, furnishing transportation for children to the beaches, and even a restaurant furnishing hot soup for undernourished children, were just a few of the reported examples wherein the women's clubs are doing good in their communities.

But inspiring as these reports of activities were, the progress and aims of the State organization mean more to Mrs. Kimball, for she voiced the questioning in her heart of what this powerful Federation of women could do in stupendous affairs, if once aroused, and if they acquired new aims. To this end she declared at the conclusion of this period:

"If your club went out of existence they would serve milk in the schools; they would provide community nurses; they would carry on the things that you now are doing that are so worthwhile. But the Federation must in some way point the way to a better day for the entire nation and world."

To this end, at the concluding session of the Annual Meeting on Wednesday morning about 800 serially numbered cards were distributed to delegates, with the request that suggestions be made upon them; that they be signed and returned to the president, Mrs. Kimball, for her inspiration in progress in wider works. She promised the clubwomen to continue to surprise them next year with new departures, for Mrs. Kimball, due to her independent thought and courage to change customs, has acquired the title "the surprise president."

With only one dissenting voice, delegates voted against the President's plan for the reorganization of the Supreme Court. The meeting, with over 3,500 present, was the largest in the history of the State Federation.

The Resolution opposing the President's measure was brought up for action at the opening of the afternoon session and telegrams announcing the result were sent to President

Roosevelt and to Senators Henry F. Ashurst, Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., and David I. Walsh.

The Resolution was worded as follows:

"Aware that the Constitution of the United States neither specifies nor mandates the number of judges for the Supreme Court, but realizing that the philosophy of government mandating that constitution clearly intended the three branches of our democracy, the executive, the legislative and the judicial, to be a wholesome check on each other for the common good of all the people, we, the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, in convention assembled, declare our objection to the President's plan for the reorganization of the Supreme Court.

On the following day, Wednesday, the closing session, delegates were pleased to have it announced that acknowledgment of a telegram sent Tuesday to Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., telling him of the overwhelming disapproval of the President's Supreme Court plan, had been received. It was read. His reply said he will continue his active work against the plan.

Speaking before the Tuesday evening meeting, United States Senator Josh Lee, of Oklahoma, advocated giving up some of the profits that result from war and the preparations for war in order to promote peace. He outlined a four-point plan, "First, that the United States should control preparations for war by requiring munitions makers to work under federal license; that the United States make permanent its present non-intervention policy that refuse to send a military army into foreign territory to protect private investments; that it equalizes, as far as possible, the burdens of war by a universal draft law that will conscript money and materials as well as men, and that it enact tax laws that will recover from the manufacturers 100 per cent of all war profits.

The Senator, who served as a private in the World War, declared, "It takes the patriotism out of a soldier to go to war for his country and be shot by a gun that was made in his own country."

This evening was festive in honor of special guests, with a reception in the Hotel Ballroom. Clubwomen had donned their prettiest evening frocks and the club presidents who took part in a new feature—a Recessional at the close of the program in Convention Hall—with their beautiful corsage bouquets—gave a colorful, even spectacular touch to the gala evening.

The presidents, in groups of two, followed their respective directors, who bore their golden numbers aloft, marching in review past the president and her council seated on the stage, thence down the aisle and out under the moon-lit sky. Bursts of applause marked the recognition by their own groups as they passed through the long aisles. Then they proceeded to the hotel, there to form in a long double line in the corridor, down which passed the State leaders and distinguished guests to the Ballroom. Mrs. Charles R. Storey was chief marshal and the flag-bearers were Mrs. James Morrison, of West Medford, and Miss Mildred Colburn, of Lynn. The innovation was welcomed by many as even more beautiful and impressive than the former plan of having it at the opening of the evening, and the shoulder bouquets were equally as effective and far more convenient for the wearers.

Standing at the head of the receiving line during the reception, was Mrs. Kimball, in white lace gown with a little jacket of the lace. With her were Senator Josh Lee, of Oklahoma, and Mrs. Lee, who wore an all-black costume, guests for the evening, from the nation's capital, and Mrs. Charles F. Hurley, representing the Governor, and accompanied by Gen. and Mrs. Charles H. Cole. Mrs. Hurley also wore a graceful black gown.

Notable Reports At Tulsa

One of the thrilling events of Wednesday, April 28th, the third day of the Biennial Council at Tulsa, Oklahoma, was the arrival of a letter from President Roosevelt, written to Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, president of the General Federation, which was delivered to her as she presided upon the platform. This was in reply to a letter from Mrs. Lawson to the President on a question vital to all women. Women are pressing their right to work, although few, as the need is real, even dire, and they asked the aid of the President to that end. President Roosevelt, in response, sent promise of his aid.

Mrs. Lawson's letter which was read to the Convention by Mrs. John S. Harvey, of Huntington, W. Va., the recording secretary, stated in part: "Neither now nor in the discernible future, can the earnings of the head of the average family support its adult women in idleness. Hundreds of thousands of families are without any able-bodied, wage-earning men and there are countless hundreds of women whose household duties are over but who are mature and still vigorous and whose need for self-support is still stark and stubborn reality. "How without disrupting labor standards can these women be so retained as to insure them decent living in the ranks of the nation's self-respecting producing and servicing citizens?"

"There are nearly 4,000,000 home-breadwinners and the proportion of married women engaged in outside occupations has more than doubled in the last few years."

The General Federation president asked for the married women of the country that President Roosevelt initiate through the Federal Women's Bureau, a Federal investigation of how married women can add to the family income without hurt to regular men and women wage-earners, without hurt to the home, and with a resultant increase in goods and services for general distribution.

The Federation has chosen the Women's Bureau as the proper agency to make the survey because the organization 16 years ago took a leading part in persuading Congress to set up the Bureau as a means of increasing employment opportunities for women.

The letter stated that "never in the history of our national life has it been as important as now under the new economic order that the mandate to the Bureau to be carried out under conditions that will insure your active and effective support."

The Federation wants to see the Bureau call to its aid in making the investigation, bureaus in other Federal departments concerned with problems of child care, home management, vocational training and other intimately related questions.

President Roosevelt's reply read in part:

"It is possibly unnecessary for me to say to you that I am tremendously interested in it because, as you already know, the subject matter presents a problem which has for a long time been given the most serious consideration by me."

"While I have been in rather intimate touch with the workings of the Women's Bureau, I shall take the first opportunity to find out exactly what its immediate activities are, and ascertain the need for an extension of its operation and the need for additional funds."

An outstanding address of the Wednesday morning session was that of Miss Katherine F. Lenroot, chief of the Federal Children's Bureau of Washington, D. C. Miss Lenroot was one of the speakers for the Forum of the Public Welfare department of the General Federation, and she was presented by the chairman, Mrs. Clarence Fraim, of Wilmington, Del.

Miss Lenroot stirred her hearers when she reported that child labor is on the increase, with a recent study by the Children's Bureau in six states showing that three-fourths of the workers under 16 years old, not including those in agriculture and domestic service, are in non-manufacturing occupations.

Children were found to be working long hours for low wages in service occupations, retail trade, and miscellaneous callings in many of which a high degree of organization or efficiency does not exist. Some children under 16 years old were found to be working 50 or 60 hours a week for $2, $3, or $4 weekly.

An Editorial in a Tulsa newspaper is worthy of quotation. In regard to Miss Lenroot's point of view:

Oak Hill Parents Want School Bus

Parents of children, who will attend the new school at Oak Hill next September, have asked the Newton School Committee to provide a school bus to carry children to and from that school. They contend that since the proposed road from Parker st. to the school will not be built this year, many of the children attending the school would have to walk considerable distances along Parker, Dedham sts. and Meadowbrook rd. to the school. Some of the parents assert they will not send their children to the school unless bus service is provided, or the new street constructed. Mayor Childs recently assured the parents that before next September a foot path will be built along the line of a drain from Parker st. to the school, and that this way will be wide enough so that it can be kept plowed next winter.

10 Hurt in Crash, Driver Arrested

Cars driven by Walter J. McDonough, 5 Howe st., Dorchester, and Paul Bresnahan, 27 Ainsworth st., Roslindale, collided early last Thursday morning at Washington and Greenough sts., West Newton. Following the crash McDonough was arrested by the police on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Thursday and his case continued until June 25. Riding in the coupe McDonough was driving were four Dorchester young men. One of them, Austin Bruin, an insurance agent, stated his back was injured. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Four passengers in the car Bresnahan was driving received slight injuries. They were all taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment. Those in the automobiles had been attending a college commencement dance at the Woodland Park Golf Club.

Woman In Court For Taking Flowers From Cemetery Lot

Mrs. Mary Trotter, 62, of 262 California st., Nonantum, was fined $20 by Judge Cuniff in the Waltham court last Thursday for stealing plants from graves in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. Her daughter, Claire, was found not guilty. William Mulvihill, superintendent at the cemetery, and Joseph Mogan, foreman there, testified against the defendants. Mogan testified that he saw the women go to several graves, take potted plants therefrom, and stuff them into bags they were carrying. He notified Mulvihill, the two women were detained as they were about to leave the cemetery, police were sent for, and they were arrested by Patrolmen Dwyer and Quaters. One of the lots from which plants were stolen was that owned by the family of Patrolman O'Donnell of the Newton police. Last year O'Donnell caught men who were stealing flowers from his lot.

Because the defendants claimed to be unable to properly understand English, an interpreter was used. Through him, Mrs. Trotter claimed that she understood anyone could take flowers off a cemetery lot after they had been there for 10 days. Many plants and flowers have been stolen from Calvary Cemetery, in common with other cemeteries in Massachusetts. On Wednesday Judge Cuniff granted a rehearing of the case at the request of some of Mrs. Trotter's friends. They pleaded that the woman cannot read or speak English, that she believed plants could be removed from cemeteries 10 days after Memorial Day, and that she had taken the plants in broad daylight in view of cemetery employees. Judge Cuniff requested Supt. Mulvihill of Calvary Cemetery to withdraw the complaint and Mr. Mulvihill consented.

Fire Endangers Nonantum People

Fire supposed to have been started by spontaneous combustion in oily rags under a piazza endangered the lives of the family of James Flynn at 73 West st., Nonantum early Tuesday morning. Flynn resides on the second floor of the two apartment house. Awakened by the crying of his little daughter, Flynn found escape for himself, his wife and two children, was blocked by the flames which were raging across the front, and only exit from the second floor. John Pacella, a neighbor, pulled Box 174 at 1:11 a. m. The crew from Engine 8 quickly couched the burning front piazza and porch and enabled the Flynn's to emerge from the smoke filled house. The damage was estimated at about $700.

New Supt. At Newton Post Office

Joseph F. O'Gorman of 28 Chauncy st., Watertown, was appointed superintendent of the Newton Postoffice last week by Postmaster Peter Tague and began his new duties last Thursday. Mr. O'Gorman is a native of Charlestown and has been an employee of the Boston Postoffice for over 20 years, working most of that time in the money order division. During the past year he spoke on postoffice topics over the radio. Mr. O'Gorman is the first non-resident of Newton to have charge of the Newton Postoffice. He was tendered a reception by his fellow-workers at the Boston Postoffice.

The first supervisor of the Newton Postoffice after it was affected by civil service was George H. Morgan, who was appointed postmaster of Newton 51 years ago by President Grover Cleveland. When Newton became a station of Newton Centre Postoffice Mr. Morgan was made superintendent. He later was appointed postmaster of Newton Centre, and William Irvin of Newton, who had been a clerk in the Newton Postoffice, became superintendent. A few years later Mr. Irvin was succeeded by John I. Farwell of Newton, who had been a letter carrier at the Newton Postoffice. Mr. Farwell was in charge of the office for over a quarter century. He was succeeded by John M. Fitzgerald of Newton Centre, who had worked at the Newton Centre and Newton postoffices. Since Mr. Fitzgerald's retirement Edward Friel of Boston has been temporary superintendent at the Newton office.

Two veteran employees of the Newton Postoffice were candidates for the superintendency, one of whom, Denis G. Dargon, has been a letter carrier and clerk at the office for about 30 years.

Newton Factory Increases Wages

The 350 employees of the Earnshaw Knitting Company of 148 California st., Nonantum, and its affiliate, the Shepherd Worsted Mills, were agreeably surprised on Monday when the management announced that there would be a wage increase, effective that day, of 10 per cent, restoring wages for the workers in the factory to the predepression basis. These companies, which are among the largest employers of local residents in this city, have consistently maintained the 40-hour work week, despite the invalidation of the NRA Code. The Earnshaw Knitting Company manufactures the nationally known VANTA Baby Garments; the Shepherd Worsted Company makes the Shepherd Fingering Yarns and sweaters. Ernest B. Dane of Brookline is president of the company.

Fire Makes N'ville Family Flee Home

The fourth early morning fire in Newton the past week, causing persons to make hasty exits from their homes, occurred at 3:05 Wednesday morning at 198 Lowell ave., Newtonville. The fire, supposedly caused by a defective oil burner, started in the kitchen of the second-floor apartment, occupied by Mrs. Louise Gutler and her son, David. Awakened by smoke, they telephoned fire alarm headquarters. The fire spread to the first-floor apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Engstrom and their 8 year old son. The damage was estimated at about $2000.

Newton Highlights

Mrs. Warren Beard, the former Dorothy Hunter, was hitting the high spots of her golfing season last week when she defeated Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare and Charlotte Glutting on successive days at Plainfield, N. J. After tying for the Eastern women's championship with Miss Glutting on Wednesday, and losing the title in an 18-hole playoff, the former Newton High and Boston University girl played for Boston in the Griscum Cup inter-city matches over the same course on Thursday and Friday. Although her team lost, Mrs. Beard won memorable individual victories by defeating Mrs. Vare, former national champion at the nineteenth hole on Thursday, and turning the tables on the newly-crowned champion Friday, winning 2-up after being two down at the fourteenth.

Denny Shute of Brae Burn C. C., West Newton, winner of the Professional Golfers' Association's 1936 championship, was named last Sunday by that association as the man who will play Henry Cotton, crack British pro, in a special match for a prize of $2500. The event will follow the Ryder Cup professional matches to be played at Southport, England, the last week in June, and will consist of 72 holes of match play.

Don Marin of West Newton paired with Paul Guilford of Melrose to wrest the state doubles crown from George Abbott and Lockwood Tower, defending champions, in three sets at Dedham Tennis Club Sunday. After a closely-fought first set, the new champions forced the going and won thirteen straight games. The scores were 9-7, 6-0, 6-2.

At the Worcester Tennis Club Sunday, the final of the state interscholastic tournament was staged again, with the Central Mass. junior title at stake. Bill Power of Worcester North High School and Don Manchester of Newton High were again finalists, and Power again won, 7-5, 6-4. Two other Newton High players reached the semi-final round, Les Lowery losing to Manchester and Al Everts to the champion. In the doubles final, Al Everts and Manchester teamed to defeat Bill Power and Paul Kearney, the experienced Worcester pair.

A Real Combination - GARAGE AND WORKSHOP TOGETHER

Why not keep all the tools around the home or farm in one spot. The best way to take care of them and the best way to provide a satisfactory place to do home workshop jobs is by planning for the workshop in the beginning.

The most inexpensive way to provide a real workshop is to build it in connection with the garage. It costs very little more to make the garage big enough to provide a shop in which home work is a pleasure.

Aldermen Receive Report Of Joint Committee On Ten Year Program Of New Schools

No New Schools This Year—Buildings To Replace Old Wooden Schools Again Deferred

The report of the joint committee of Aldermen and members of the School Committee, especially appointed to study the need of new schools in Newton, was submitted to the Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Monday night. It consisted of about 20 pages, multigraphed of statistics and graphs, and was signed by Aldermen Bowen, McKay and Schipper, and School Committee members Mather, Fernald, Smith and Mrs. Woods. The report stated that the factors taken into consideration were present congestion in schools, growth in residential areas and their distances to school centers, desirability of replacing wooden buildings, general population trends in the city, financial ability of the city to undertake a school building program.

The report commented that from time to time as conditions change, it may seem wise to change the order of projects, or to alter any part of the whole plan. Appended to the report was a financial report prepared by Comptroller of Accounts White, showing how, as current school bonds mature, new bonds for projected buildings may be issued, the interest and maturity charges on which will not increase the tax rate of the city.

Eight projects were specified in the report. In order of priority they are: School to replace the Franklin School at West Newton, 12 rooms, cost $240,000; school to replace Lincoln and Eliot Schools at Newton, 10 rooms, cost $200,000; addition to Burr School, Auburndale, 4 rooms, cost $75,000; administration building, Newtonville, cost $85,000; trade school, cost $500,000; replacement of Rice School, Newton Centre, $200,000; replacement of Williams School, Auburndale, $200,000; junior high school, $750,000. The report went into details to show the reason for these proposed new structures, and the nature of the territories which each will serve.

Alderman Melcher, chairman of the committee which reported on the recommendations made by Mayor Childs in his inaugural address, commented that it would not be wise to consider building a new school next year to replace the Lincoln and Eliot schools, when land has not yet been acquired for the school which is to replace the Franklin School. Alderman McCabe said he realized the committee had a difficult problem to decide what projects it should recommend for this year, but Ward 1 has been treated the poorest of any section of the city in regard to new schools. He said something should be done without further delay to replace the Eliot and Lincoln schools.

Alderman Rawson of Ward 7 agreed with McCabe. He said the Lincoln School is a disgrace to the city, and the Eliot School is not much better. According to the report of the committee, the school to replace the Franklin would not be completed until 1938, and the school to replace the Lincoln and Eliot until 1939. Alderman Barwise of Ward 1 said the committee should be congratulated on its fine report, especially in regard to the recommendation regarding the replacing of the Eliot and Lincoln schools. He felt it would be good news to the people of the Eliot-Lincoln school district. Two years ago Barwise, in conjunction with Aldermen Atkins and McCabe, protested against the sidetracking of a new school to replace the Eliot and Lincoln schools, when preference was given to the building of a new school at Oak Hill. The protests followed a letter from the president of the Ward 1 Improvement Association which objected to the jump-

He had been paroled from State Prison on March 2, 1936 after having served part of a 5 to 10 years sentence, imposed in 1931. West Newton Boy Drowned at Outing In Brookfield

Bruno Castagnino, 15, son of Mrs. Rose Castagnino of 13 Smith Court, West Newton, was drowned at Lake Quamcumquasit, Brookfield, last Saturday. The boy was captain of the Sons of American Legion, Newton Post 48, which was holding an outing that day at the lake. With other boys he had gone in swimming and was hanging onto the back of a rowboat a short distance from the shore. As the boat was being rowed toward the shore, the boy was apparently seized with a cramp. He sank and did not come up again. His mother and a younger brother watched from the shore as efforts were made to rescue the boy.

State troopers from the North Brookfield barracks were summoned and located the body with grappling irons an hour and fifteen minutes after the boy went under. Dr. Royal of North Brookfield was at the scene when the body was recovered, but the boy had been under water too long to be resuscitated.

Young Castagnino's father, Joseph Castagnino, died 5 years ago. The boy was a sophomore at Newton High School and played in the school orchestra. He is survived by his mother, three brothers and a sister. His funeral was held on Tuesday morning from the home of his grandfather, Salvatore Barberio, 57 Oak avenue, West Newton. The funeral service was at St. Bernard's Church. The funeral cortege included delegations from Newton Post, A. L., the Post Auxiliary, and Sons of the American Legion. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Boy Goes Over Dam At Upper Falls

What was perhaps the most spectacular rescue ever made in Newton was accomplished early Thursday morning when Edward Guffreda, 12, of 123 Florence st., Rosindale was dragged from rocks beneath the high dam and falls above Echo Bridge at Newton Upper Falls. The boy and a companion, George Willis, 12, of Hanson st., Rosindale, had obtained a canoe Wednesday afternoon at West Roxbury, and went on a long-distance paddle down the Charles River. Boston police had sent out information late Wednesday night that the two were missing. Unacquainted with the river, the two young adventurers paddled to the brink of the falls. They were close to the Needham side when the roar of the falls startled them. Willis leaped from the canoe and managed to reach shore. The Guffreda boy went over the falls with the canoe, dropped to rocks over 20 feet below, and was quickly rendered unconscious by the pounding of the cascading water. Young Willis shouted to some men he saw on the bridge nearby, and a fire alarm was sent in from Box 613 at 1:09 a. m., bringing fire apparatus from Newton and Needham. Metropolitan District Police sent a rowboat to the scene and the floodlight truck of the Newton Fire Department illuminated the dam and the river below.

A rope was thrown across the gorge and Richard Wilke of Walnut st., Newton Highlands went out on the rope, and hand over hand worked down to where the unconscious form of young Guffreda was lying. Wilke could not extricate the boy. Then, Burton McMullin of Boylston st., Upper Falls, wearing a life preserver, went down the rope, tied another rope about Guffreda, and with the assistance of Wilke, Joe McMullin and William Connell, of Boylston st., pulled the boy from the river. Rays of Newton police and firemen worked on the boy for two hours before he was resuscitated. Guffreda was taken to the Newton Hospital in a serious condition.

At 4 p. m., a doll carriage parade will be held. Entries for the Doll Carriage Parade may be made at the field, to Mr. John J. Pendergast. Three prizes will be awarded for the most beautiful carriage, the most unique carriage and the most attractive child and carriage.

Wants Washington Street Widened

Alderman Cronin of Ward 4 is fostering a petition to have Washington st. widened between Auburn st. and Lincoln Park in Ward 3. The street is narrower along this stretch than along the remainder of its course. It is contended that due to the great increase in traffic, the street should be widened in the section named to make it safer.

Fail To Get Big Sum For Land City Took At Oak Hill

The suit entered against the City of Newton by Miss Annie Barry of Brookline to recover damages for about 6 1/2 acres of land seized by the city for municipal purposes at Oak Hill was settled on Monday when a jury at the Middlesex Superior Court in Cambridge awarded Miss Barry $7069.11. Of this amount about $6400 was for payment for the land taken, and the balance for interest since the seizure in November 1935. The land was taken for the site of a new school at Oak Hill, for part of a parking area near the school, and for street purposes. It was back land of the former Barry farm on Greenwood st., which included about 23 acres. The City Solicitor had offered Miss Barry $4221 for the property, estimated on the assessed value of the land.

The trial lasted over a week. Attorney Foley of Boston had witnesses for the plaintiff, men who professed to be real estate experts. One of these testified that the land was worth $35,750. The other testified that the value of the land taken was $27,069. City Solicitor Bartlett also had several real estate experts testifying, and in addition J. W. Murphy, chairman of the Board of Assessors, and City Engineer Harvey. Much of the land taken was swampy. Miss Barry's attorneys argued that not only was the land taken worth much more than the amount offered by the city, but the proximity of the parking space will affect the value of the remaining land owned by the plaintiff. The city offered testimony to show that the value of Miss Barry's property has been greatly enhanced by the construction of a big drain, the erection of the school house and the building of streets, all at the city's expense.

Two New Wells To Cost $26,932

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night $26,932 were appropriated for the digging and equipping of two large wells on the water reservation at Needham. It is claimed that these wells will add 3,000,000 gallons of water daily to the city's water supply. Alderman Temperley was the only member of the Board to vote in the negative. He expressed doubt that the wells will give the supply estimated, and believes that the matter should have more study.

Invitation bids were asked from a number of contractors on two types of wells, large dug wells, and bored, gravel packed wells. The lowest bid for the dug wells was from C. Repucci & Company of Boston, $12,334.34. The second lowest bid was from T. Stuart & Sons, Watertown, $14,550. Other bidders were R. White & Sons, $16,690; Fuller Const. Co., $17,790; Warner Bros. & Goodwin, $18,333; O'Malley & Delaney, $21,675; John McDonald Co., $23,350. The bids for gravel packed wells were: Chapman Company, $44,818; Lane-Bowler Co., $90,500; C. Repucci & Co., $94,800. The lowest bidder for equipment was Turbine Equipment Co., $6750; Starkweather Engineering Company bid $7,000; Fairbanks, Morse Co., $7,500; Haynes Pump Co., $8,700; Rideout, Chandler & Joyce, $8,970.

Water Commissioner Murray recommended to Mayor Childs that the contract for digging the wells be given to the Stuart Company, as Repucci, the lowest bidder, has not had experience in dug wells. The equipment contract was given to the Turbine Equipment Company, the lowest bidder.

Aldermen Favor Only Four Minor Projects This Year Two Of These In Ward 2

Committee Appointed To Consider Mayor Childs' Inaugural Address Reports to Board

The special committee of the Board of Aldermen appointed to consider the recommendations of Mayor Childs, delivered its report to the Board on Monday night. It recommended only four of the many improvements referred to by the Mayor in his inaugural address. Two of these four are in Ward 2—a service building at the Hawthorne playground near Nonantum, and a new playground near the Horace Mann School at Newtonville.

Many items listed for consideration during 1937 are already on the way to accomplishment. The necessary appropriations have been included in this year's budget or in other appropriations to take care of the following:

Engineering Department—Two temporary draftsmen to prepare new plans for the Assessing Department.

Building Department—Salary appropriation to cover preparation of new building code. Erection of additional fire escapes for Classical High School and Administration Building.

Street Department—Traffic lights and pedestrian lights at location where traffic conditions warrant the expenditure. Gypsy moth work in the Oak Hill section.

Playground Department—New fencing at the Warren Junior High School. Action has been started which will bring about the acquisition of land for the Franklin School.

A joint committee from the Board of Aldermen and School Committee to study the needs of the School Department for the next ten years has already been appointed.

Your committee has given careful study to the other recommendations in the address and recommends no action in 1937 on the following items:

THE SUMMER BURGLAR

Summer is here. Many Newton residents are closing their homes and preparing to enjoy their annual vacation in the country or at the seashore. Many will take precautions against the summer burglar who finds it comparatively easy to work leisurely and thoroughly in an unguarded home. A word of warning to those who leave their homes unoccupied even for a short time is not only timely but may well result in adding to their protection and peace of mind. A few precautions, so obvious that they are frequently ignored through carelessness, should be taken. Before leaving be sure that all doors, windows and other entrances to the house are locked securely. Inform the police that your house will be empty and ask that an officer try the doors and windows at intervals. Take with you or securely lock, or best of all store in your bank's safety vault, all jewelry, silverware, and other valuable articles that are easily converted into money by a thief. Suspend all deliveries such as milk, papers, and mail. Accumulated material on your doorstep is a positive sign to outsiders that you are away. And last of all protect yourself from loss of the things that you cannot store or take with you by adequate burglary insurance. A little time and thought may save you loss and will aid in the control of crime in the community.

REGISTRATION OF BICYCLES

The city of Lynn this week began the registration of bicycles of boys and girls of that city upon a voluntary basis. The owner of a bicycle upon application for the registration of his vehicle and the payment of twenty-five cents receives a small number plate. Applicants must also fill out a form giving the make, number, description and other particulars about the machine. The entire affair is voluntary and has been carried out with the idea of protecting the bicycle owners' property and his own personal safety. One of the outstanding features of the new system is the assistance the records will be in aiding the efforts of the police to trace stolen bicycles, which in any large city is a source of considerable trouble.

The present trend toward the return to popularity of the bicycle is increasing the problems of safety upon the highways. If the plan operates successfully in Lynn, believed to be the first city in the country to inaugurate the use of number plates and police registration of bicycles it may eventually be generally adopted in the larger communities.

Aldermen Favor Few Improvements

years past. He said the same serious situation regarding parking still exists at Newton Corner.

The land which the committee suggests be acquired for playground purposes at Nonantum includes about 68,000 square feet and is assessed for $3850. It was acquired some years ago by John H. McNamara for gravel pit purposes, and excavated. It is now a big depression. Should the city take it, that part of Rustic st. near the river would have to be abandoned.

Newton Safety Council Active

The Newton Safety Council has been quite active the past week. On June 15 a meeting of the Engineering Committee of the Council was held at Fire Department Headquarters at Newton Centre. Alfred N. Miner, chairman of the committee, presided and the following members were present: James B. D'Angelo, Samuel T. Emery, Robert E. Lucas, Chief Clarence Randall and Frank E. Morris of the committee. General Daniel Needham, president of Newton Safety Council; Richard J. Dunn, vice president, and Charles S. Warren of the executive committee were also present. Others in attendance were Col. John M. Moorhead, director of the WPA Safety Project for Massachusetts, M. D. Liming, Arthur E. Pecker, Evans Gormley and Chester I. Babcock.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss with Colonel Moorhead and his assistants the scope of the request for a report on traffic conditions in this city. It was the consensus of opinion that the basis of this report should cover accidents in 1936 and accidents to date in 1937. The report when finished will be submitted to the Engineering Committee, and all necessary contacts during the course of the study will be made with members of the Engineering Committee of the Safety Council. Colonel Moorhead started a study of parking conditions at Newton Centre on Monday. General Needham submitted a report made by Wilbur Smith covering a one-day survey made on May 28 of signs, signals and markings at Newton. This report will be used as a basis of a discussion to be held at a future meeting of the Engineering Committee.

On the evening of June 17 a meeting of the Executive Committee of Newton Safety Council was held at the home of Richard J. Dunn, 306 Waverley ave. It was attended by General Needham, president of Newton Chapter; Mr. Dunn, vice president; Raymond Green, Chief Michael Hughes, Alfred N. Miner, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Charles S. Warren and Rupert Thomson. It was voted to recommend to the members of Newton Chapter of the Mass. Safety Council the advisability of incorporating the Chapter. The president was instructed to draw up a constitution and by-laws patterned after those of the Mass. Safety Council. It was voted to call a special meeting of Newton Chapter on Tuesday evening, June 29, at the Aldermanic chamber in Newton City Hall to consider the matter of incorporating the Chapter.

The following names were suggested for membership in Newton Chapter—Engineering Division, Chester I. Babcock, Harry J. Carlson, Melville D. Liming, Lewis E. Moore.

Organizing Salvation Army Annual Appeal For Funds

Colonel J. Leonard Johnson, 29 Merrill rd., president of the Metropolitan Coal Co.; Colonel Andrew S. Seiler, 23 Burr rd.; Major Ben H. Badenoch, 116 Dartmouth st., and Major Maxwell P. Gaddis, Elliot ave., attended the organization meeting recently, in the Chamber of Commerce Building, of the Industry and Finance Division, of next fall's Salvation Army Greater Boston Annual Maintenance Appeal.

The military titles may surprise their friends—but they have not "gone military" except for the duration of the forthcoming campaign. Titles in accordance with the plan to use military designations for the members of the executive committee, group chairmen, and other workers, will be assigned by the Board of Strategy of the campaign.

The Industry and Finance Division, being the most important unit in campaign operations, will be the "shock troops," according to its Commander-in-Chief, W. C. Adams, president of Rival Foods. All the above officers are also members of the Salvation Army Greater Boston Advisory Board, which functions the year 'round, but will serve as the "War College" for the campaign.

Will Raze Old Tenement Building

The old tenement block on Mechanic st. Newton Upper Falls family known as "The Bee Hive," will be torn down in part in the near future. The big frame structure, 3½ stories high, and containing about a score of small tenements, was built about a century ago by Otis Pettee, founder of the Pettee Machine Shops. Upon his death it became the property of his children, and later parts of it were sold to various owners. For some years "The Beehive" has been largely unoccupied. The City of Newton owns one section of it, and has a lien on another section through a tax title. The building is regarded as unsafe by the Buildings Department, is regarded as a fire hazard by Chief Randlett of the Fire Department, and as a health menace by the Health Department.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night an order was introduced authorizing the alteration or disposition of that part of the building known as Lots 2 and 3. Frank Jones of 53 Cottage st., Upper Falls, owner of one part of the building which is occupied by three tenants, said he believes the city should compensate him for expenses which will be incurred in relocating water pipes and electric wires.

Welfare Bureau Executive On National Conference

Family Welfare agencies will continue to have a definite demand for meeting certain relief needs in a community, especially in connection with needs unmet by other community agencies—particularly in the preventive field. In reporting on the National Conference of Social Work held in Indianapolis to the Directors of the Newton Welfare Bureau, Inc., Miss Harriet Parsons, General Secretary said that much interest was shown in the increasing value of Board members' participation in community affairs. Board members are the group which determine the program of the agency and can relate social work services to the needs of the community. They are the best interpreters and only in sharing with the public at large can headway be made in meeting social needs.

Throughout the Conference the emphasis was that although public agencies are absorbing the bulk of relief work, private agencies must meet needs in the community which public departments cannot touch in order to prevent further breakdown of family life. Many people can be saved from going on permanent relief rolls if health needs can be met and expert advice and service given. Private agencies also can and should work toward a continuing analysis of those factors which make for wholesome family life, interpret them and utilize all knowledge available in preventing family breakdown.

The Conference was attended by some 7,000 social workers from all over the country and much time was spent in discussing Federal and public policies, the tone being that all communities must depend on Federal subsidy in relief programs. The most democratic American way would be in grants to the States without Federal control as to details of program. However, this in some states is impracticable when for example in some counties of Georgia families regardless of size were only allowed $2.68 per family per month, this type of condition, according to Miss Edith Abbott, president of the Conference being due to vastness of funds, income of the poor, and poor Civil Service standards.

At the Episcopal Conference it was clearly brought out that churches throughout the country are taking a much more active social leadership and that the use of churches seven days a week for social activities is increasing many churches, for example, maintaining libraries, clinics, and courses of study.

Emphasis throughout was upon meeting needs of youth between the ages of 16-24, the statement being made that in this age grouping, three million were jobless—this figure not including youth of agricultural communities.

Charles Taft of Cincinnati discussed wisely the need of careful study of the unemployment problem. He said that to date any statistics relative to unemployment are nothing more than "guesstimates." What skills the unemployed have, why they have no jobs, are they permanently out of work. Answers to these questions nobody knows, nobody is trying to find out. He appealed to all to attack the problem of unemployment by finding out the facts and adapting community programs to fit the facts.

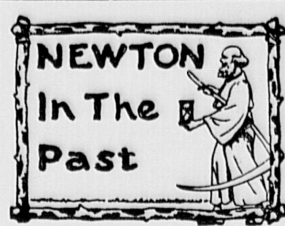

Altogether the Conference marked the steady advance of the reliance upon service in the practical operation of all relief undertakings.

ZONTA CLUB

Ten Newton members attended the Charter Dinner of the New Zonta Club at Waltham one recent evening at Cedar Hill. Metropolitan Zonta Clubs were well represented and District chairman, Emma Tighe of Boston and Cora McKenzie, past international president were among the speakers.

Mrs. Vera Wyman, assistant superintendent Newton Hospital, has been chosen delegate to the International Convention at Niagara Falls.

The annual meeting was held on Monday, June 21st, at Miss Caroline Freeman's on Mt. Vernon st. A bridge party for the benefit of the Service Fund was held on May 28th at the home of Mrs. Carrie Kurlmeier, of Chestnut st. Waban, and a substantial amount was the result of the evening's play. Refreshments served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Vera Wyman were followed by the distribution of prizes to Mrs. Hudson, Miss Sturgis and Miss Kendrick.

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, June 26, 1875

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Monday afternoon with Mayor Hyde in the chair. A petition was received from 80 residents of Newton Highlands remonstrating against the action of the Board in taking away the police force from that village. The committee to whom the Mayor's address was referred last week recommended that the Board reconsider its vote granting liquor licenses to druggists. No licenses have yet been issued, and the Board has full authority to revoke any permits issued. As it now stands, no licenses are to be granted.

A petition of H. F. Allen and others of Ward 2 for the appointment of a measurer of plastering and painting was taken from the table. W. E. C. Fowler of Ward 2 and E. C. Colton of Ward 6 were appointed. Alderman Pratt offered a resolution thanking the Boston & Albany railroad for transporting the large number of Newton people on June 17th without accident. Alderman Pettee thought the New York & New England railroad was also entitled to thanks, and his amendment was adopted. A resolve was adopted requesting the New York & New England railroad to place gates at the several street crossings in Newton Centre and Newton Highlands, as they are dangerous to public safety.

The School Committee held a special meeting on Wednesday evening. Mayor Hyde in the chair. Mr. Spearer submitted an order that teachers' salaries be paid one-twelfth each month, instead of one-tenth, as now. After considerable discussion the order was laid on the table. The Superintendent of Schools proposes to visit Europe, starting July 16. It was voted to extend his vacation 4 weeks beyond the usual time.

A public meeting was held at Cole's Hall on Monday evening to consider the matter of a new hotel in Newton. About 50 gentlemen were present. J. B. Goodrich was chosen chairman, and Howard B. Coffin, secretary. The project was favored by J. F. Boyd, J. M. Holden and S. T. Holmes. No one opposed the matter. Mr. Holmes had no doubt of the success of the enterprise and said it will pay 10% on the investment. He would take a suite of rooms by the year, if a good man is in charge of the hotel.

He knew several persons who will take rooms. The lots of land recently bought by the Unitarian Society, the site of the Nonantum House, and Dr. Hitchcock's residence on Centre street, were mentioned as suitable locations.

Joel Hills, Joel Holden, Langdon Coffin, John F. Boyd and Thomas Weston, Jr., were appointed a committee to report on plans.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening a petition was received from J. E. Whitman and 10 other residents of Church st. asking that the houses be numbered. The matter was referred to the City Engineer.

Alderman Hollis presented a petition from Jacob Faulkner stating that on March 5 he fell on ice on Washington street, near the railroad crossing at West Newton, and his hand was run over by a team, injuring it so it had to be amputated. He asks for remuneration. The matter was referred to the Claims Committee. An order was passed appropriating $150 for an iron trough for water for horses. The trough will be placed on Watertown street, and will take the place of the present inconvenient stone trough.

Alderman Ward moved that $150 be appropriated to pay the expenses of the City Engineer while investigating the systems of sewers used in other cities, with a view to report on the best system adapted for Newton. Andrews Peters petition for damages for alleged pollution of Cheese Cake Brook, was given leave to withdraw.

Alderman Grant moved that an appropriation be made for the work of draining Morse's field area at Newton, on the Watertown line. The work will cost $11,300 and he favors it if Watertown will pay ¾ of the amount. Alderman Ward said if this work will be a great improvement to properties, why not let the owners pay for it. If the city starts draining all swamps where people live, because it is cheap, and put up houses on speculation, it will be quite expensive. He understood that a number of houses are being put up in a swamp in Newtonville and the city has been asked to pay $30,000 to drain this area. Alderman Nickerson said the case of Morse's field is different. People had

Last week at Swampscott Governor Hurley in addressing a convention stated that Massachusetts wants social workers with practical experience, rather than those who place a premium on book knowledge and theories. According to press reports the Governor said that some social workers place a premium of book knowledge and theories. They see only the radio in the parlor and the automobile in the back yard that nobody can run. He said—"I want the social workers whom I appoint to forget the radio in the parlor and the old automobile in the back yard, and to look into the pantry and see what's there."

A large percentage of persons, including the writer, agree heartily with the Governor that social workers with practical experience are more efficient and adapted for this work than are social workers who obtain such positions because of book knowledge. There has been a lot of stress placed in late years on the requirement of a college education before one could obtain a position as a social worker, and civil service examinations have been the determining factor in the appointments of public welfare workers. The result has been—that youths and young women in their early twenties, have been appointed to such positions, chosen in preference to men and women of mature years who did not have college educations, or who could not obtain high marks on tests based on book knowledge. Aged persons, or people of middle age, who need assistance for themselves or their families, would rather have their cases considered by men or women of mature years, folks who have probably themselves experienced the trials and problems of life, than to have some smart, inexperienced young individual question them on their personal affairs, and recommend whether or not relief should be granted.

While broad-minded persons would not deprive people obtaining assistance from enjoying the pleasure a radio gives, most people who try to be self-supporting, who endeavor to practice that American virtue of independence, will not agree with Governor Hurley that social workers should forget the old automobiles they see in the back yard of applicants for, or recipients of public relief. Any automobile, no matter how old or small it is, costs plenty of money to register, operate settled there long ago and the water flowed into their cellars because the grade of the street had been built above the level of their land. The cellars were full of water, and some of the people had to shut the houses up and move away. The order was adopted.

A number of movers have been estimating the cost of moving the Newtonville M. E. Church to Mr. Crane's orchard at the rear of the church. The square thus made, will be converted into a public park.

and maintain. Many thousands of persons in this State who have struggled and are struggling to support themselves, cannot afford automobiles and do not own one. Thousands of persons in Massachusetts who have obtained and are obtaining public relief not only own and operate automobiles but also go to horse and dog races to gamble, and spend plenty on booze. Why should their fellow citizens, most of whom are in poor or moderate circumstances, be taxed to provide luxuries for those who are willing to chisel, who have no pride, and little principle? The money these squanderers spend should be given to honest, deserving people in indigent circumstances whose relief allotments are too small to permit them to even obtain sufficient necessities.

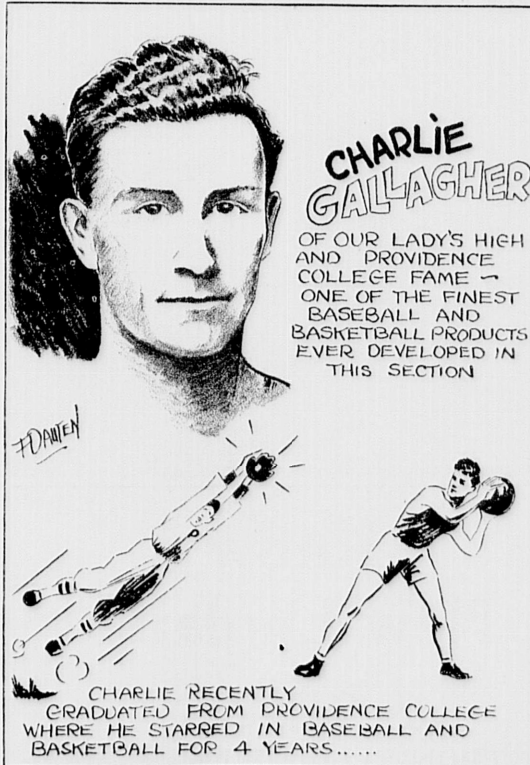

Men and youths are forbidden to go in bathing naked from the waist up at State controlled beaches in Revere and Nantasket. At other beaches grown-up males must have their abdomens covered when they go in the water, or loll on the sand. But, here in Newton men and youths are permitted to go unclothed from the waist up on streets, in yards and on tennis courts and play areas. Odd, isn't it? In other places, as well as in Newton, one observes an increasing number of males in the raw from their hips up. Some of those nudists (or exhibitionists) are slender youths with good physiques. Others are men of mature years, some with hairy chests, and resembling to a degree big apes. And some of the older "Tarzans," who like to display themselves, are so fleshy that they should wear girdles and brassieres.

The permit recently granted by the Newton Board of Health for the keeping of 200 chickens in a residential neighborhood at West Newton has been declared illegal by the City Solicitor. Public Buildings Commissioner Campbell correctly ruled the enterprise to be a business. The Board of Aldermen refused a permit, which would have been for a non-conforming use under the zoning ordinance. This was not the first permit the Board of Health had granted the past few years for the keeping of a large number of chickens in a residence zone. It should be the last. When a large number of chickens are kept, it follows, as a rule, that rats and skunks are attracted to the neighborhood. Thickly settled suburbs, such as Newton, are not proper places for the keeping of large numbers of chickens.

The millions of American citizens in humble or moderate circumstances, who had to pay income taxes when their modest incomes were only a little over the taxable figures, will not sympathize with the wealthy tax evaders who are being exposed now as a result of the Congressional investigation.

NEWTON SPORTS REVIEW

NO. 2

Charlie Gallagher has lost only four intercollegiate baseball games in the last three years, and a Newton boy at Providence College was the one responsible for three of his defeats. He is Charlie Gallagher of 241 Church st., Newton, the subject of Fred Dauten's cartoon this week. Twenty-three years old, six feet tall and weighing around 180, Gallagher is just about the best known and most popular athlete ever graduated from Our Lady's High School.

When he finished at Our Lady's in 1933, Charlie Gallagher had played basketball and baseball for three years running, and had been placed on the Catholic League all-star team both years. He entered Providence in the fall and continued to excel in these two sports, leading an undefeated freshman basketball team and setting the pace for the baseball team at third base.

In basketball, Providence has led the New England parade for several years. Gallagher proved himself the money player of their fine 1937 quintet by sinking the winning baskets in every one of the last four games, beating the Friars' keenest rivals with his last-minute points. In 1936 he played a part in putting Providence into the final New England round of the Olympic basketball playoffs, where they were nosed out by Springfield.

Third-baseman and third in the batting order at Providence this season, Charlie contributed a home run, a triple and a single to lick Holy Cross 6-4 almost single handed. Two years ago it was a home run that won the same game 4-1, and last year again he brought in the winning run that defeated the Crusaders. He made a slow start this year, but hit for a season's average of .386. Last summer he played for Glace Bay in the Nova Scotia Maritime League under Del Bissonette, the same team that Bill Hunsfield played with and they were in the playoffs. Charlie will join the Bourne team of the Cape Cod League next Tuesday, accompanied by pitcher Cliff Choquette, a former teammate at Our Lady's and a great pitcher.

Chicken Farm Permit Illegal

A group of residents of Adams ave., West Newton, appeared at City Hall on Monday night to protest against a chicken farm which recently was started at 97 Adams ave., West Newton, by Frederick Brookings of 52 William st., West Newton. A hearing was held by the Claims and Rules Committee on a petition from Harlan C. Smith, owner of land at 97 Adams ave., who has asked for the privilege of having 200 pullets kept at that locus, which is in a residence zone. Smith, when the hearing started, asked that the petition be withdrawn, as he did not desire a permit to have a chicken farm on his property, all that was wanted was a permit to keep chickens, and that had been granted by the Newton Board of Health. Alderman Rawson, chairman of the committee, replied that persons owning property in the vicinity had been notified to appear at the hearing, and had the right to be heard.

Smith, thereupon, told the committee that the land is being used by Frederick Brookings, who resides nearby, at 52 William st., and Brookings had been given a permit by the Newton Board of Health to keep 200 chickens at the place. Brookings, a retired Metropolitan policeman, said that the place cannot be called a chicken farm, even by the widest stretch of imagination. Public Buildings Commissioner Campbell said that he had told Smith to petition the aldermen for a permit as Brookings was not keeping the chickens for private use, that this made the raising of the chickens a business enterprise in a residence zone, and therefore a permit from the Board of Aldermen is necessary. City Solicitor Bartlett ruled that Campbell was correct.

Patrick McMahon of 120 Adams ave. told the Aldermen that he had appeared before the Board of Health before the permit was granted for the keeping of the 200 chickens and objected, but the permit was granted. McMahon said that the odor from the place on a damp night is terrible, that dogs and skunks have been attracted to the vicinity by it, and that his aged mother, who is an invalid, has been bothered by the conditions. J. F. Landry of 104 Adams ave. said that since the chicken-farm has been established, he has had to keep the windows of his sun porch closed because of disagreeable odors, and his family have to live in the back part of the house. Stephen Connolly of 114 Adams ave. stated that he owns 5 house lots, and the nearness of the chicken-farm is an obstacle to the sale of these lots. Mrs. Connolly substantiated Patrick McMahon's complaint regarding the chicken-farm attracting polecats and dogs. Alderman Gaddis of Ward 3 said he had investigated the matter and he tended to agree with the objectors.

Mrs. Frank Cousins of 97 Adams ave., daughter of the petitioner, said she had never observed any objectionable odor. She said her 9 year old daughter is healthy, and she would not reside there if the chickens made conditions unhealthy. The committee voted to grant leave to withdraw from Smith's petition, and the Board of Aldermen accepted the committee's report. City Solicitor Bartlett advised the Board of Health to revoke the permit, in view of the action of the Aldermen.

Arrest "Irish Lace" Woman in N. J.

Jennie Rafferty, 55, who was in the custody of Newton police last October for obtaining money by false pretences, to wit, allegedly selling as "Irish lace," lace which never saw Ireland, was arrested by Trenton, New Jersey, police last week on similar charges. The Rafferty woman was arrested last October by Belmont police and given into the custody of the Newton police. A Vaban woman had complained that she had paid $25 to the lace merchant for misrepresented merchandise. The Rafferty woman was released in $100 cash bail and failed to appear for trial in the Newton court on October 22. She refused to come voluntarily back to Newton, so Inspector King left Newton for Trenton on Monday night to attempt to extradite the woman to this State.

Reports, Speakers And Prize Awards At Swampscott

Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, who has been returned to her former post as General Federation director for Massachusetts, due to the illness of Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, has acquired the title of "State and General Federation comedienne," due to her happy faculty of injecting humor into her speeches.

She provided plenty of entertainment when she appeared before the Convention Wednesday morning, during the last session of the State Annual Meeting, May 19th, and gave a vivid word picture of her visit to Tulsa, Oklahoma. She said that she was proud of Massachusetts clubwomen and of their achievements, and stated that the State Federation led in its subscription to the General Federation magazine "The Club Woman," with Illinois coming a close second.

Mrs. Bennett also said that the "peppy little president" of the Massachusetts State Federation, Mrs. John H. Kimball, as she is known in General Federation gatherings, was popular at the Tulsa Convention as a presiding officer of committee gatherings, for which recognition Mrs. Bennett was proud.

Mrs. Bennett announced three prizes to be given next year as follows: $5 to the director who gets the most subscriptions to "The Club Woman." These must be sent directly to Mrs. Bennett; $5 to the Federation secretary who obtains the most from her club; this means that every club competing must have a Federation secretary; and $5 to the director who brings in the most clubs to the Federation.

Mrs. Carl S. Floyd, of Winthrop, chairman of the committee on Credentials and Registration reported that there were 228 State officers and committee chairmen in attendance, and 633 delegates, making a total of 861 voting delegates, and that the total registration for the Convention was 2813. There were also about 708 clubwomen, apparently, who did not register. The total attendance counted was 3,521. She also stated that there were 229 clubs represented, and that the total receipts for registration were $1406.

At the closing session Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, former president of the organization, gave her last talk prior to her marriage, in the autumn, and her removal to Paducah, Ky.

"The Search for Eternity Verities," said Mrs. Poole, "is not confined to one class, to persons of a certain financial position, or to any particular race. This search may be likened to Galahad's search for the Holy Grail, or to the long hard row of Christian in 'Pilgrim's Progress.' In order to attain the highest things in life, one must have faith to surmount all difficulties, faith to solve all problems, hope to carry forward his work with utter disregard to discouragement, and, in addition, have love for his fellowmen.

"To me the eternal verities are the peace which passeth all understanding, peace in one's soul, and the spiritual urge to carry forward to higher development of one's own self at all times."

Announcements of winners of prize awards in contests sponsored by various State departments were received with keen interest.

Mrs. Walter W. Stronger, of Milton, chairman of Art, announced that the two $50 art prizes were won by The Philhellenes of Braintree and by the Hobbs Community Club of Marblehead. The $30 award was given to the Monday Club of Wareham, and $20 each to Fitchburg Woman's Club and Wollaston Woman's Club. Three prizes of $10 each went to Sippican Club of Marion, Cabot Club of Middleboro, and Brockton Woman's Club.

E. Quentin Gulliver, of 47 Parkinson street, Needham, a member of the high school graduating class of 1937, won the unique honor of receiving first award in two scholarships offered by the department of Literature and Drama, of which Mrs. Harold W. Scheibe, of Belmont, is chairman. He gave a selection of "The Trial of Robert Emmet" in a contest for a scholarship at Leland Powers where he won first honors, taking the same place in the Bishop-Lee School contest. He has accepted the latter and will begin his studies there in the autumn. He was recommended to the department by the New Century Club of Needham.

Doris C. Johnson, of the graduating class at Watertown High School, and recommended by the Woman's Club in that town, was the alternate, and she will have the Leland Powers scholarship.

Blanche B. Sampson, publicity chairman of Holyoke Woman's Club, was given the $50 award for publicity stories, made by the New York Herald Tribune, a blue ribbon for the National Contest, and the blue ribbon as first State prize. Mrs. William Elliot, Press chairman of Methuen Women's Club, won the State award of a red ribbon. These prizes were presented by Mrs. Frank D. Peirce, of Leicester, State Press chairman.

Prize-winning essays in the Mothercraft contest were written by Virginia Atkins, of Saltonstall School of Salem, who received $5; Betty Bavinne, of Templeton Center School, Templeton, received the $3 award; and two awards of $2 were given to Janice Moody, of Beebe Junior High School of Malden, and Barbara MacArthur, of Penniman School, Braintree. Mothercraft textbooks and honorable mention for excellent essays were given to Lillian Turner, of Amherst; Catherine Reutter, of South Braintree; Lucia Birwistle, of East Braintree; Helen McCarty, of Lynn; Virginia Ralsbeck, of Marblehead; Dorothy McDonald, of Middleboro; Margaret Aguda, of Orange; and Mary Sweeney, of Winthrop.

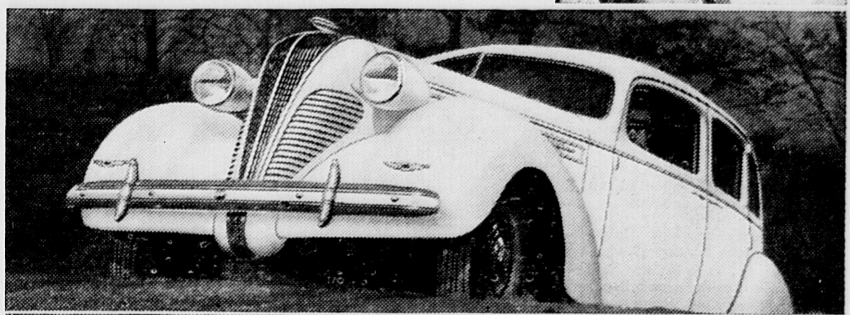

For excellent Scrapbooks containing publicity obtained by Federated clubs, the first Junior prize was given to

Festivities And Speakers At Tulsa

As was stated at the end of the report last week, an Editorial in a Tulsa newspaper commencing upon Miss Katherine F. Lenroot's address on Wednesday morning, April 28th, before the General Federation Convention at Tulsa, upon methods of handling welfare work, is worthy of quotation.

Why Trained Social Workers?
The use of trained social workers is important for two reasons, said Miss Katherine Lenroot, head of the U. S. Children's Bureau, speaking in Tulsa Wednesday night:—(1) to protect the public purse; (2) to insure an investigation of cases which brings positive not negative assistance into the home or the individual life.

In a signed letter to members of the Missouri State Legislature, who protested use of trained social work, the presidents of the three universities in St. Louis, said practically the same thing. They wrote:

"The well-equipped and experienced administrator on the field of public welfare is the only one who can insure, on one side, that the money spent shall go exactly or as nearly exactly as possible to the objects for which it is voted and, on the other side, that it shall be administered in a humane and discriminating fashion, so that it will secure the maximum of benefit and the minimum of harm."

Miss Lenroot is a Republican who escaped the axe. She was too well qualified to be pushed aside. She takes pride in the fact that every one of her jobs was secured by competitive examination. And she has gone to the top. When Katherine Lenroot says trained workers protect the public purse and aids, not pauperizes people, that lady is telling you facts out of experience and training.

Among reports of Standing Committees at Wednesday's sessions were the following noteworthy statements. With 62 affiliated clubs in 28 countries the United States group is endeavoring to build a network for peace, according to Mrs. Herbert F. French, of Braintree, Mass., Extension secretary for International Clubs.

Among the most active of the affiliated groups is the Philippine Federation, with 10,000 members, which has been making a campaign for votes for women. The International Club, of Yokohama, Japan, has initiated the first Public Library in English in that city. The Shanghai Women's Club is working to solve traffic problems. The Housewives' Association, of Sidney, Australia, with a membership of 12,000, is trying to raise the marriage age to 16; to get more playgrounds, and to obtain legislation reducing the price of bread, milk, and electricity.

Peace education is one of the central aims of European clubs, with the Federation of American Clubs overseas taking the initiative. The American Women's Club of Denmark has library extension for one of its main objectives; hospitalization is an activity of the London Club; and woman's suffrage is the present goal of the group in Montreal. The Skagway, Alaska, organization recently has waged a successful campaign to get a $25,000 grant from the Legislature for a new school building.

Improved international relations is one aim of the Scholarship committee, of which Mrs. George Norman Campbell, of Kalama, Washington, is chairman, and already the committee has brought four young South American women to the United States colleges, while the Ohio Federation has trained five young women under its Pan-American Fellowship Clubs in the General Federation have an investment of $1,300,000 in educational and gift funds, by means of which 15,000 students have been trained.

Clubwomen are making community fine arts festivals spread like wildfire, declared Mrs. H. S. Godfrey, of Minneapolis, chairman of Fine Arts, at the afternoon session. With these festivals, community music also has been advanced. Six states have traveling exhibits of paintings by local artists and sales of paintings have realized thousands of dollars for the artists. The history, art, and tradition, of the American Indian have been studied by many of the clubs; there has been an awakened interest in writing plays, stories, poetry, and pageants by the clubwomen, and along with this has come a deepened interest in libraries, with "book shelves," established by many organizations. The study of Bible literature, said Mrs. Godfrey, has increased 50 per cent. Verse reading and "speaking choirs" have improved diction, and many workshops have been set up for drama experiments.

Also that afternoon, speaking of the magic of the 26 letters in the English alphabet, the Rev. Marcus E. Lindsay, of the Grace Presbyterian Church, Wichita, Kan., paid tribute to writers and declared that "culture is never secured by a direct attack, but is a by-product. It comes when we are seeking something else. It is an unconscious consequence of liv-

League, in their Tea Room on East Fifth street, where the members of the League also presented a delightful Style Show for their guests.

Speakers on Wednesday evening were Acee Blue Eagle, a Muskogean Indian artist, on the topic of "American Indian Art"; and Adela Rogers St. John of New York city, Hollywood correspondent and author, in a high light address, attacking the abuses of the present parole system. She discussed the number of crimes committed by paroled convicts and called upon the Federation to form parole committees to obtain from parole boards and wardens of penitentiaries the names of convicts who have applied for parole, and then to co-operate with newspapers and radio commentators to issue bulletins recommending or disapproving the granting of these requests.

Mrs. St. John declared that her plan has the approval of J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, and said that "if it is known that you are watching, are interested, are calling to account too easy paroles, they will, I promise you, not be granted."

As a result of her stirring words, the General Federation adopted an Emergency Resolution offered on Thursday morning with four other Resolutions which had been introduced and read twice previously.

The Emergency Resolution was framed by the following committee: Mrs. T. H. Grimley, of Ridgewood, N. Y.; Mrs. W. D. James of Hanford, Cal.; Mrs. Charles H. Prather, of Casa Grande, Ariz.; Mrs. Walter W. Seymour of Chicago, and Mrs. William Dick Sporg of Port Chester, N. Y.

It read: "Whereas crime in these United States has assumed alarming proportions, and whereas, the most serious obstruction of justice in the enforcement of law is the pernicious abuse of the parole system throughout the United States.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in Council meeting assembled in Tulsa, April, 1937, denounce the present abuses of the pardon and parole system existing in the various states and declare assistance in making such a flagrant abuse impossible, and be it further resolved, that the General Federation of Women's Clubs pledge, through the national organization and State Federations, all assistance to law enforcement officials, local, state and federal, in curbing crime in the United States, and in proposed steps toward crime prevention."

Luncheon and Entertainment

About fifty members and friends attended the delicious Barbecue Luncheon given by the West Newton Women's Educational Club, at the home of Mrs. Percival Waters, in Weston, on Tuesday, June 15th, served by Mrs. George H. Jackson and her committee.

Mrs. Ernest Dockstadter entertained with three delightful readings. Cards were enjoyed as well as walks through the beautiful flower gardens and grounds.

New Garden Club Organized

The Newton Upper Falls Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Capobianco, at 92 Thurston road, on April 26th, at 8 p. m., with eighteen members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club present to organize this new group. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Raymond Capobianco; secretary, Mrs. James A. Tully; and treasurer, Miss A. Gertrude Osborne. It was voted to hold meetings once a month from April to January 1st.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, following the discussion of plans.

The second meeting of the new Club was held at the home of president, Mrs. Capobianco, on May 12th, at 8 p. m., and Mr. Paul W. Dempsey of the Massachusetts State College Field Station at Waltham, gave a very interesting talk on "The Garden Medicine Chest and Better Lawns," following with a short question period.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

On Thursday, June 17th, the Garden Club was entertained at the home of the treasurer, Miss A. Gertrude Osborne, of 117 High st., Upper Falls. Twenty-five members gathered in the beautiful gardens at 5 p. m., where a delicious supper was served under the trees by the Misses A. Gertrude, Nellie, and Florence Osborne. Frankforts and hamburger sandwiches were cooked over an outdoor fire-place and served with potato chips and relishes, followed by coffee and ice cream.

The meeting was called to order at 7 p. m., with twenty-five members present. The membership was closed with twenty-seven members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club as charter members. Plans were discussed for trips and possible gardens to visit. Mrs. James A. Tully invited the Club to meet at her home, 51 High street, on June 19th, when Mrs. Tully would act as hostess, assisted by Mrs. Frank Mordo, of Summer street.

Already the new Club has begun worthwhile service in the community. Its beginning promise is usefulness that will be appreciated. At the May meeting it was voted that the secretary should write to the management of the Pettee Shop, asking what means could be taken to improve the grounds and surroundings of the abandoned Pettee Inn, which were overgrown with weeds and long grass.

It was also stated that the Pettee Shop could not undertake any improvements. It was voted at the June meeting of the Garden Club to finance care of the grass, and generally to make the grounds well-groomed, a sponsorship that is really of value to the neighborhood.

Buffet Luncheon Tendered Juniors

The home of Mrs. Austin C. Benton in Chestnut Hill was the scene of an attractive and enjoyable buffet luncheon on Tuesday, June 22nd, when Mrs. Benton and Mrs. Carl H. Cummings, the new Junior advisors, entertained the Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club. Forty members and guests were present. A special guest of honor was Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, president of the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

Newton Highlights

Warren Huston of Newtonville, who went from Springfield College direct to the Philadelphia Athletics, last week, signed a contract Tuesday with Connie Mack, as did John Callahan, pitcher from Northeastern University.

Don Martin of West Newton had a close call in the state men's singles championship tennis Wednesday evening at Longwood, winning 6-4, 7-9, 8-6 from Dave Haley, young Braintree player. Haley had put out Tom Slattery, former Newton High star, in straight sets last Saturday. In another match played Wednesday, Harry Sylvester of Newton was defeated by Paul Guibord, top-seeded player, 6-1, 6-3.

Brookville, Ontario, of the Canadian-American League is getting to be something of a country club for Newton ball players. Pete Morrison and Joe Green went down there a month ago, and Joe has come back with a sore arm. Pete is regular catcher, and batting around .320. Early this week Harold Morrison sent two men home down. Brad Dyer of Auburndale and Northeastern, a pitcher, and Louis Tabaldi of Newton, an infielder.

Jimmie Cornish pulled the curtain. On Tuesday the members of the student patrol and their assistants went on an outing at the Stowe Country Club. Tennis, golf, swimming, and various games, were enjoyed. Mr. Burkhard, Mr. Brent, Mr. E. Tanner, Miss Paul and Miss Spelman, represented the faculty.

Another school year is about to roll by. It is interesting at this time to consider the plans for travel which some of the faculty are making. Mr. Merriam, who will teach at the Junior Technical School in Newcomen, Tyne next year, will visit eight European countries during July. Miss Lougee, Miss Manning, and Mr. E. Tanner are all bound for California. Miss Lougee will go via Niagara Falls, North Dakota, and Oregon; Miss Manning will go via Wisconsin, Colorado, and Arizona. Mr. Tanner will include Mexico on his trip. Miss Seale will spend part of her summer at her newly acquired farm in Rindge, N. H.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

A special assembly prepared by the grade 9 Dramatic Club under the direction of Mrs. Jessie Gillespie was held during the homeroom period on Thursday, June 17. Robert Gallant served as announcer. A dance interpreted by Katherine Hogan began the program. This was followed by a reading by Ruth Kaufman who was attired. The next feature was an acrobatic dance by Eleanor Luciani with Ivan Jacobs as accompanist. The homeroom principals in a skit of one word speeches entitled "The Municipal Day-enport." Pupils who participated in a one act comedy, "The Tantrum" were: Annette Yanco, Stafford Osborne, Beatrice Mandelstam, Bessie Bacon, Robert Puant, Margery MacBarbara Ann Moore, Laura Lord, Ruth Hunter, William Bender, James Beloit, Thomas Laughton, Donald Ferguson, Shirley Bernstein, Barnaby Smith, Ina Burnes, Elsie Gruney.

In the boys' baseball contest the pennants have been won by the following homerooms: For Grade 7, Room 207 captained by Ray Euen, for Grade 8, room 213 captained by William Byrner, for grade 9, room 125 captained by Irving Koffman. The teams representing room 125 had the distinction of winning all the pennants for three major sports, soccer, basketball, and baseball.

In the girls' baseball tournament the seventh grade team was victorious having vanquished the eighth and ninth grade teams. The line up comprised: Lorene Puant, Margery MacNeil, Eleanor McNamara, Elizabeth Ryan, Ruth Secord, Doris Perkins, Betsey Atwood, Florence Luchini, Nancy Backman, Marie Bibbo, Thelma Gruber, Anne Patterson, Leslie Flinn, Alice Bodozian, Barbara Beloit, Karolina Rubin.

Bigelow "B's", the much coveted athletics award for girls, were given to Lillian Nardone, Bessie Rilla Bacon, Eleanor Leahu, Shirley Bernstein, Constance Colby, Jean Goodale, and Patricia Turchon. These "B's" are presented on the basis of outstanding achievement and spirit in class gymnasium work and extra curricular sports.

NEWTON Y WINS TWO-STATE TRACK TITLE

The Newton "Y" track team won the 16th annual two-state Y. M. C. A. track title held at the Dickinson stadium, Newtonville, last Saturday, scoring 36½ points. Lynn placed second with 23½ points. Brockton third with 19. Boston 13 and Lawrence 8. Keen competition set up two new records, in the shot-put and five-mile run.

Newton athletes captured three first places in the ten regular events and climaxed the afternoon's performance with a winning effort in the relay race. Wheeler led the Newton runners with a first in the 220-yard dash, second in the broad jump and third in the century. Arthur Linthwaite in the 440-yard run, and Carroll in the mile walk were other first place winners for the local team. The relay quartet of I. Hunt, O'Connor, R. Hunt, and Linthwaite broke the tape ahead of the Lynn, Brockton and Boston teams, finishing in that order.

Other Newton point winners were Walsh with a second in the 100 and fourth in the 220; I. Hunt, fourth in the 440; R. Hunt, second in the 880; Lewis, second in the mile; Keller, second in the five-mile; Blair, tied for fourth in the high jump, and Nix and Phelps, second and third in the mile walk.

NEWTON TWI LEAGUE

The Twilight League has been rather slow in getting under way because of the many postponed games due to rainy weather. Some teams have played only two of the six games so far scheduled. Center A. C. with four wins and a single defeat leads the National division closely followed by the West Newton Giants with a 3-1 rating and the Y. M. A. C. of Upper Falls with four wins and two losses.

In the American division Auburndale is undefeated and has two wins while Cabot A. A. in second place has won four and lost a single game. These two teams have played twice this season, Auburndale winning the initial clash 4-1. In the second encounter the teams went 10 innings to a scoreless tie.

The Cubs and Royals have been handicapped to date because of players being away at college but are expected to improve their standing with the return of these men.
